The SNAPSHOT GUILD WATCH THOSE SUMMER SHADOWS

See that the shadows are properly illuminated in your summer snapshots of people. Here, a bright, sunlit sidewalk reflects light up under the hat brim, and helps give shadow detail.

AS SUMMER approaches, outdoor lighting on sunny days becomes more and more contrasty. The sunshine is brighter, the blue sky does not reflect as much light as a gray winter sky—and in consequence, shadows tend to appear stronger and blacker in your pictures.

Of course, in some pictures you want strong black shadows to create a desired pictorial effect. But in most pictures—and especially snapshots of people—you want detail in all the features. Certainly you do not desire deep shadows around the eyes, nose, and lower lip—for these make a person almost unrecognizable.

To avoid such shadows, or get detail in them, there are several methods. The simplest is to place your subject in open shade—not under trees—facing the clear sky. Then give about double the average "sunshine" exposure—say 1/25 second at f/8 lens opening, on average speed film on a bright sunny day.

A second method is to use reflectors, or place your subject where there are natural reflecting objects. For example, in the picture above, a light-colored concrete sidewalk reflects quite a bit of light up under the subject's hat brim.

Excellent reflectors can be made readily. A white card, or one covered with crumpled tinfoil, serves nicely for small areas. A white sheet also will do.

Backlighting is another device—really a variation of the "open shade" method. The subject is placed with his back to the sun, so that his face is in shadow, and exposure is about the same as for an "open shade" shot. In the picture above, if the subject faced to the left, you would have backlighting. The dark background would then be even more important—for in the print the subject's face should appear lighter than the background.

In taking backlit pictures, do not let sunshine strike the lens. Use a lens hood, or have someone shade the lens without obstructing its view.

Watch the shadows when you are taking pictures this summer. See that they are properly illuminated—make sure the contrast isn't too great—and you'll get a better effect in your prints.

33 Or Only 32 Speed Drivers To Start In Race

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29—(AP)—A bomb will burst at noon tomorrow—weather permitting—and 33, or perhaps only 32, race drivers will roar off, before some 125,000 spectators, in a grueling four-hour test of men and motors—the 29th annual 500-mile race.

The stake in the Memorial Day Marathon over Indianapolis' 2 1/2-mile brick-and-asphalt speedway will be $100,000 in prize money, to be divided among the contestants. The winner will draw from $75,000 to $85,000, depending on the number of laps he leads.

Doubt over the number of starters grew out of the breakdown yesterday of an Italian-built 3.5-liter car that had been driven by René LeGarde, French soldier on leave. If it can be repaired before the race starts, LeGarde will be in the field.

Assuring an international flavor will be Paul Regent of Buenos Aires, Argentine, the South American entrant, at the wheel of a new Maserati—rated by most trackside observers as one of the fastest speedsters in the event.

Two former winners will be in the race. They are Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis, seeking to tie Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, C. I., as a three-time victor, and Kelly Petillo of Los Angeles.

Weather Favors Grain Crop In West Provinces

OTTAWA, May 28—(CP)—Favorable conditions for the start of the 1940 grain crop prevailed this spring in central and southern Manitoba and western Saskatchewan and over most of Alberta, the Dominion bureau of statistics said today in the first of 16 weekly telegraph reports on conditions in the prairie provinces.

Rainy weather in Alberta in early spring delayed seeding but recent warmer weather and ideal moisture conditions brought the crop along rapidly. In northern Manitoba and Central and Northern Saskatchewan and a small portion of northeastern Alberta, moisture conditions are very poor.

General rains will be needed during the summer to ensure crops in these sections. While some slight damage from soil drifting was reported from several districts, there has been little damage from insects thus far.

Belgian Collapse Serious But Not Fatal To Allies

NEW YORK, May 28—(CP)—Collapse of Belgian resistance is a stunning but not necessarily fatal blow to the Allied cause, the New York Sun said editorially today.

Only afternoon paper in New York to comment immediately on King Leopold's capitulation, the Sun said that presumably he hoped to spare his country further ravage.

It added: "It is nevertheless true that at the time when he decided upon surrender his troops were gallantly standing off attacks of the utmost violence. Serious as their case was, it was by no means hopeless."

FINANCE

Remember When

(By The Canadian Press)
Gene Hasson, rookie first-baseman of Montreal Royals in the International League, was rushed to hospital in a critical condition after being struck on the head by a pitched ball in Buffalo one year ago today. Hasson recovered and is still with the Royals.

Without effort, Maxie Berger of Montreal, Canadian junior welterweight boxing champion, thumped his way to an easy decision over Tony Ferrara of New York in eight-round main bout here tonight.

Berger held the upperhand after the first round with a swift left jab and the occasional use of a hard right that had Ferrara in trouble in the second, third and fourth rounds. They were no knockdowns.

The Canadian, at 141, gave away 5 1/2 pounds to the New Yorker but the difference in weight didn't bother Maxie a bit.

New York Times Gains Ayer Award

PHILADELPHIA, May 29—Award of the F. Wayland Ayer cup for excellence in newspaper typography for 1940 to the New York Times was announced recently by N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc.

The award, made annually since 1931, was based on work without regard to editorial content.

More than 1000 of the country's leading daily newspapers competed. Twelve of these survived preliminary eliminations to reach the final judging.

These 12 were The Oregonian of Portland, Or.; The Philadelphia Inquirer; The Christian Science Monitor; The New York Herald-Tribune; The Cleveland Plain Dealer; Los Angeles Times; Dallas News; Detroit Times; New York Post; St. Paul Pioneer Press and Richmond News Leader. The Inquirer, Monitor and Herald Tribune received honorable mentions.

Naval Hero Made Aircraft Minister

LONDON, May 28—(CP)—Admiral Sir Edward Evans, naval hero, was appointed today by Lord Beaverbrook, aircraft production minister, to take charge of the "local protection and security" of aircraft factories and airbases.

Admiral Evans is known widely as "Evans of the Broke" for his accomplishments as commander of the destroyer Broke in the last war.

In 1912 he was second in command of the Scott expedition into the Antarctic.

SCIENTIFICALLY TESTED TO ENSURE QUALITY

In the huge Tip Top Tailors plant a testing laboratory guards the quality of every inch of Tip Top's woolsens. In this laboratory, staffed by experienced textile technicians, every material receives exhaustive tests and inspections before it is declared "good enough" for Tip Top Tailors. All fabrics are pre-shrunk by the world's most modern shrinking process. They receive a light test to determine their resistance to fading. Strict tests for tensile strength are made, which tell whether a fabric can "take it." And many additional tests put these British woolsens through their paces.

When inspecting the many new patterns now showing at your Tip Top store, you can be sure, whatever your choice is, that it has passed every high Tip Top test with banners flying. Remember—our inspection is your protection.
