TUESDAY MORNING SEPTEMBER 24 1907.

CANADIAN PRODUCE IN GREAT BRITAIN

It was for some years, a matter for regret among Canadian exporters that in the Old Country certain prejudices—many of them ill-founded, and some of them unfortunately directly the result of ignorance and carelessness if not worse on the part of Canadian producers—held sway to the detriment of Canadian goods, especially the products of the farm.

It is gratifying to note that these prejudices have in course of time been combated and dispelled in a large measure.

Recently owing to the efforts of J. R. Ruddick, Canadian Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, who is at present on a business visit to Scotland the buyers in the Old Country have been further enlightened regarding the safeguards enforced by the Dominion to ensure excellence in the matter of exports from this Country.

Mr. Ruddick recently lectured at a meeting of the Scottish Provision Trade Association, held in Glasgow.

Mr. Ruddick, after remarking briefly on the amount of bacon, cheese, and butter exported from Canada to this country, said he believed they would in the future see a very great improvement in the apple trade from the Dominion. In the past the trade had suffered from a lack of organization.

The laws in Canada regulating dairy produce said Mr. Ruddick were very stringent. In the first place all kinds of adulteration in connection with butter and cheese were absolutely prohibited, and he was able to state from his own knowledge of the situation that there was no adulteration of dairy products in Canada.

On the matter of dating the manufacture of cheese there was no law dealing with this, he might frankly say he was against the dating system. Dating the month of manufacture did not represent anything that had to do with the intrinsic value of the cheese. The only reason why September cheese had been better than the cheese of other months was because they had generally cooler weather then. Personally, he would rather have May cheese or that of June or July, that had been properly cured and made than cheese made in autumn. With the improvement in the cooling of cheese that was becoming general they might, however, be able to produce cheese throughout the whole season that would be equal in quality to that of September.

Mr. Ruddick afterwards answered several questions. In reply to one of these he said he thought the fruit growers, in forming a co-operative association, were trying to raise the price of the fruit, but they were trying to do it by giving good value for the money. So far as he had heard, the work turned out by the association had given very great satisfaction. Another question drew attention to the matter of short weights and too green cheese being shipped to this country. He also suggested that Mr. Ruddick's Department might spend more time in considering the matter of mould in butter. Mr. Ruddick, in reply, said he was doing his best to encourage the Canadian farmers to hold their cheese for a reasonable length of time, and he believed he had made some progress. Regarding the second question it was sometimes difficult to tell where the mould was coming from. It was a minute form of plant life, and it must have a seed of some kind. In a new country like Canada a great many of the buildings were of wood, and that encouraged the growth of mould. Newer houses were now, however, going up, having impervious walls that did not support the growth of mould.

OUR PROVINCE'S FLORA.

A new text book of more than passing interest has been authorized by the Board of Education—the Prince Edward Island edition of Spotton's Botany, with which is incorporated a Flora of the plants of this province; written by our veteran naturalist John MacSwain, Instructor of Drawing and Natural History in the Charlottetown public schools. This work of Mr. MacSwain's, though modestly styled "The commonly occurring Flowering Plants of Prince Edward Island," is, with the exception of the grasses, of which it does not treat, a very complete and excellently written flora of our phanogams. A full description of our Ferns is also appended.

In his preface Mr. MacSwain states "The catalogue used in this work was Sleepless?

Nerves Are Racked.

Health Undermined.

Opiaes, Sedatives, Narcotics, Worse Than Useless. Produce No Permanent Good.

Worry, overwork, over-study and indigestion cause insomnia.

Healthy, natural sleep can't be produced by drugs.

First, the blood circulation must be improved.

Congestion of blood in the head must be removed.

Irritation in the brain must be relieved.

It's because Ferrozone equalizes circulation, because it soothes the irritation, because it removes congestion that it does cure insomnia.

For building blood and nerve, for instilling force and life into over-worked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find anything so sure as Ferrozone.

Remember, sleep is just as important as food.

You must sleep, or break down.

You can if you'll use Ferrozone and thereby remove the conditions which now keep you from sleep.

Ferrozone is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or delicate woman can use.

Absolutely safe is Ferrozone.

Take it for a month, take it for a year—no harm, but immeasurable good will result.

To sleep well, look well, feel well, to be free from depression, nervousness or blues—use Ferrozone. It's a food tonic, a healer to the weak and wretched, a boon to the sleepless—sold every where in 50c boxes.

compiled from the List of Prince Edward Island Plants, by J. MacSwain, and F. Bain; published by the Natural History Society of Prince Edward Island, July, 1907, and from later lists prepared by a few who are well known as botanists, who collected plants and reported those discovered to the Provincial Secretary of the Botanical Club of Canada. Chief amongst those investigators of our flora are L. W. Watson, M. A. J. M. Duncan, J. T. Clarkin, B. A., A. Smallwood and the compiler.

To J. T. Clarkin as well as to L. W. Watson he acknowledges his indebtedness for valuable suggestions and for their cheerfully rendered assistance in proof-reading.

There is no doubt but this work will stimulate interest in this branch of Natural Science and render a knowledge of our Flora more accessible to students.

It is a pleasure to see among the names of those awarded prizes at the Fredericton Exhibition many from this Province. The success of our stock-breeders is all the more gratifying because owing to various circumstances they are more or less handicapped when competing with the wealthy stock raisers of the larger provinces. But they make a good showing every time.

Those sample furs were advertising to-day are really wonderful value. Had we bought them in the regular way, they would be marked one quarter to one third more. The snowing includes hich, marmot, hare, coney, raccoon etc., in stoles, scarfs, throw-overs, muffs and so on—and many of the marmot scarfs closely resemble mink at six times the price. They are worth while, emphatically—but they are not going to stay long. Moore & McLeod. 9-24d31

THE BOHEMIAN

FOR OCTOBER

The American readers of current literature are quick to discover a "good thing." Every month the demand for THE BOHEMIAN at the news stands in this city has been growing. Why?

It radiates entertainment. A look into it will rout a smile from the ambuscade of the gloomiest countenance and will brighten a mind weary with following the beaten paths of magazine literature.

For THE BOHEMIAN is "different." It is so compounded of snappy, unusual short stories, enjoyable humor, attractive portraits, anecdotes of persons of note, with clever drawings, and sparkling, illustrated special articles of the out-of-the-way kind, that the result is a delightful and peerless entertainer.
