URGES PROBE INTO BIG WHEAT SALES

John I. McFarland To Seek Investigation Into Selling On The Winnipeg Exchange

WINNIPEG, Oct. 1.—Grain interests today scanned the Canadian wheat picture as large wheat sales on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange produced shadows of an investigation to locate the source of the offerings.

Not only did Mr. McFarland suggest the Government investigate wheat futures operations on the Winnipeg Exchange, but he expressed the hope investigations would be held in Buenos Aires and Liverpool, pointing to the action of the United States Government in placing restrictions on the Chicago market.

While grainmen pondered the situation and denials came from the continent of reports claiming a "wheat corner", prices on the Winnipeg market failed to display any great reaction, closing 2-8 cent lower to unchanged with pit operators crediting the Government agency purchases for wielding a steadying influence.

At the same time Chicago figures tumbled three cents, in Winnipeg October wheat sold for 81 cents, December 82 and May 87 while Liverpool quoted number two Manitoba Northern at 92 1-8 cents a bushel more than a cent-jump over Saturday's figure.

Reports "the biggest corner in the world's history" met with ridicule from London grainmen and officials of the International Wheat Advisory Commission. There was no attempt to control Argentine exports in an attempt to smash Canadian prices, it was maintained.

Mr. McFarland explained farmers during the last three weeks delivered and sold only moderate amounts of wheat. Short-selling had placed heavy pressure on the market, however, and the man who guides the Government's efforts to stabilize wheat prices declared he would like to know "who has the moral right to sell such huge quantities at this time."

It has been brought to the attention of the writer recently, by Mr. Vincent Sutherland, business manager of Sutherland Bros., well and widely known lobster packers, Cable Head East, that a certain part of the old Post Road at Cable Head East, namely, from Capt. John D. McDonald's farm to almost opposite Sutherland Bros., Lobster Cannery, was graded last forty-eight years ago, and that with the Sackville plow and wooden drag, the two men who did the grading, namely, Seppine McDonald and Peter A. McDonald, have long since joined the silent majority.

During last week the same section of public road was most efficiently machined with an Adam's leaning wheel grader, so capably handled by Mr. Maynard Sanderson, Marie, motive power, a 22 horse power cat-pult and tractor, admirably operated by Mr. Bennett Lewis, Cable Head East. These genial gentlemen were ably seconded by their genial assistant, Mr. Wilfred Larkin, St. Peters Bay.

What a contrast in road making and grading as in many other ways from sixty years ago. Then there was no sedan chair, no self binders and very few mortgages. Although sixty-eight years do not take us back exactly to pioneer days, yet in the spinning wheel was in use in practically every farm home on P. E. Island, and the hand loom was also used in many of them.

During the exchange suggested that it might be advisable for the government to have such a representative but no action was taken on it.

Officials here expressed the suspicion that the movement of Argentine wheat is being hedged through the Winnipeg Exchange.

"The practice," one official stated, "is for a shipper from Argentina to sell futures in Liverpool to cover the cargo during the month or six weeks it takes to go from South America to the United Kingdom or European ports."

"With Argentine wheat pouring into European markets the Liverpool market may have become too narrow to absorb all this hedging. It is suspected these shippers turned to Winnipeg and sold futures there. If such were the case then the government has been steadying the market not only against the futures selling to cover Canadian grain moving from the firms to the markets but to cover Argentine wheat shipments as well.

The futures sold by Argentine interests would be closed out as the ships arrived to their destination.

It is claimed here that Chicago is not available for the Argentine operations since it is a restricted market. Accordingly Winnipeg offers the only opportunity in Liverpool becomes unsatisfactory.

While officials here do not think there is any effort to corner the world's wheat supply, they are very dissatisfied with the way Argentine wheat is poured onto the market.

Otis Barton, inventor of the bathysphere, a graduate of Groton and Harvard, conceived the idea of the bathysphere while still in school.

GIRL GUIDE NEWS

Second Charlottetown Company

Friday, September 28th.—The second meeting of the season was held at the Company's headquarters, St. Paul's Parish Hall, with a very good attendance.

In preparation for the election of Patrol Leaders next Friday, each Patrol was asked for its idea of what constitutes a good leader. These descriptions showed that the patrols understand fully the qualities to look for in the selection of their new leaders.

A nature game, in which each patrol tried to guess the names of 15 Canadian birds by being shown their pictures, was won by the Bluebird and White Heather Patrols who each correctly identified 13 birds.

One of the Company's most advanced Guides, Hilda Richardson has been promoted to the position of Company Leader. Hilda's record as Patrol Leader of the White Heather Patrol for the past two years is one of which the Company may be proud, and the popularity of this patrol was shown by the applause and cheering of her fellow Guides when the announcement was made.

Please note that next Friday's meeting will open at 6.30 and will close in time for those who (with their Parents' consent) wish to attend the confirmation service in the Church where, among others, three Girl Guides will be taking on themselves the full responsibility of the first part of the Guide Promise.

At the third meeting of the Company this season the attendance was greatly improved, and correct uniforms were very much in evidence. The Company is getting into its stride now, and work on badges and tests is coming along rapidly.

Service stars were presented in inspection to those who had completed another year with seventy-five per cent attendance. Seven Guides have now three stars each to their credit. The first Swimmer Badge in the Company was presented to Margaret Prowse, patrol leader of the Swallow patrol. Two relay races were played in the time allotted for games the first a knot-tying relay, which taxed the memories of some of the older Guides, but was very helpful in reviewing, and a centipede patrol relay, rather hard on the Guides' knees, but good fun. Several new recruits are being trained by Guides studying for their First Class Badge the rest of the recruits being taught tanglefoot knots by the Company Leader, Jean Forsythe. Morse signalling is being taught the Guides studying for their Second Class by Miss G. Fry, and good progress is being made. Signalling was reviewed by the older Guides, and the development and history of the Guide movement was studied. The Swallow patrol is leading in marks for the pennant. The most successful campaign of the season was conducted by the Blackbirds. Many old songs were sung, and several new ones learned. "Ginger Ale" and "Guide Even-song" proving particularly popular. No hike could be arranged for Thanksgiving day, but it is hoped to hold several later. Next Monday there will be no meeting, but the following Monday, October 15th meetings will be resumed as usual. The First Charlottetown Brownie Pack meets as usual this Friday. No more recruits can be taken into the Company as the company limit of thirty-six has been reached.
