CALEDONIA SCHOOL—The examination and closing examinations of Caledonia School were held on Wednesday afternoon, June 28th. Although the weather was disagreeable a goodly number of ratepayers and visitors were present. The pupils were examined in the different subjects by the teacher, Miss Katherine MacThee and by their quick response to the numerous questions asked, showed that they had been well taught during the term. A nicely arranged program consisting of choruses, drills and recitations was rendered by the pupils and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The pupils and visitors were then treated to an abundance of home made candy and nuts by the teacher. The singing of the National Anthem brought a successful examination to a close.

Wonderful For Bread

The St. Lawrence Flour Mills have reason to feel greatly pleased with the success of "Regal" flour in Prince Edward Island. The sales of "Regal" these days are very large, and give promise of eclipsing the combined sales of several of the old favorites in the local market. The explanation is that it has such wonderful qualities for bread. The St. Lawrence Flour Mills invite all who are not using "Regal" to give it a trial. Such people do not need to buy a barrel nor even half a barrel, a small bag will do for a test. Many of those who are now buying "Regal," a barrel at a time began their purchases in just that way.

 Squash—the highly concentrated juice of the Orange

 Manufactured by a special English process in Lon-exquisite summer drink, with appollinaris water, "which we also have" it is magnificent.—

"THE 2 MACS"

was grown on the farm of Captain Martin McEvoy, and proves beyond a doubt that not only has this captain been successful as a master mariner, but is also meeting with success as a farmer. Captain McEvoy belongs to an old family of sea-faring men, and in the forty years or more that he has braved the elements, has visited nearly every important sea port in the world. The captain is not without his humorous side, and tells many an amusing story of the life of Jack on shore.
 To anyone wishing to enjoy a pleasant evening, or to spend a profitable hour, there is no better way than by paying a visit to the McEvoy homestead on the borders of the town of Montague.—Among the recent visitors to Montague was Mr. Arthur McLean, "Artie" is a former Montague boy but is now a resident of Winnipeg where he holds a responsible position with the Lake of the Woods Milling Co. Although only a comparatively short time since he left his old home, he saw a great many changes, many new and unfamiliar faces.—About sixty young men left Montague on Friday for the harvest fields, not all of course belonged to Montague, more than half were from the surrounding districts. This is the largest number that has ever left this station at one time for the West, and is due no doubt to the labor situation.
 Some of those who left intend returning while others will remain to seek their fortunes in larger fields.—The employees of the Montague Furnishing Co. are delighted to have their co-worker, Miss Ruth Stewart back with them again.—A few evenings ago ing the street in front of the dry

HOME ON VACATION—Mr. Arthur A. Martin, a prominent architect of Boston, accompanied by Mrs. Martin and their children, Willard, John and Clyde, has arrived on the island on a visit, the trip being made from Boston in Mr. Martin's Studebaker Six Six car, by way of Portland, Bangor, Calais, St. Stephen, and St. John.
 Both Mr. and Mrs. Martin are former residents of Prince Edward Island. Mr. Martin is on a well-earned vacation after the successful completion of a large three-year contract in which he designed and supervised the construction of the most sanitary and well-equipped modern bakery plant in New England. Mr. Martin expects to return to the Hub in September to resume his activities as architect and building contractor.

 at a high speed rate. The car swerving only missed her by a few inches. Those who witnessed the incident say the car was travelling at least forty miles an hour and could not understand how Miss McQueen escaped. The driver never stopped to see if anything happened or not. Of course in this case nothing was done and not likely to be although the number of the car and the occupants are known.—While Mrs. Aubrey Bell of Montague was boarding her car, the door of the car in some unaccountable manner slammed and squeezed her arm, causing considerable pain. It was at first thought the arm was broken but on examination it was found to be only severely bruised. Beyond suffering a great deal of pain, Mrs. Bell is none the worse for her experience. K

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION Among those leaving here on the Harvest Excursion Aug. 4th was James McKenzie owner and proprietor of the Central Kings Garage.
 On the eve of his departure he was waited on by a large number of citizens and presented with a well filled purse and farewell address, viz:
 Dear Friend,—We, the citizens of Cardigan have met here this evening to express our sincere regret that circumstances have led up to your departure for the Great West.
 We can ill afford to loose any of our boys, and your excellent character and talents are particularly your cheerful disposition. It is our sense of loss. We do not wish, however, to be gloomy on this occasion, but rather to be cheerful and to express the old time hope that our loss may be your gain.

 When leaving your home, on the morrow, and in the days to come, we hope you will realize that it is so much better when some one cares. It is so much better when the things you have done have called forth a whisper of love.
 And as you take up the days with a heart for the fight, it is so much better that the things you have done have called forth a whisper of trust.
 In bidding you farewell, it is our sincere hope that your sojourn in the West may be a pleasant one, and that you may be the recipient of a full measure of blessings from the Giver of all good. We ask you to hold a place in your heart for your home and friends on the banks of the dear old Cardigan.
 In conclusion, we ask you to accept this gift not for its value alone, but that it may help you to realize that "some one cares."
 And now the last word—good bye —and may God be with you till we meet again.
