As Northcliffe Sees the Situation in India

BOMBAY, Jan. 24.—Lord Northcliffe, the British newspaper publisher, gave Reuters today an analysis of the situation in India, after an examination lasting ten days, which he says he believes approximately represents the views of the government and the leading newspaper publishers of India.

Lord Northcliffe enumerated the various districts he had visited and said that in all of them as well as in the Dutch Indies, the attitude of the Moslems was one of silken silence or outspoken hostility. He said one distinguished Mohammedan judge told him the most dangerous sign was that women were becoming infected with anti-British poison, adding that students of Islam knew what that meant. Lord Northcliffe, noting large numbers of Indians wearing white caps, denoting their adherence to the principles of M. K. Ghandhi, the non-co-operationist leader, said: "The loyal Mohammedans demand the instant arrest of Ghandi saying this would prevent extremist outbreaks. But peace cannot be assured until the moslem question is adjusted."

Moderate Moslems, whose fingers are on the pulse of Moslem feeling told him, Lord Northcliffe said that if the following program were instantly carried out it would heal the wounded sentiments and restore peace and tranquility in India:

First, the British should again recognize the Sultan as the head of Islam and the warden of the Holy Palaces at Mecca, Medina and Bagdad and grant access to them to all Moslems.

Second, Adrianople should be returned to Turkey.

Third, the whole of Asia Minor should be handed over to Turkey, or excepting Smyrna, for the Turks regard Asia Minor as their homeland and, while they have no legitimate grievances regarding the loss by the fortunes of war of their empires of Iraka and Arabia, they resent the splitting up of the land of the birth.

Plot to Wipe Out Old German Family

BERLIN, Jan. 23—A plot to get rid of twenty-six members of the household of the old Mecklenburg family of Von Schlieffen, in order to kill the heir and divert the family fortune, revealed in the trial of Countess Eleanor Schlieffen and her two sons, Hans Heinrich and Siegfried, in the Gorliz Courts, has caused a sensation. While they are said to have killed by a hired assassin a rich member of the family, Count William von Schlieffen, they succeeded in bringing infamy on the family which dates back to the fourteenth century. The Countess, a woman of forty, coolly admitted that she knew her son hired the grocer, on the promise of half a million marks, to go to Mecklenburg lure the old millionaire landowner into a forest and kill him with blow up the historic castle with dynamite. The court, incredulous, asked the aristocratic woman if she had known of the plot beforehand. "Of course I did. We discussed it at dinner," she replied. She explained her failure to make an earlier confession by saying that she kept silent to preserve the honor of the family.

No General Reduction in Military Department

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—The question of a reduction of staff has not been before the minister. Any statement that a large number will be let out on March 31st is without foundation and absolutely unauthorized said a high officer of the Department of Militia and Defence refuting the story that 700 temporary clerks in the Civil Service, mostly in the Militia Records and kindred departments expect to be let out April 1st. There might be reductions it was stated and there probably would be reductions in the regular course of cutting down a War Department but no such wholesale slashing was contemplated. It has been anticipated for some time that a number of temporary clerkships would be abolished in the interest of economy and efficiency.

"This offer may be renewed.

Finger Prints Play Important Part in Arbuckle Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, JJan. 23.—Roscoe C. Arbuckle offered to pay the expenses of Miss Virginia Rappe, including the bills of physicians who attended her, it was testified today in Arbuckle's second trial on a manslaughter charge arising from the girl's death. The testimony was given by Harry Boyle, assistant manager of the Hotel St. Francis, where, the prosecution contends, the girl was fatally injured by Arbuckle during a party in the comedian's rooms. Boyle said he was called to the Arbuckle suite during a party there, and was told by Arbuckle that "a lady was lying on a bed in one of the rooms tearing her clothes off." He visited the room and found Miss Rappe "practically unconscious," he testified.

Other witnesses today were Al Zeminacher, manager of motion picture enterprises engaged in by Miss Rappe, and Jesse Norguard, former night watchman at a Culver City, Cal., motion picture studio used by both Arbuckle and Miss Rappe.

Arbuckle on one occasion attempted to bribe him to obtain a key to Miss Rappe's dressing room, but was refused, Norguard testified.

A post-mortem photograph of Miss Rappe's right arm, said by the physician to have been bruised by Arbuckle, and her post-mortem finger prints were introduced as were Arbuckle's finger prints.

Sixty Mile Gale in Valley

BERWISK, N. S., Jan. 24—Kentville, Berwick and the surrounding country was visited on Saturday and Sunday by another heavy downfall of snow that completely blocked the roads. Enough snow fell to relieve the icy condition of roads. About 5.30 Sunday afternoon it began to blow and by seven o'clock had developed a gale from the southwest, reaching at its height of sixty miles an hour, shifting late at night to the northwest and still going strong though decreasing in its velocity. Every particle of snow in the valley and the roads has been swept leaving bare conditions as bad as ever.

In the meantime the thermometer had dropped from twenty eight above zero to ten degrees below in the valley, and two degrees below on the Bay shore. Neither Kentville, Berwick and neighboring towns report any damage with the exception of Somerset where the large sale barn on the farm of T. H. Morse was destroyed. Over at Harbourville a gale reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour. The lighthouse on the wharf was entirely destroyed. Also the verandah of Bezanson's Hotel as well as the fish house belonging to Isaac Spicer. As far as learned there were no fatalities due to the gale, although there were a number of narrow escapes.

No Appointment Yet for High Commissionership

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—The Journal this morning says the presence in Ottawa yesterday of P. C. Larkin, Toronto, added strength to reports that he will shortly be named to succeed Sir George Perley as Canadian High Commissioner in London. Inquiries last night however, elicited the fact that the matter has not yet been dealt with by the government. The name of Sir Charles Gordon, Montreal, is also being prominently mentioned in connection with the London post. It is stated that the Quebec ministers are strongly urging his name. Mr. Larkin in addition to being well known in the realm of commerce has also long been high in the counsel of the Liberal party. He was one of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's closest personal friends. Sir Charles Gordon, apart from the last election when he suported Mr. King has never been active politically. During the great part of the war, however, he was head of the Canadian War Mission in Washington. He is head of Dominion Tetxiles Ltd.

Innocence Learned After Death in Jail

KINGSTON, Jan. 23.—The late Judge W. P. Archibald, of Ottawa, had many very touching experiences in connection with his visits as parole officer to the provincial penitentiary at Portsmouth. One was in regard to a young man of a western Ontario town who was sentenced to a term for stealing money from an office in which he was employed. The young man protested his innocence, but even his father and his sweetheart turned their backs on him and he came to Portsmouth to serve his term. His mother believed in his innocence, but died during his imprisonment. To Mr. Archibald he declared his innocence just before his death, which occurred in the prison and which was due, it was said, to a broken heart. A year or so afterwards, Mr. Archibald was called to another prison by a man who was dying, and to him the convict confessed that he was the one who stole the money in the western Ontario town and that the young man who had died during his term was entirely innocent.

All Quiet in the Colliery Districts

SYDNEY, N. S., Jan. 24—Contrary to all expectations there was a complete absence of rioting and looting at New Aberdeen, Glace Bay, tonight. This improvement in the situation is attributed by the police partly to the fact that the Dominion Coal Company's store there has been pretty well looted of everything worth while carrying off, and partly to misgivings among the rioters following the announcement that the ringleaders will probably be prosecuted for their share of the disturbances of Saturday and Sunday in which goods valued at about $80,000 were carried off or destroyed.

Alarming rumors of what might happen tonight caused the authorities to make extra preparations to cope with the situation, but happily the threatened outbreak did not occur. At the present time there is considerable feeling in Glace Bay against the Hebrew element which largely controls the retail business of the town and threats to burn out and loot the Jewish shops were frequent today. Up to midnight the programme had failed to materialize.

Mayor Forbes of Glace Bay in a statement today declared the town did not want to call in outside assistance, but would be compelled to do so if the rioting was not stopped. The Mayor personally undertook to see that any persons actually destitute, who applies to him shall at least receive the necessities of life.

Mr. Geo. Lightizer, business manager, read his annual report which appears in full in another column. Many questions were asked and satisfactorily answered regarding items of the report, which was on motion of Mr. Jenkins, seconded by Mr. Munn adopted as read.

Secretary Wm. Kerr then read his report which on motion of Mr. Giddings, seconded by Mr. Brodie was adopted clause by clause with a slight amendment as follows:

Secretary's Report.

Charlottetown, P. E. I.,
January 25, 1922.

The year that is just past is one that will be remembered as a period of great difficulty and depression in business circles. The financial stress and general depression has made business hard and the week spots in every human business have been found.

The Egg Circle members have always looked forward to such a time with dread, and the best business men have warned against the "Rainy Day." The year has passed, however, and the soundness of the business policy of the Egg and Poultry Association has been demonstrated.

Two new circles were organized at Bonshaw and Tryon with a combined membership of 160. Strathcona, Johnston's River and Webster's Corner circles were re-organized and a new section was added to Grand River Circle. That fine section of the country from Canoe Cove to Albany has been taken in and promises much good business for the future. Two new sections have made application for organization this winter, and it is expected that some of the circles will extend their territory during 1922.

This is the second largest year since the Association was formed, and exceeds 1920 by 61,653 dozens. The surplus of $50,370.82 is the largest we have yet had.

The directors have decided to discontinue the arrangement with Canadian Farm Products, Limited, whereby an offer was made to serve both companies. Henceforth it is planned to locate the head office of the Association in the egg warehouse. The secretary will thus be in closer touch with the business manager, which should be an advantageous arrangement.

We acknowledge gratefully the valuable work of the Live Stock Branch on behalf of the Poultry Industry. The work of Mr. Jones and his staff has given excellent results and every encouragement and assistance should be given these young men in order that the conditions surrounding their work may be as agreeable as possible.

Considerable live poultry was moved in car load lots during the late summer and autumn. This is a new departure and promises to provide a new and lucrative avenue for the disposal of the fat hens especially.

Considerable butter was handled in addition to the eggs. The creameries have used this Association as a means of co-operative marketing.

Eggs have ruled high in price, and on the whole a good year can be expected in 1922.

WM. KERR, Secretary

Mr. W. A. Brown, Chief of the Egg and Poultry Department, Ottawa, called upon by the chairman, pointed out that what the province needs just now is something along the lines of the propaganda campaign started in the early days of the co-operative movement here. A series of meetings should be held throughout the Island for the discussion not only of co-operative methods but of better breeding and housing and better means for increasing production. There should be a practical discussion of the business right from the farm to the ultimate market. Many questions might be discussed with profit in local communities and the Federal Department is prepared to offer every assistance along these lines in the future as in the past.

Mr. E. G. Giddings believes that one of the important points for consideration is to get larger membership in the territory now occupied. He represented one of the largest egg circles in the province and yet not one third of the farmers in his territory are members. He believed with Mr. Brown that a good means to attract more members would be the holding of community meetings.

Mr. Jones, of the Dominion Live Stock Branch, acknowledged the thanks of the Association as embodied in the Secretary's report and emphasized the importance of increasing the volume of business, which must be done by increasing the membership in the circles and inciting members to keep more and better poultry. He hoped there would be an opportunity to hold more meetings throughout the country and that every member would do his best to make the coming year a banner one.

The clause in the Secretary's report with reference to the discontinuance of business relations with Canadian Farm Products, Limited, was discussed at some length. Mr. Kerr explained that there was a wide spread felling among members that the two companies should work absolutely independent of each other. The Egg and Poultry Association desires to maintain its own office which has hitherto been joined with the head office of the other company.

With reference to the clause covering the shipment of live poultry in car load lots, Mr. M. J. Kelly wished to know if the Federal Branch was willing to handle these cars. Mr. Jones replied that the Live Stock Branch did not handle the cars but merely assisted other organizations in the handling of them. Eleven cars of poultry have been shipped last year from the province consisting of about 3000 birds per car. There was also shipped six car-loads of geese. Mr. Kerr said the Association shipped two of these cars.

Mr. Brown declared the shipping of live poultry to be one of the best things that could be taken up by the Association. Last year's shipment was a departure and was highly successful. The first car-load was taken out of this province in advance of the usual market and was sold for more than it would otherwise have brought; and it left the local market at Christmas just a little under rather than a little over the demand, with the result that producers here had higher prices for chickens, geese and turkeys than in any other Canadian market.

Mr. Jones stated that the quality of last year's shipments from the Association was found to be highly satisfactory. The first car particularly created a very favorable impression on the Boston market and helped much with the subsequent sale of other cars. This car was made up of over eighty per cent. Plymouth Rocks. There was some poorer quality in later shipments from the Island but the majority was in every way satisfactory.

Considerable discussion took place as to the advisability of continuing and expanding the business of co-operative butter handling, or to stick exclusively to the development of the eggs and poultry business. Messrs. Lightizer, LeLacheur, Jenkins, McLaren, Munn, Crossman Thompson, Cousins, Hughes, McGregor, O'Keefe and others took part.

It was decided to let this point stand over for the time being. The original wording of the clause in the secretary's report ("The creameries have a means of co-operative marketing through the Association that can be developed as time passes")—was changed to the wording as it stands: "The creameries have used this Association as a means of cooperative marketing."

Mr. O'Keefe declared that there was no doubt about the success of the Egg and Poultry Association under the capable management of Mr. Lightizer.

The secretary's audited report on items of the head office expenses was submitted and accepted.

Another report submitted shows that for the year ending Dec.31, 1921 that the 59 circles of the Association the following quantities of eggs:—Total eggs, 903,016 dozen; "Extras", 786,615.6 dozen; Nos. 1 and 2, 466,400.6. The total value of the eggs was $254,335.01. The largest total is from South Kings circle—44,452 dozen, and second Bangor, 36,198.5 doz. and the third Murray Harbor North, 36,104 doz.

At the evening session the financial statement was presented by Mr. Kerr and on motion adopted.

Mr. Kerr outlined some suggestions in the by-laws and on motion it was decided to leave this matter in the hands of the incoming board of Directors.

Mr. Kerr maintained the head office of the Association should be at the warehouse, but thought there should be an assistant there with Mr. Lightizer. He felt himself obliged now to tender his resignation, which he would be glad if the meeting would accept.

In the new disposition of matters the Secretary would be obliged to put in a great deal of time about the plant, as a salesman and secretary. Mr. Lightizer addressed the meeting and explained the necessity of an assistant at the candling warehouse.

A number of members spoke in glowing terms of the work Mr. Kerr had accomplished and thought it would be a severe loss to the Association if he retired at this time.

A lengthy discussion ensued regarding the resignation of the Secretary. It was finally, on motion, decided that the matter be left to the incoming board of directors.

The question of co-lateral was then brought up and discussed. On motion it was decided that the co-lateral be the same as last year—$30 per member.

Regarding distribution of profits discussed at the afternoon's session the Secretary stated that members bringing in eggs intermittently were not entitled to rebates. It was accordingly decided, on motion, that the constitution be enforced in this respect.

The Committee on Resolutions submitted the following:

WHEREAS, in order that the delegates to the annual meeting may be in a position to intelligently consider and discuss the affairs of the Association it is imperative that they be fully informed as to its financial condition a reasonable time in advance of the annual meeting.

BE IT RESOLVED that the management be instructed to have a copy of the annual financial statement in detail, in the hands of the secretary of each Circle at least ten days in advance of the date set for the annual meeting in each and every year hereafter.

That, in order to obviate the general misunderstanding which seems to exist among members as to the present classification of eggs, it is advisable that a change be made in the form used by managers in reporting on shipments.

That the terms of classification to be used on such form as follows:

(1) No. 1.
(2) No. 2.
(3) Small.
(b) Soiled.
(c) Stale.
(d) Imperfect.
(3) Bad.

The terms "imperfect", "blood spot," "watery yolk," "abnormal," "air space," "cracked."

That a desrription of surh classification be printed in detail on

"Irish Olympiad" Held in Dublin in August Next

PARIS, Jan. 25—An "Irish Olympiad" will be held in Dublin next August, following the Irish Horse show under the auspices of the International Irish League organization of which was decided upon at today's session of the world congress of the Irish Race.

Details of other features of the league's proposed work remain to be fixed at subsequent meetings of the congress here, but it is announced that a triennial conclave of the league has also been decided upon and that the conclave will be held in Dublin in 1925.

The second day's session of the congress was devoted entirely to practical suestions.

This afternoon the congress approved a request to the Irish government for permission to institute in Ireland through the international organization a permanent memorial of the good-will of the Irish abroad. It was suggested this memorial take the form of establishing in each county of Ireland a technical institute supplemented by gift to Irish universities and laboratories. Drug Bootlegging Shows Startling Increase

OTTAWA, Jan. 42—The mounted Police are calling attention to the alarming increase in the use of narcotic drugs in Canada, and the growing traffic in the same, particularly in places close to the United States border but generally in all large Canadian cities.

While an agreement was entered into at the League of Nations for teh regulation of the legitimate use of opium, cocaine and their derivities, the feeling in Canada is that until limitation of the output to the actual needs of the world is enforced in the country of production, absolute prohibition of the traffic will be impossible. This proposal has actually come from Persia, which, with Turkey produces the bulk of the world's opium.

The Health Department under the jurisdiction of which this matter comes, states that the legitimate traffic in narcotics is being conducted satisfactorily, but there has been a startling increase in "drug bootlegging." During the past year more than a thousand convictions have been obtained for illegal traffic drugs. There is a minimum fine of $200 and a maximum punishment on summary trial of 18 months or $1,000 fine or both. On indictment seven years' imprisonment may be inflicted. Most of those in the truck are foreigners. Some of these captured had as much as three or four thousand ounces of cocaine or a thousand pounds of opium.

The raw product of opium and cocaine are today very cheap. Morphine sells wholesale for $6 per ounce and opium $3 a pound. There are 437 grains in an ounce of opium and it is retailed illegitimately, after being mixed with adulterants, at prices to "addicts" as high as $3 a grain and opium is sold as high as $60 a pound.

As the Mounted Police have pointed out the business is carried on by a ring, well organized and probably coming principally from the United States. As a small fortune in the stuff may be carried in a hand-satchel, it is a business more easily carried on, more difficult to detect, and vastly more profitable, than ordinary bootlegging and about the only way of stopping it is as suggested above, beginning in the country of production.
