No Profiteering In Coal To Be Allowed

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—There is no truth to the story which seeks to give the impression that Premier Drury will assist the coal dealers to get high prices if they provide plenty of coal. "We have told them that no profiteering can be permitted," said the premier last night, "and that we expect their co-operation in getting coal." "The fuel controller is to be given power to ascertain the invoice price paid for coal in order that he may be able to insure the people against profiteering. I have been assured of the most cordial co-operation by the coal dealers."

Cyclonic Storm At Belleville

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 21.—This city was this afternoon at one o'clock the centre of a storm of unprecedented fury, which broke out with only a few moments warning, following intense heat of midday which reached the highest point of the season. Rain fell in sheets for a few minutes, but most of the damage was caused by the wind, which was almost cyclonic in its intensity. Almost every awning in the business section was ripped to shreds, trees fell in all parts of the city scarcely a street but was blocked for some hours by falling trees.

For some time there was great danger, as a great many Hydro lines were broken down and endangered those who were using the streets. The storm was accompanied by lightning but little or no damage was done. For some hours the electric service was off and it was estimated that two hundred and fifty telephones were put out of commission. In the district surrounding Belleville the loss to trees and fruit was not great, although near the city detours had to be made into fields to get into the city, as the roads were blocked with branches. Some damage was caused to the roof of the gas house by the wind.

Twelve Marks For A Cent No One To Buy

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—German marks continued their downward plunge in price today, millions being available at local banks and foreign exchange houses at prices around eight cents a hundred with no takers. German export firms are now making all contracts with local importers on a dollar basis. The normal, or pre-war, price of the mark was 23.8 cents each.

Child Cured In Quebec Church

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—From the village of Cap de la Madeline, a short distance from the town of Three Rivers, on the St. Lawrence, comes the news of a marvellous cure. During the celebration of the eighteenth anniversary of the crowning of the miraculous statue of the Virgin Mother in the sanctuary of the village church, the cure is reported to have been effected.

According to eye witnesses, it appears that a little girl, six years old, daughter of a resident of the village, suffering from an infirmity which prevented her from walking, raised herself and took several steps after the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

According to the evidence heard by the fathers in the preliminary investigations, the mother carried the child in her arms into the chapel and the little girl asked to be placed on the floor. Later she began to walk, and made her way unassisted from the chapel.

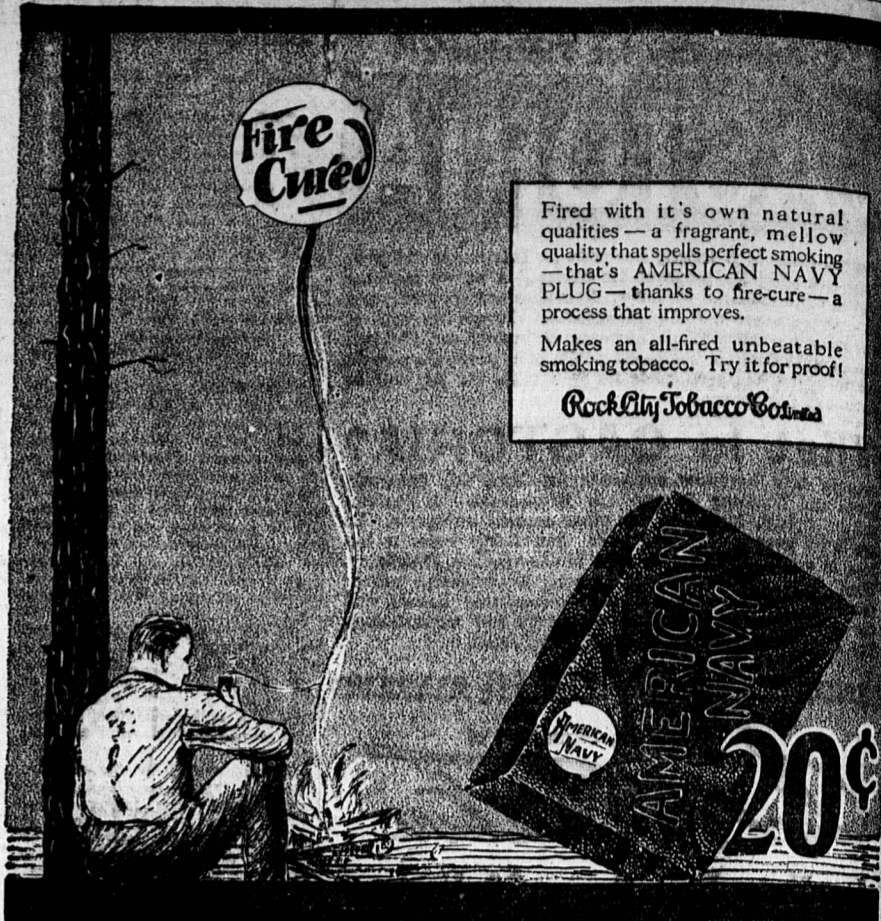

The child's parents said that the little girl had never been able to walk before. The fathers in charge of the sanctuary declared yesterday that they were still unable to make a decision in the case.

FRENCH BOURGEOIS IN FIGHTING MOOD, REDS ARE WARNED

PARIS, Aug. 21.—The appreciation of the Parisian press of the Fascist success in breaking up strikes and other Communist agitation in Italy indicates that Civic Unions and Royalists, even though not united now, are ready to assume a similar role in France if Communists, revolutionary Socialists and partisans of Calhaux attempts acts of violence such as a general strike would entail.

The Royalists, who are stout defenders of Premier Poincare's republican policy, declare through their editor deputy, Leon Daudet, "I warn the extreme Left and Left Deputies of the danger it would mean for them to light the sparks of violence. What remains of the French Bourgeois was never in better form nor more exasperated by Moscow, Berlin and the Calhaux newspaper printed in France and the peasantry will not delay in joining us."

The Journal commenting on the success of the Fascist says: "To them alone belongs the praise. The Government found

American Navy BLACK Smoking Tobacco

Just enough to launch a tardy proclamation of martial law after the Black Shirts already had swept out the Red Shirts. Whatever reserve is made on the abnormal character of the operation, it is a great example—the organized elite cuts up a revolution. The Bourgeois make Communism retreat."

Boy Drowned At Bathurst

BATHURST, Aug. 21.—Warren Dignard, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Amie Dignard, of West Bathurst, was drowned on Wednesday evening while playing about the water front near the No. 1 mill of the Bathurst Company, Limited. The unfortunate little fellow was fishing on a square boom used to confine logs below the end of the docks of the Bathurst Company, when he slipped off the boom into the water. Several other boys swimming were too far away to give him any assistance. But as fast as they could for help. As it was shortly after six
