MONDAY

FURS FOR LONDON—A representative of the Guardian was shown by Col. Davison Friday eleven fox pelts from the ranch of the Charlotte-town Silver Black Fox Co., Ltd., which were shipped that night to the firm of Lampons in London. They were an excellent looking lot. A pair of these were cleaned by Mr. J. B. Rombough, and showed up exceedingly well and in great contrast to those not cleaned by him.

PRIN. MILLER REMEMBERED—On the occasion of the closing of the Charlottetown Business College for the Christmas holidays, the popular principal was presented by the book-keeping students with a handsome rocker and an appropriate address extending the season's greetings. The address was signed by all the students and was fittingly replied to by Mr. Miller. The shorthand teacher was kindly remembered by the students in that department.

Mrs. Mary E. Oxenham of Charlottetown, relict of the late Mr. Isaac Oxenham, departed this life on November 30th at the age of 79 years. She has been in poor health for a number of years and at times suffered a great deal and death came as a happy release. She is survived by one sister Mrs. M. Deacon of Free-town and one brother Mr. John R. Edwards of North Wiltshire.

MAGNIFICENT MEMORIAL NUMBER—Montreal Standard has just issued a special number described as "Canada's Aid to the Allies and Peace Memorial." It is a magnificent publication, possibly the finest of the kind produced in Canada. Its pages are the same size as those of the Guardian and total about eighty. There are full page half-tone pictures of the King and Queen, Prince of Wales, the Governor General, Premier Borden, Marshalls Foch and Joffre, Duke of Connaught, General Mewburn, General Haig, General Currie, Premier Lloyd George, the King of the Belgians and hundreds of others showing forth the full military efforts of the Dominion in the Great War. The edition is well worth securing as a souvenir of the war.

WEDDING BELLS—A very interesting event took place in St. Patrick's Church, Fort Augustus, on Nov. 2nd, when Edith Carolina Curley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Curley, Auburn became the bride of Walter McEntee. The knot was tied by the pastor Rev. A. J. McDonald. The attendants were Miss Annie A. Curley, sister of the bride and Edward J. Roach. The bride looked charming in a gown of Belgium blue charreuse with Georgette trimmings and wore a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her hat was Belgium blue velvet and white satin and she carried a white ivory prayer book. The bridesmaid gown was Friesen blue Taffetta with hat to match. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a pleasant evening was spent in dancing, music and recitations. After which the guests returned to their homes feeling they had spent a very pleasant evening and wishing Mr. and Mrs. McEntee many years of happiness. The groom's gift to the bride was a set of furs.

GIN PILLS AND THE SPANISH "FLU"

Everybody knows that one of the most depressing and dangerous complaints resulting from the attack of Spanish influenza—is weakened kidneys.

Hundreds of persons are now suffering worry and annoyance from kidney disorders because they failed to remedy the detrimental effects left by the "Flu."

But there are other people who are not suffering—they are the people who used Gin Pills and restored their kidneys to their proper state of health again.

From all parts of the country letters in large numbers are coming in to us stating that Gin Pills have proven just the remedy required. They strengthened the weakened kidneys and banished annoyance and worry.

Gin Pills have always been accepted as the universal remedy for kidney or Bladder Trouble—now they make good again, as the best remedy for after "Flu" convalescence.

If you have suffered from the "Flu" try Gin Pills and safeguard yourself against the possibilities of more serious kidney disorders.

Mr. C. J. Whitlock, Elm Avenue received a cable yesterday evening from his son, Lieut. H. H. Whitlock R. A. F. at Copenhagen. The last word received from Harry was by postal dated October 27th. He was then a prisoner of war at Kriegsgefangenen Lager Stargard, Pomerania. He had been taken prisoner on October 14. He is now en route to England and will be expected home in the not distant future. His many friends here will be greatly relieved to learn of his release from Germany. This good news accounts for all of the "six original signalers", the first draft to leave Charlottetown for overseas on August 17, 1914.

SUCCESSFUL DAIRYING CO.—New Glasgow Dairying Company has closed the cheese business for the season one of the most successful in its history. The total amount of milk received was 2,420,999; amount of cheese made 231,252 lbs valued at $52,902. The net value of milk to patrons was $1,90 per cwt. The following are the patrons receiving largest sums of money: R. A. Bagnall, 788.37; Donald Andrews, 590.00; Cyrus Smith, 588.00; Jas. L. Lepage, 551.00; Cecil Laird, 550.00 and Walter Buntain 545.00; Warfield Orr with four cows, received 305.00, James Houston, with three cows received 224.00

EX-CHAMPION HAD "FLU"—Many friends in Charlottetown and throughout P. E. Island will regret to learn that Mr. Joe Uvanni, who was here some weeks ago securing laborers to work with the American Construction Co. has been quite ill with the "Flu." Joe, as many people know, was for years the welter weight champion of America and when "Flu" tackled him it gave him the worst shaking he ever got but Joe managed to come through the trying ordeal. This was the first time in his life that he was ever ill and his friends will be pleased to know that he is making a good recovery.

Mrs. Harold Jenkins of this city received a telegram on Saturday containing the sad news of the death of her sister, Mrs. Harry Comerford of Boston, who was accidentally killed by being struck by an auto on Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Comerford, who were on a visit to this province, only returned to Boston a short time ago and her untimely death will come as a severe shock to her many relatives and friends here. Mrs. Comerford is a daughter of Mrs. Samuel Hooper of Marie and leaves to mourn two brothers, Rev. A. E. Hopper, of Holyoke Mass., Herbert at Marie. The sisters are Mrs. R. H. Jenkins, City; Mrs. Alex. Ladner, Bangor; Mrs. J. G. McLeod, Bridgetown; Mrs. Mortigne of Boston to all of whom is extended sincere sympathy.

It was with sorrow that the citizens of Eastend and district heard of the death of one of Eastend's enterprising and energetic business men, Mr. B. K. McLeod, who passed away at the hospital a victim of the dread pneumonia: says the Eastend Review of Saskatchewan Time and again did his conditions arouse hopes in the onlookers breast but the condition of his heart was such that he at last after a valiant battle for life succumbed.

He came in company with Robt. Dane his partner in the business in May, 1917 and bought from the Leaf estate the general merchant business formerly run by W. J. Leaf.

Mr. McLeod was born at French River, Prince Edward Island, in 1887. He leaves to mourn his early death a mother and two brothers, one at Avenlea and the other at his home, and also two sisters, Mrs. D. A. Wedlock of Charlottetown Mrs. Garnet Proffit of Spring Valley P.E.I.

The remains were taken to the cemetery at Shamavon where they were buried.

The sympathies of all go out to the widow and loved ones in this, their hour of deep trial.

There was a great gathering of citizens at the railway depot on Saturday night to meet the large number of overseas men who arrived that day. A total of 49 came over by the car-ferry steamer, a large proportion of whom proceeded west. The easterners who came through to Charlottetown were accorded an enthusiastic welcome being loudly cheered as they detrained.

Better arrangements were made than the last time to prevent crowding and to give the relatives of the returned men an opportunity to first meet them, a guard of soldiers from the depot Battalion being on hand for the purpose and to act as a guard of honor as well.

The returned men were conveyed in barouches and autos to the G. W. V. A. Hall on Queen Street to the music of the League of the Cross Band playing appropriate selections. They were cheered at various points along the route.

At the hall they were treated to refreshments of coffee, cake, etc. and addresses of welcome were given by the Premier, the mayor, Hon. M. McKinnon and ex-mayor Brown (who had accompanied the boys from Sackville) and Corporal P. A. Hughes.

After cheers for the King and the returned men the reception ended and the men dispersed, being again greeted with cheers as they appeared on the street.

Among the soldiers who came and whose names were not forwarded in the list which appeared in Saturday's Guardian were Sergt. Russel Davison of St. Peter and who lived for several years in Charlottetown and Sergt. Harry Boyce of Bonshaw.

Sergt. Davison enlisted in the original No. 5 Siege Battery and has been in France for nearly three years. Before leaving here he was employed with the firm of Bruce Stewart & Co. as a bookkeeper in their ship-chandler department.

Sergt. Boyce also left with the same battery. Both have seen much active service, having been in all the principal fighting in which the battery took such an important part.

Among other Charlottetown boys who arrived was Pte. Joseph Elric Arsenault, son of Mr. J. F. Arsenault, of this city. He went over with the 105th and fought with the 26th Battalion. He was wounded on two occasions—at Passchendaele—in the arm and in the left leg last August. He is a nephew of Premier Arsenault and has a brother in the U. S. Army.

Another Charlottetown soldier was Fitter William R. McDonald, son of Mr. John McDonald, 43 Pownall St. He was a year and a half with the 8th Siege Battery and was wounded by shrapnel shell, fragments lodging in his back and elbow.

Other Charlottetown soldiers who came were Pte's W. Heron, P. W. LeClair, J. Lockerby, W. E. Matthews and G. R. Boyle.

Suddenly of heart failure at his home, 62 Great George Street, Charlottetown, on Friday morning, December 6th, 1918. Mr. George Offer, aged 64 years. The deceased complained, a few days before his death, of not feeling in his usual health, but was up and around the city every day. On the evening of Thursday out on business after 8 o'clock, on his return he sat and conversed with the family as usual until about eleven o'clock, when he retired. About an hour afterwards Mrs. Offer noticed him breathing heavily and at once turned on the light; but although she called him he made no answer. Dr. McGilligan was at once summoned and was immediately on the scene, but he had passed beyond his skill to that bourne from which no traveller ever returns.

Mr. Offer was well and favorably known in this his native city—where he first learned the trade of carriage builder with McKinnon and Fraser and where later he was the junior partner in the firm of Younker & Offer. He afterwards purchased a farm at Wood Islands where he resided for a number of years returning to Charlottetown about twenty-five years ago. The deceased was a man of most genial disposition—he always looked on the bright side of life and endeavoured to make his friends see the same. He was most generous with those in need and most sympathetic with those in trouble; and his high sense of honour in business transactions is well known to most of our merchants and business men—"his word was always as good as his bond." In the home he was a most generous provider as well as a kind and loving husband and father. He has left to cherish his memory besides a sorrowing widow, one daughter, Mrs. T. D. Trapp of New Westminster, B. C. and one son James D. of this city. One brother, John, and one sister, Mrs. Younker, also survive, resident in Charlottetown.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon under the auspices of St. John's Lodge A. F. and A. M. of which deceased had been a member for about 42 years. The Rev. Mr. Field of St. Paul's Church officiating. The remains were laid to rest in the People's Cemetery. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The pallbearers were James A. MacMillen, D. F. Bethune, W. A. Stewart, C. S. Drew, Sidney Gray and Dr. Pethick.

The "Guardian" extends its sincere sympathy to the family and friends suddenly and unexpectedly called upon to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate husband and father and the companionship of a true and generous friend.

FLAVOR-FULL

Undoubtedly there are degrees of flavor. Take Fruit for instance—you select an orange, and on eating it you find it to be flavory, certainly, but sharp—acid; choose another, a riper more matured fruit, and it is luscious, the flavor is mellowed and rounded—it is FLAVOR-FULL. Nature made a better job of the second orange. Exactly the same is true of Tea. Nature is not equally kind to all. It requires expert knowledge and continual care to select and combine FLAVOR-FULL Teas to produce the delicious cup obtained from KING COLE Orange Pekoe. If you love your cup of Tea, unusual pleasure awaits you in KING COLE Orange Pekoe.

It is the Flavour that counts

You know, yourself, that 95% of what you buy to eat, is purchased rather for the flavour than its food value. In other words, we eat what we enjoy, and usually eat only what pleases our palate. There is nothing inviting or appetizing about a loaf of bread made of western spring wheat flour, with its coarse texture and lack of flavour.

But when the bread and rolls and biscuits are made of

BEAVER FLOUR
MILLED OF BLENDED WHEAT

Ah! that's another story altogether. While the food value of Bread, made of "Beaver" Flour is not to be belittled, it is the delightful flavour, the delicious unlike "homey" taste, the fine, even texture, the creamy lightness, that make "Beaver" Flour bread such a treat for young and old alike.

And when it comes to things like Apple and Mince Pies, chocolate Layer Cake—or a batch of Cookies or Gingerbread for the children—well—just try "Beaver" Flour once, that's all—and you'll see and taste the difference.

"Beaver" Flour is a blend of the famous Ontario winter wheat and enough western spring wheat to give it strength. It has the flavour of the one and the strength of the other, and being milled of scientifically blended wheat, it is always the same in flavour, in quality and strength. Why miss so many of these good things, by using western wheat flour? Order a sack of "Beaver" Flour, at your dealer's, and begin to enjoy the delicious bread and pastry it makes.
