

KNEE OF DEAD MAN IN LIVE MAN'S LEG

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—What is regarded by physicians and surgeons as a remarkable operation was performed at the Georgetown University Hospital in this city, when Dr. George T. Vaughn removed the left knee of George A. Kelly, aged 29, and substituted the knee of a dead man. The bones of Kelly's knee were so badly diseased that Dr. Vaughn decided on amputation. In a ward of the hospital lay a man about to die. Mr. Vaughn obtained permission from the patient's family to remove the left leg, in the event of death, and it was decided that the knee should be grafted to the leg of the living sufferer. Kelly's condition became gradually worse, and the men upon whom so much depended also grew weaker. The latter suddenly succumbed. Before the body became cold Dr. Vaughn, assisted by several physicians at the hospital, amputated the left leg just above the knee. Kelly was quickly placed under the influence of anaesthetics and the diseased knee was

A DELICATE OPERATION.

The knee-joint was cut away from the calf of the leg, while a similar operation was performed on Kelly. When the diseased knee was removed Dr. Vaughn quickly substituted the "borrowed" one. The bones were riveted together by slender, strong wire and the most delicate phase of the operation, that of joining the ligaments, caused the surgeons to work as probably they never labored before. Every tissue, muscle and tendon was joined and the bones fastened together. In the course of time, say the physicians, the bones will become strong and the man will be able to use his leg. Such an operation, it is said, has never before been performed in this country. One distinction, say the physicians, and placed under the influence of anaesthetics and the diseased knee was

LONGBOAT AND SHRUBB MAY RUN AGAIN

By REVALO, N. Y., Feb. 13.—Longboat and Shrubbs have been offered a purse of seven thousand five hundred dollars for a fifteen mile match race in this city on February 25, and there is substantial reason for the statement that there is more than a probability the men will meet. Shrubbs was communicated with by wire this afternoon, and tonight came back his prompt acceptance. It was not expected that word would be received from Longboat before tomorrow, because of the fact that his engagements are in the hands of managers, but his Toronto friends, who have been with him throughout, have sent him a message urging his compliance with the terms. So certain are the promoters of getting the men together that they already have obtained an option on the spacious Seventy-fourth Regiment Armory. It has greater floor space than Madison Square Garden, though its capacity, measured by accommodation for spectators, would probably be limited to about ten thousand. It was in this building that the Indian won his first indoor American race, three years ago, when, as an amateur, he met George Bonham. Later, he met Donato on the same track. While the general judgment would seem to be that Shrubbs would be favored by the conditions, Longboat would have a tremendous following among the speculative contingent. It is argued that while the Marathons necessitated training for staying power rather than sprinting, yet that Shrubbs' going out of his distance on Friday night in New York will do him no good. Sportsmen were excited and alarmed at the other night over rumors circulated around the city that Shrubbs had died suddenly. They proved to be nothing more than fantasies, however, and after some anxious minutes Shrubbs was located at his hotel. The little Englishman was amused over the stories, and while he was kept busy answering inquiries about himself, he expressed his gratification that he had so many friends. "I never was more alive in my life," he said, "and hope to continue so long. Thank my friends for their kindly solicitude."

POLITICAL CONFERENCES EMINENTLY SATISFACTORY.

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—The result of recent political conferences between British and German statesmen are regarded as eminently satisfactory and will have an excellent effect upon Anglo-German relations. The Imperial Chancellor was assured of the cordial approval of the Franco-German convention with regard to Morocco. The political conversation which took place during King Edward's visit resulted in entirely satisfactory explanations of policies of the two countries.

The Subscription can come direct from a candidate or from a candidate's friends or workers, and must distinctly state to whom the special ballot shall be given. New and renewal subscriptions count the same. All new and renewal subscriptions, the latter including those in arrears and those in advance, win votes for the new schedule in this issue. In the Guardian of February 4, 1909, the black border surrounded the ballot proper, and not the reading matter and date below the ballot. In consequence all ballots in this particular issue which have been put out without the date will be accepted and count, providing the ballot proper without the date reaches "Touat Editor," The Guardian, Charlottetown, on or before February 25, 1909, which is the time limit for same.

In reply to an inquiry, anybody is entitled to vote, whether man, woman or child, and from any part of the world.

The Guardian again states that nominations will be received at any time for the big free trip.
