THE GUARDIAN'S correspondent at Earncliffe writes: The reception tendered Mrs Richard Young, of New York, and Mrs T H Young, of Connecticut, on Wednesday evening at Earncliffe, was a very enjoyable affair.—Seal River bridge is being repaired and will be completed by next Friday.—The grounds and cemetery of the Methodist Church, Cherry Valley, have been enclosed by a very pretty wire fence.—The Earncliffe road has been repaired at long last.—David Mitchell, the manager of the road machine, is one of the best men in the province.—Mrs John Murrighan has returned to the City from a pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. Janie Morrissey.

W. B. HOWARD, Acting District Passenger Agent at St. John, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and W C Casey the Travelling Passenger Agent, have been on the Island for the past three days looking after the arrangements to be made in connection with the harvesters excursions, which this year promise to be more gigantic than ever before. Fuller particulars regarding these trips will be published later. This is the first time these gentlemen have paid a visit to the Island in their official capacity, but it is not likely to be their last. Their business will bring them here often and they will come into contact with many of the people of this Province. The Guardian feels certain that they will make for themselves as many friends as their predecessors who represented the Canadian Pacific here. Mr Howard, as has already been noticed in The Guardian was promoted upon the recent transfer of Mr Perry, and is not unknown to the customers and patrons of his railway here. Mr Casey is a new man in the field but his success seems assured. Both gentlemen will remain in Charlottetown until Monday.

THE semi-annual examination of the Midgell School was held June 26 in the presence Mrs (Dr.) McLaughlin, Mrs Wm Cox, Frank Sanderson, David Anderson, Oliver Anderson, Duncan MacDonald and others. The pupils in the senior department were examined by the principal, Miss Bertha M Webster, and the junior department by Miss Josephine McLean, and showed by their prompt and intelligent answers to the various questions that they had received careful training. At the close the teachers treated the scholars and visitors to confectionery. Complimentary speeches were made by Messrs David Anderson and F Sanderson who said the pupils had made excellent progress since last examination. O Anderson related humorous anecdotes of old time school days and Duncan MacDonald spoke on discipline. The meeting was closed by singing God Save the King and awarding the prizes.
