A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick relief and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) into a 16-oz. bottle and fill with hot water to the top. Add 1/2 ounce of molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way you get 16 ounces—a family supply of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for five times the money.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

Peace Treaty Is Becoming First Class Election Issue

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The first of the reservations attached to the Peace Treaty last November was re-adopted unchanged and by an increased majority in the Senate, after "St. Jacobs Oil" held the balance of power had prevented the efforts of Republican and Democrat leaders to secure modification in the interest of compromise.

This result is generally taken to indicate that the dead-lock on the treaty is becoming inextricable and is being tangled in Presidential campaign issues. Utterances during the debate Saturday indicated that the treaty was becoming a first class election issue.

Friends, nor physicians could not save her mortal body from the ravages of the disease which she had contracted. Her death was sudden and unexpected.

WOULD INCREASE TEACHERS' PAY

TORONTO, Feb. 20.—The Ontario federation of secondary teachers asked Hon. H. R. Grant, minister of education today to increase the fees paid to teachers who are appointed to examine each summer.

The federation asked that it be raised from $12 to $15 a day. The federation also asked that the law be amended to permit of boards of conciliation being appointed to settle disputes between teachers and boards of education.

Defeated by One Vote

By a bare majority of 33 to 32 the Senate rejected the change in the reservation framed by Republican leaders and presented by Senator Lodge as part of his compromise plan. Under this amendment either the President or a majority of Congress could have given notice of withdrawal. The irreconcilables voted with the Democrats against this amendment.

Senator Brandegee, Republican, Connecticut, as spokesman for the irreconcilables, told the Senate that it was only making a spectacle of itself by seeking to vacillate after it had expressed its opinion on the treaty and won its fight.

The Treaty, under present plans will not be before the Senate again for several days, the beginning of the week having been reserved for consideration of the railroad bill and possibly tariff legislation. The next reservation on the list is the all-important Article Ten provision, but once the Treaty comes up again it is the intention to put the reservation over, until others have been disposed of.

Our Schools

Sir:—In an editorial in a recent issue of the Montreal Daily Star under the heading "Professionalizing Democracy" the writer points out the tendency that exists to deny the necessity for educated leadership. He shows the danger of such a tendency, supporting his argument by the following quotation from the 1918-19 report of the Manitoba Department of Education:—

"We believe that an enduring democracy is based upon the intelligence of the governed, and it has been borne home to us that the conditions of modern industrial life are steadily increasing the dangers of under-education. The peril of illiteracy are no less real because imperfectly understood. The thoughtful people throughout the civilized world are realizing, as never before, the necessity of an intelligent well-educated people for the security of the state. Although removed from the unrest of the great centres by our isolation, yet our educational conditions are as great as those of the greater centres of population. This now is so apparent that there are none who will publicly deny it. To meet this need there must be qualified teachers. To secure qualified teachers there must be adequate salaries paid. To get the best qualified salary there must be an aroused public interest. Our people admit the necessity, but indifferent pass the matter by. The series of meetings now being held throughout the country, the active interest taken in the matter by the clergymen of all denominations, cannot fail to awake new interest in this question.

In a forceful logical and convincing address given by the Rev. Mr. Albright of the Methodist Church last Sunday evening, he asked whether the time would come when we could consider it a disgrace to have the school house the most unsightly public building in the community. That while our clergy were not overpaid, would we be ashamed that our teachers were not receiving the half, often not the third, (the night have added not a quarter) much. He also urged better social recognition of the teacher better preparation for his work and that he be of the highest moral and religious character.

The whole question is one for the people. Let them demand a qualified teacher, say to the legislators we must have such. The best is not too good for the rising generation of this fair and prosperous land. Let them make their demand with no uncertain sound, and their obedient servants the government will obey. But this demand must be loud, strong and insistent. I am, sir, etc.

Comb Sage Tea in Faded or Gray Hair

IF MIXED WITH SULPHUR IT DARKENS SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied.—It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it restores to its natural color and looks glossy soft and beautiful.

Home Protection Policy for $5,000

This plan is the basis of all life insurance. It provides an "Estate" at the lowest net outlay it is possible to obtain.

Experience has proven that it offers maximum insurance at minimum cost.

The annual outlay is comparatively small, being only a moderate rate per cent on the capital "estate" created, according to age. The average is about 3%.

Even these small payments are reduced by dividends. Many policyholders in the Canada Life have lived to draw large sums from this form of policy for their own personal use.

Cash values are guaranteed—a fund for emergencies. A monthly income of $50 is paid if you become totally and permanently disabled before reaching age sixty.

Policy continues in force while any cash value remains, thus preventing lapse and loss of protection. If it is desired to stop paying premiums any time after the third year, a "paid for" policy is issued for a proportionate amount, on which no further premiums are required.

Remember:

A policy on your life may do much that you intend to do, if you live. It may pay off the mortgage, supply food and clothing for your family, keep the children at school and prevent a forced sale of your other property.

It may be all that is left of your life work—to keep you in comfort in your old age.
