SPRING

Spring is in the air. The birds in every hand. Soon will sing their cheery songs O'er all the pleasant land.

Earth's snowy mantle which is now disclosed to view. Magically shall disappear; We'll behold a greener hue.

The streams and rivers too Now held in winter's thrall, Shall burst their bonds again And hard to nature's call.

The long, long days of sunshine What a blessing they will be, In our dear Island Province Set in a dreamless sea.

Wild flowers in various colors Will again adorn the ground, With a spectacle of glory And beauty all around.

Here is to the springtime, Greetings when you come; With zephyr breezes blowing O'er every Island home.

—'Rustic,' Bedeque.

Declares British Policy Crippling World Trade

TORONTO, March 28. — (CP) — John A. Marsh, general manager of the Canadian Exporters' Association, declared in an address tonight to the Canadian Exporters' Association that one-half the world, led by Sir Stafford Cripps, has moved back the clock of progress by barter trading or state trading.

"Curiously enough," he said, "Britain has, up through the years, preached a doctrine of freer trade. She still is giving lip service to it; but actually is practicing the opposite as instanced by the 30 or more bilateral deals with countries of Northern Europe on a barter basis."

"Buying Swedish newspaper at $171 a ton when she could buy it from Canada for less than $100 just does not make sense even though in return she is charging Sweden 1 1/2 times as much for finished products as the competitive market would justify in Canada."

"This course is driving the pound sterling and the dollar, be it Canadian or American, farther and farther apart instead of bringing them closer together."

REVIEWS SITUATION

By FORBES RUDE (Canadian Press Business Editor)

Rebuilding of world trade on a solid basis is running into some difficulties, and some harsh words. Sir Stafford Cripps, in effect, is saying that Britain and Europe must keep their North American purchases down to the point where they have dollars to pay for them.

Others, including a considerable body of Canadians and some Europeans, say that if he concentrated more on selling to North America there would be more dollars with which to buy.

They charge that he is getting up a bloc, including the Commonwealth outside of Canada, which is trading in sterling even when it means higher prices to do so; and that the higher sterling prices go the less able those countries will be to sell in dollar areas.

He is accused of barter deals, exchange of one kind of goods of one country, for another kind of goods of another. This he recently denied in these words:

"... It is a mistake to speak of our bartering steel for timber, or capital goods for wheat; what we have done is include quantities of these items as part only of comprehensive agreements, the object of which is to establish a rough balance of overall trade in sterling.

"But with Canada we do not need a bilateral agreement of this kind because we are already doing everything a government can do (and far more than we are doing for any other country, 'bilateral' or not) to expand our exports to you."

"Not only is the United Kingdom wide open to you as a source of supply; but everything practicable is being done to make our exporters sell to you. What you, on your side, must recognize is that trade requires a willing buyer and a willing seller. The reader that Canada and Canadian importers show themselves to buy our products, the brighter the whole balance of our trade — and yours — will look."

That was a pretty frank statement from Sir Stafford, and some frank statements of a contrary view have been thrown back at him.

RESPECT FOR ELDERLY

KITCHENER, Ont. — (CP) — A program aimed at re-emphasizing the "yes sir" habit is under way in Kitchener public schools. While it has been part of school training for the last 20 years, the board seeks to give it fresh importance as a mark of courtesy and respect for elders.

SAVED BY GLACIAL ACTION

YORKTON, Sask. — (CP) — Saskatchewan would be quite barren if it had not been subject to glacial action thousands of years ago. Leo Kustush of Yorkton Collegiate, told the local natural history society. Glacial action, he said, had tore up limestone formations in Manitoba and spread them evenly over Saskatchewan.

NIAGARA'S FLOW

IN MEMORIAM

JOHN WILLIAM WALKER

The death occurred at Kensington on March 16, 1949, of Mr. John William Walker at the age of 76 years, although in failing health for some time it was not until the previous Thursday that he showed a change for the worse. He was born in Kelvin Grove and resided on the old Walker Homestead until 1943, when he retired and moved to Kensington, in 1902 he married Lucy Ann Clark who survives him and who so patiently and tenderly cared for him during his illness. He is survived by his two daughters, Jennie (Mrs. Alton W. Anderson, St. Eleanors), and Miss Mae at home, and two sons, Isaac at Kensington and Albert, Gaiter Street, Halifax, N.S., besides three grandchildren. He was the last remaining member of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walker of Kelvin, his two sisters (Jennie) Mrs. C. W. Quigley and (Lucy) Mrs. Henry Bynon, having preceded him several years ago.

The late Mr. Walker was very highly respected for his honesty and integrity, his devotional spirit was quiet and unobtrusive but decided and real, he being one of the oldest members of the Kensington Presbyterian Church, and seldom missed a service until laid aside through illness.

The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, March 19th, and was largely attended by relatives and friends, after a short service at the house by his pastor Rev. James McGowan, the remains were taken to the Presbyterian Church, where the funeral service was held. Hymns sung were The Lord's My Shepherd, Take Comfort Christians, Oh God Our Help In Ages Past, and Asleep in Jesus.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Harold Laird, James Campbell, Crawford Pickettes, Alexander Hiltz, David Clark and Edmund Stavert.

Beautiful floral tributes covered the casket.

Interment was in the family plot in the Kensington Cemetery, Mr. Joseph L. Davison was the funeral director.

LEADING P.E.I. POTATO GROWERS USE THESE PROVEN PRODUCTS

25% DDT Emulsifiable Oil Concentrate GENITOL EM-25
Made for easy, convenient mixing with water, especially for spraying potatoes. Genitox EM-25 has proved effective at economical dosage in control of Colorado potato beetle, aphid, flea beetles and leaf hoppers. It may be used in combination with fixed copper fungicides, such as Nichol's Chemical Spraycop, for combined control of insects and blights.

Micro-Particle 50% DDT Spray Powder GENITOX S50
A 50% DDT wettable powder, especially suited for finest particle size. Fouled directly into agitated spray mixture, Genitox S50 mixes completely in hard or soft water, obtaining quick wetting and dispersion without excessive foaming. Because it is especially processed to stay in fine flocculated suspension, Genitox S50 provides highest possible deposits of the DDT material, in a uniform spray cover on foliage, with only minimum runoff of the insecticide. Unexcelled for control of potato insects mentioned above. May be used with fixed copper fungicides.

DDT-Basic Copper Concentrated Spray Powder GENICOP SPRAY POWDER
Micro-Particle Fineness
A combination of 45% pure DDT and 75% Basic Copper Sulphate with special conditioning and depositing agents, providing excellent coverage and all-around spray efficiency. This concentrated insecticide-fungicide offers economy and time-saving convenience for combined control of early and late blights, Colorado potato beetle, aphid, flea beetles, and leaf hoppers—in one material.

Neutral Copper Fungicide Spray Powder SPRAYCOP
A specially processed fixed copper fungicide of unusual chemical stability, high in copper content, for control of early and late blights. Outstanding for fungicidal effectiveness.
