"The Big Stampede"
A Real Western Thriller

One of the most thrilling western pictures ever to come to the Capitol screen opened yesterday to enthusiastic audiences.

It is action from the word "go" and as interesting and delightful a piece of entertainment as could be hoped for.

Its startling climax is one of those no one should miss. It is one of the most impressive ever to be caught by a camera. An immense herd of cattle is seen on a stampede and later rounded up by the cowboys.

But that is only one of the startling incidents amongst many which makes the picture one to be recommended.

Moran and Mack In "Hypnotized" Prove Great Laugh Team

Mack Sennett's much-heralded feature-length production, "Hypnotized," starring Moran and Mack has much to recommend it to lovers of good, robust hilarity. At the Prince Edward Theatre, where it began an engagement yesterday, it sent a packed audience into spasms of laughter, and successfully demonstrated that the maker of "Tillie's Punctured Romance" and other full-length laughmakers, has lost nothing of his celebrated ability to affect the risibilities of a nation. A succession of novel, mirth-making scenes, enacted by an array of important cinema comics and set in several stupendous back-grounds combine to make "Hypnotized" an outstanding laugh hit for any audience.

Moran and Mack, those "two black crows," are the chief protagonists in the hilarity. Imagine, if you will, the two darlings in the wake of stampeding elephants, caged in with a ferocious lion, placed under the power of an unscrupulous hypnotist, trapped with a panic-stricken crowd on an ocean liner, and a hundred more equally ludicrous moments. Mack Sennett himself directed and supervised the production, which is crammed full of the kind of fun that has placed the comedy maker in the front rank of film-don'ts laugh creators.

In addition to Moran and Mack, long cast includes such well-known screen personalities as Ernest Torrence, Wallace Ford, Charlie Murray, Maria Alba, Alexander Carr and Marjorie Beebe.

The two burnt cork comedians have lost nothing of the inimitable drollery that made "Why bring that up?" the query of a nation.

NARROW ESCAPE - What might have proved a serious accident occurred a few days ago, when Mr. A. K. MacPhee, merchant, New Dominion, was returning from Charlottetown with a load of merchandise, his horse and sleigh broke through the ice, near Dick-son's Point, Mr. MacPhee going down to his waist in the water before he had time to extricate himself. His cries for help were heard by a number of men who arrived in time to save his valuable horse.
Mr. MacPhee lost his sleight and load of goods.

lic represented at the service which commemorates the Battle of Paardeberg.

Mrs. W. M. Howell of Montreal, who has been visiting relatives in Charlottetown, P. E. I., and Dorchester, is a guest of Mrs. J. T.
Robert of Campbellton, N. B., on route to Montreal.

MISS MARY WEATHERBIE

A deep gloom was cast over Village Green and vicinity on Wednesday last in the passing of one of its oldest residents, Miss Mary Weatherbie in her 85th year. The funeral which was largely attended was held on Friday afternoon, February 17th, 1933. Service was conducted by Rev. Ewen MacDougall. The hymns sung were, "Lord My Shepherd", "What a Friend We Have in Jesus". The ball-bearers were Messrs. John, Ambrose, Richard, Henry, George, Jasper Weather-bie. The remains were tenderly laid to rest in Birch Hill cemetery.
