—FORMER ISLANDERS—
 In years gone by, young men and young women from the island would come to the mainland to seek fame and fortune. Most of them settled down in the United States. Among the many who have returned to the island are: Mr. Stewart, son of the late Mr. Peter Stewart, left his home while just a child, and returned to the island, where he passed on at the age of 81. During his long life he followed railway construction and mining, and he was highly respected and loved. Mr. Stewart never returned to his old home. The second was Mr. Arthur P. Morrow, son of the late Mr. Frederick Morrow. He is a young man, and has a position with the firm in Philadelphia, and for almost 45 years represented them in the States of Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire. He was recently called by death at the age of 69, working until the day of his passing. Arthur was favorably known to many of our agriculturists and merchants in the large territory he covered for so many years. While his father lived, he visited his home in Soudris every summer for a week or two and enjoyed meeting his school mates and friends in his old home during his holidays. Mr. Stewart and Mr. Morrow belong to the Masonic Order and Shriners.
