

Get After That Cough

A cough is not a mere nuisance to be tolerated and allowed to wear away, more and more slowly each time, but it indicates a really serious inflammation of the air passages.

It may run into pleurisy or chronic bronchitis and it gives pneumonia germs a good chance to get a start.

Penslar White Pine and Spruce Balsam

is beyond a doubt the most efficient cough remedy we have ever sold. We hear more good things said about it and have got to find one dissatisfied customer—25 and 50c bottle.

CANADIAN DOCTOR HAS THRILLING EXPERIENCES IN SERBIA.

LONDON, January 12.—A Canadian doctor now with the Royal Army Medical Corps, writes to a friend in London, lamenting the cold in Serbia hills after his summer experience in Gallipoli.

"Every day artillery duels take place very near. The French artillery camp ground, on which I am sitting, was shelled last week, so I am experiencing some real warfare. It is no holiday.

"Not a man around here has had a cigarette for a month, and I thought if you knew of any society looking for some unfortunates to send things to, I might dispose of some very easily, for they will be greatly appreciated.

"It is quite treacherous around here, and one must be armed to the teeth all the time. Villages are desolate, hills although beautiful to the artist, look bleak and uninviting.

PRESIDENT HYNDMAN'S ADDRESS

correct as can be obtained from several sources, under present circumstances. I think it is very important that this Province should have some means of ascertaining and compiling correct statistics of all kinds of products and manufactured goods exported.

PREPARE FOR FUTURE

With the termination of the war, and which we hope will not be many months distant, we can place confidence in the statements of that expert diplomat Lord Hardinge, Vice-Roy of India, who was the diplomatic adviser of King Edward, and saw a good deal of the molding of the Triple Entente, while Ambassador at St. Petersburg, we may be encouraged by his strong optimistic speech, recently delivered at the close of the Simla Session, when he went so far as to predict, that, by next Spring, this horrible war will be over, or at least in its closing phases. Whether this prediction comes true or not, remains to be seen, but in any case, we should begin to prepare for the changes that will take place after the war, and Boards of Trade, which are composed of the business men of the community, can be of signal service in watching closely the change of events, so that many opportunities of doing business, which have been presented from time to time, it has been said that many million immigrants will come into Canada during the first few years after the war. Here we can render a service to the Empire by holding out every encouragement to the immigrants, who have fought our battles, to come and share our prosperity in this Garden Province of Canada and land of contentment. This Province could very easily take care of double the population it now contains, and if we are to receive our share of the immigrants, we need to be more alive to the situation than we have been in the past. It is our duty to see that the interests of P. E. Island are given as much consideration by the Dominion authorities, as other parts of Canada, in this matter of immigration. Not only do we want more men for the oyster areas, but we want to prosecute our Cod Fishing and to develop our Oyster Areas. There are opportunities for enormous development in all lines of agriculture. As a rule, our farmers have far more land than they can properly cultivate. Agricultural Experts tell us, what we want is more intensive cultivation to obtain best results and particular attention given to raising of sheep, beef cattle and hogs. In poultry alone, which even now brings in a large revenue to this province, the average farmer is not giving any special attention.

ENERGETIC COMMITTEES NEEDED

With the arrival of the new Car-Ferry Steamer, there now remains only a short time until the piers are completed, when our railway will be connected up with that of the mainland, and we will, for the first time in our history, be put on anything like an equal footing with the rest of Canada, in so far as transportation is concerned, provided the Ferry Service is a success, and for this we have little reason to doubt. With the inauguration of the Railway-Ferry Service, we can look forward to new avenues of trade and a larger sphere for the business life of this Province. It should resemble a new artery of life, stimulating circulation with the main body of Canada. Considering the progress and prosperity of our people, with the great handicap in the matter of transportation in the past, we may naturally expect that, with our transportation difficulties solved, this province will progress and prosper as it never has before, but if we are to take advantage of the new opportunities thus opened up, our business men must be on the alert to render the most efficient service in promoting trade and commerce to meet the new conditions.

It seems to me, that this Board should have several select committees to deal with different questions; for instance, one committee to deal with immigration and the Tourist Trade, another to deal with Railroads and Shipping, another to study Production, Marketing and Conservation Questions, and especially for the encouragement of Goods manufactured in the British Empire to take the place of those "made in Germany." I would suggest also that the Retail Merchants Association might very well become a part of this Board and have a special committee to represent their interests and thus combine all the efforts of our business men.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

What we want in Prince Edward Island, is more confidence and co-operation, and less politics, for the good of all. We should strive to impress farmers, fishermen and manufacturers with the importance of high grade products, to be worthy the name of Prince Edward Island, and which will always have a standard of their own in the markets of the world. If it is a good thing for all the Maritime Boards of Trade to meet once a year, why should not all the Island Boards of Trade meet say twice a year, one meeting to be held at Charlottetown in the Spring, and one at Summerside in the Fall, for the furtherance of Island trade. I might just give one or two instances, as to how co-operation might work to the general good. Take our great Oyster Areas, awaiting development; if this industry is to be carried on in the way that it should, it is absolutely necessary to have a Branch Railway Line to Malpeque and other points. At present, our oysters cannot be put on the market in September, owing to the need of prompt shipment in cars of the proper temperature, the consequence is that when our famous "Curlin Island Cup Malpeque" and other oysters are shipped, the markets are already stocked with the cheaper grade American oysters. The success of the oyster and other industries affects, more or less, the whole Island. With all Boards of Trade working in unison for the general good, our objects would be more quickly attained. In the Fur Farming Industry, which originated in Prince Edward Island, and the value of which has been so splendidly proven by the immense demand for Silver Black Fox pelts, even during war times, needs careful attention from our Boards of Trade, if we are to retain this valuable resource and make it an industry we will always take pride in. There are numerous opportunities for joint action along the lines suggested, and some action must be taken, if we realize that, to hold our own and to compete in the markets abroad, we need proper organization for elimination of waste and for the development of greater efficiency. Possibly Oyster and other Exchanges could be organized to handle the whole Island's products in certain lines, much to the advantage of these industries. Many of our farmers should wake up to the fact, in these strenuous times, that it is to their own interests to take a broader view of such questions as the running of Motor Vehicles.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED

If this Island is to progress and to take advantage of all that is to be gained by the opening up of new markets, through the medium of the Car-Ferry and the result of altered conditions after the war, it is largely a question of good roads that is most urgent for the farmer; and where the automobile is freely used, good roads are in general demand. Combined with the advantages that good roads afford, the automobile will make the farm approximately the same value, whether it is situated twenty miles from the shipping centre, or whether it is only two or three miles distant. It is reasonable for our otherwise progressive farmers to take the stand they do on this question, when the fact that, in the progressive farming States in the country to the south of us, the largest users of the automobiles are farmers, and millions upon millions are invested in automobiles and motor-trucks. While, personally, not an auto enthusiast, I cannot see otherwise than that a great injury must result to the interests of this province, as a whole, and thus to farmers themselves, by the continuation of their present stand on this question. With the Car-Ferry in operation, the Tourist Trade, if properly handled and advertised, should become a great source of revenue to this province, and the farmer stands most to profit; but, without the privilege of running automobiles, under strict regulations, the success of the Tourist Trade, on a large scale, is almost an impossibility. A wealthy American visitor, who has travelled extensively seeking health, remarked to me a few years ago, that the best asset Prince Edward Island possessed, was its beautiful, invigorating, summer climate, and that if our transportation and automobile questions were overcome, Summer Hotels would spring up all around our shores, and the whole Island would soon become famous as a great Summer Resort. One of these problems is on the eve of being solved, the other remains with our good friends, the automobile, to settle in a generous spirit, in keeping with the present times, as regards domestic problems.

In drawing to a close, I think it is only proper, that we should strive to impress more the people of our Province with the seriousness of the war, so that all may be urged to contribute their bit to the Patriotic, Red Cross and other funds. We are so far removed, in this country, from the scenes of the conflict, and the people in this little province especially, as a rule, are so happy and contented, that we are inclined to take serious questions too lightly. The lesson of the war, to us all, is that we must learn to practise economy, make more sacrifices and exert ourselves to assist the Empire, in the changed conditions, to the greatest possible extent. It is difficult to conceive of a man's withholding his aid in an emergency, if he realizes that the Empire is engaged in a fight to the finish, not only for its life, but for the ideals of Freedom, in the attainment of which there is at stake, every man's future liberty. Today, if it were not for the fact that "Britain Rules the Waves," we would be in a similar plight to the brave Belgians and Servians, as we Canadians were unprepared for war, but while the British navy stands as our safeguard from destruction, that is no reason why any honest British subject, who does not go to the front, should be relieved from paying his fair contribution, and even to his last dollar, should it be required. Our freedom depends absolutely on the fact that the British navy is supreme today as it was in the time of Nelson. Without that protection we would be helpless.

In concluding, I desire to convey my thanks to all the members of the Council for ready assistance, at all times, during my term of office.

JOHN O. HYNDMAN,

President.

A "WRAITH" FROM OUT THE PAST.

HALIFAX, January 13.—Hockey fans of six or seven years ago will remember the case of one "Claude Oren," who played hockey with the Fredericton aggregation. "Oren" was protested almost from the time he first donned the Fredericton uniform. He came from the Cobalt region and was a fair player in the maritime provinces as one of the coming "great ones." All this was in the palmy days of amateurism, when the sceptre of the M. P. A. A. held sovereign power in athletics.

The case has come up once again, this time from Medicine Hat, Claude whose real name is Claude Oren Frood is out there once more regaling himself in the guise of a "slim pure." Incidentally Claude has run up against it in several directions and the Moguls of the district have had a communication forwarded to J. C. Lithgow as to his standing. There is no more doubt as to Claude's standing than there is to that of Seguin's who is getting by as an "amateur" in the "Hub."

This is the same gentleman whom "Cork" Norman exposed, establishing the fact that "C. O. E." or "Frood's cuff-link" does not necessarily mean that he is a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

GERMANY WOULD BLEED BELGIUM WHITE.

PARIS, January 12.—The Havre correspondent of the Pett Journal telegraphs that the Belgian government is about to lodge a protest with neutral governments against the new German war levy of 40,000,000 francs, monthly, in addition to last year's tax of $80,000,000 francs.

The Belgian protest, the correspondent says, will point out that under the provisions of The Hague conference, war taxes levied in occupied territory are limited to the amounts necessary #### to meet the needs of the army of occupation, or to pay for the administration of the territory in question.

FRENCH SOLDIER'S LOGIC

With Alternatives in all Situations He Exposes Futility of Worrying

The following amusing philosophical essay on the futility of worrying was contained in a letter sent from the front by a French Sub-Lieutenant, who started in the war as a private: "There are always in our actual life two alternatives; experience has proved that in each case one should not worry, and here is why: "Being at the depot, for instance, there are two alternatives: You are sent to the front, or you go to the base; if you go to the base you won't worry, it's clear; if you leave for the front there are two alternatives; you are in the zone under bombardment or in a zone which is not; in the last case you won't worry, of course; if you are in the bombardment zone, there are also two alternatives; the bombs burst, or they don't; if they don't you only need to laugh; if they burst, there are two alternatives; you are hurt, or you are not; if you have only a little excitement, no need for worry; but if you are hurt, there are two alternatives; you are badly or lightly wounded; in the last case, there are two alternatives; you die or you don't in the first case, it's clear, you don't worry any more; in the second, there are two alternatives; they amputate or they don't; if you are amputated upon, you are discharged and you wouldn't worry any more. In the two cases they bring you to a hospital, where you are nursed by nice little ladies, and then, less than ever, you won't worry; but in the second case there are two alternatives; on your recovery they send you to a depot or to a convalescent home; if you go to a convalescent home, it's easy life, and you won't worry; but if you are sent back to a depot, there are still two alternatives; you are sent to the front, or to the table—see the beginning."
