Fertilizers—Corrosive Sublimate Crushed Limestone

We guarantee to supply chemicals for fertilizers, containing analyses as follows: Superphosphate, 16 per cent and 20 per cent Phosphoric Acid, Sulphate of Ammonia, 20 per cent Nitrogen, Nitrate of Soda, 16 per cent Nitrogen, Muriate of Potash, 50 per cent Potash.

And Mixed Fertilizers as per our price list, which you should have before ordering.

20 per cent Phosphate saves you at least eighty cents a ton under the 16 per cent Phosphate.

Mechanical condition of the chemicals and the mixed fertilizers is as near perfect as it can be made. Deliveries guaranteed. Place your orders early as possible.

Material for seed treatment and Ground Limestone, on application.

P. E. I. Potato Growers' Association, Inc. 4-4-115-51.

FERTILIZERS

We have in stock a full line of fertilizers—both chemicals and factory mixed. The mechanical condition of our goods is the very best and we can make deliveries 100% perfect condition.

Our factory mixed fertilizers are we understand lower in price than those in any other part of Canada. We consider that at the present low prices money spent in them is spent to better advantage than in the purchasing of chemicals.

Many authorities have strongly advocated the use of factory mixed fertilizers when one ton cost the farmer about $5.00 more than the cost of the same amount of plant food in the form of chemicals. Then the argument in favor of factory mixed is many times stronger when the difference in price is as now only about $1.50.

You can save 50c a ton by taking delivery from our plant.

TEACHERS STUDY GROUP—The Alberton Teachers Study Group meeting was held on Friday, March 31st with the Supervisor and eleven teachers present. The teaching of spelling from the Speller only, was discussed and was considered by all the teachers present as inadequate in that it does not cover all the words used generally. Reading and writing were again stressed as the limelight subjects for the year. The advisability of continuing the Grade VIII examinations was another topic of discussion. The Supervisor emphasized the usage of the Nature Study and Temperance Book, and also teaching pupils how to use the dictionary. The next meeting will be held on Friday, May 26th at 7.30 p. m.

Dorothy Dix' Letter Box

I think a case like yours is one in which no human being can judge or has the right to judge—for another. It is purely a matter of how you feel toward your husband, and what you know of his character. It is a question of how much you love him and of whether you think that philandering is just the result of the flare-up of romance and adventure that comes to so many men around middle life. Or whether you know his weakness for women to be a constitutional infirmity.

Sometimes a woman cares enough for a man to make it worth her while to shut her eyes to his infidelity. She is happier with him, having only a part of his affection and his interest than she would be altogether separated from him. Her heart may be torn with jealousy, but she suffers no more than she would if she had divorced him and another woman filled her place, bore his name and sat at the head of his table.

No woman need delude herself with the belief that a decree absolute will automatically wipe out the memory of the past, heal the wounds her husband has given her and make her gay and light-hearted again.

Sometimes a wife knows that her husband is a born philanderer, that it isn't in him to be true to any woman for long. She knows that no woman could hold his fickle fancy and that he will tire of a Lady Love even as he tired of her. Whether she should divorce this type of husband depends upon whether she cares much or little for him. If she cares little, she is well to be rid of bad rubbish. If she cares much, she is wise to wait, because he will come back to her in the end.

And every wife is wise to recognize the fact that men from 40 to 50 or 60 go through an age of indiscretion when they do foolish and irrational things and need to be treated with patience instead of divorce. During this period they have the illusion that they are boys again and are too young for their wives, and any gold-digger or flapper can exploit them.

So out of her knowledge of herself and her husband every wife must make her own decision.

Of course, in your case there are the young girls to be considered. They are almost grown and divorced parents and a broken-up home do not make the best background for them. Also, with the husband contributing to the family support you can live in a style you could not afford if you had to earn the upkeep for the family. It is very hard for a middle-aged, domestic woman even in the best of times to get any work. Just now it would be practically impossible.

Certainly the plight of a woman with an unfaithful husband is a pitiful one, but she does not always better it by fleeing to the divorce court. DOROTHY DIX.
