 The body arrived in Moncton Monday from Boston and remained at Tuttle Brothers Funeral Home until yesterday afternoon, when it was taken to Lutes Mountain for burial.—Moncton Times.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY—A very enjoyable surprise birthday party took place recently at the home of Mr. Upton B. Seaman, station agent at Elmira, when a large number of relatives and friends gathered to do honor to Mr. Seaman's grandmother, Mrs. Grace Seaman, of Souris. Mrs. Seaman observed that there was that evening an unusual number of callers but was completely taken by surprise when ushered into the dining room to find a table beautifully decorated with gladiolas and sweet peas, and laden with delicacies suitable for such an occasion, the centre being occupied by a birthday cake on which burned brightly, eighty six candles. The guest of honor enjoyed, as she expressed it, one of the greatest thrills of her long life. Following the dinner the evening was pleasantly spent with music and singing after which the guests departed wishing Mrs. Seaman many more happy birthdays. Her many friends and relatives in Charlottetown, where she annually visits, will be glad to hear that Mrs. Seaman, although at an advanced age, is still enjoying the best of health, and will heartily join with her relatives and friends in Souris in wishing her many happy returns of such a pleasant day.

 The seventh annual district convention of Sea View, Malpeque, Indian River, Margate, Graham's Road, Norboro, Kelvin Grove, Emerald, Springfield and Long River Institutes was held on Monday evening, Oct. 1st, in King George Hall, Kensington.
 There were over ninety members at the afternoon meeting, and at the evening session the hall was filled to overflowing.
 There was a very fine display of handicrafts, which was highly commended by visitors present. There were some very beautiful specimens of tating and wool work, some lovely hooked rugs, and afghans. Worthy special mention was some wool work by a little girl which had been worked on a hand loom.
 The meetings were presided over by the president, Mrs. George Bowness. The afternoon session was opened by the singing of the In-stitute Ode, followed by the Creed and the reading of the minutes of the previous convention.
 Mrs. Austin Murphy of the Emerald Institute gave the address of welcome, which was replied to by Mrs. Leigh Sutherland of Sea View Institute.
 The reports from the different institutes were next submitted and showed great activity during the past year.
 Miss MacMillan, Supervisor, then addressed the meeting and stressed the importance of the educational work of the Institutes.
 She wished to see more Girls Sewing Clubs organized. There are now six and she hoped that each Institute would have one this coming winter. There were now 255 Institutes on the Island, Miss MacMillan complimented the ladies on their lovely display of handicrafts.
 Miss Wilson of the Red Cross Department in Charlottetown addressed the meeting on Red Cross work and spoke particularly on the health program for children.
 A piano solo by Mrs. S. L. Campbell and reading by Mrs. J. Walker were pleasing additions to the program.
 Tea was served by the ladies of Malpeque and Emerald in the room above the hall.
 Evening Session
 There was a very large attendance at the evening session.
 The guest speaker was Mr. A. E. Maclean, M.P., who gave a splendid address on "This Canada of Ours." EQUAL OPPORTUNITY NOT YET ACHIEVED
 NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt told the Herald Tribune's fourth annual conference on current problems today that "there is still a long way to go before women will really have the same chance as men to reach important places."
 "It is still said that there is very little creative ability amongst women, and so far the record would seem to corroborate this theory," said the wife of the United States President. "It has so long been considered woman's business to devote herself to creating a home and having children that other creative work hasn't been given much of a chance."

THE SILVER FOX SHOW
 To Open Nov. 5th
 Today we publish a large display ad for the Silver Fox Exhibitors Association of Prince Edward Island, a body of progressive Silver Fox breeders who have been in existence since 1929 when their first show was staged in the Main Building at the Exhibition Grounds. It was so successful that plans were immediately laid to make it a permanent institution, and early the next fall the Paton Pavilion was built. It has been pronounced by all who have seen it as the most perfect Silver Fox judging place in the world. It was designed to give a perfect light or as near perfect as can be obtained. In addition there is seating capacity for 600 spectators, who from their elevated positions can watch every detail of judging.
 Year after year since 1929 with the exception of one year—1931—this show has been held. Last year interest was very keen and the entries had increased very considerably over the previous year. During its progress dozens of fox breeders said they regretted they had not present their foxes but would be present next year (1934). During spring and summer there has been so much fox exhibition talk that the Directors have felt justified in going the limit and they have also been fortunate in securing additional grants that have made possible a cash prize list of over $2,000. In addition to the seventeen regular Championships and other trophies, some of them very valuable, three additional trophies have been donated including a magnificent challenge trophy given by the City of Charlottetown and an annual trophy by His Honor Lieutenant Governor DeBlois.
 The prize committee have gone over the entire prize list and have changed the awards for first place from the figure of $4.00 last year to $12.00 this year with corresponding good cash prizes for the other positions.

Road Paving Equipment Destroyed
 (C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
 ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Oct. 1.—Paving of the St. Stephen-Saint John highway at Benson's Corner received a setback this afternoon when fire destroyed much of the equipment used by the contractors, H. J. O'Connell, Ltd., of Montreal. As a result the work will be delayed indefinitely, leaving 100 men temporarily without employment.
 A large mber was included in the loss which will amount to some thousands of dollars. Tar and gasoline made the fire hard to fight. Part of a large wooden building housing the equipment was destroyed. Fire departments from St. Stephen and Milltown combined to extinguish the outbreak.

Don George To Wrestle In Cape Breton
 SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 1.—Ed Don George, claimant to the world's heavyweight wrestling title, has been signed to give Cape Breton fans a thrill Friday night. His opponent has not been announced but sanction of the Cape Breton Boxing Commission has been obtained and promoter Jack Heron promises that one of the "big time" wrestlers will be brought in to make a match.

Maritime Ports Anticipate Big Season
 MONCTON, N.B., Oct. 1.—We anticipate that winter port business through the ports of Halifax and Saint John this season will be considerably greater than last year based upon a general improvement in trade which has taken place in Canada, stated R. W. Long, General Freight Traffic Manager of the Canadian Railways on his return to Montreal tonight on the Maritime Express following a visit to the Maritime Provinces in company with other traffic officials of the railway.
 The improvement, he remarked, is roughly about twenty per cent over last year. "This will mean considerable employment for railway crews and also for longshoremen and those engaged in ocean shipping," he continued. "This increase in employment will have a beneficial effect on business in general in the Maritimes as it will put more money into circulation."

Arrangements are being made to house between five and six hundred animals in the Main Building is being put in the very best possible shape, also the Paton Pavilion. It is proposed to have a restaurant operating during the show where the exhibitors can comfortably be fed at noon hours.
 Many firms selling Silver Fox foods and other supplies are taking booths and it is expected that the greatest interest will be shown in this year's Exhibition. It is a well known fact that breeders from East Point and North Cape are fitting foxes a nd those who are not actually showing will be in attendance by the thousands to view the Island's Best.
 The week of November 5th to 8th is sure to be one of great excitement in Charlottetown. One of the most interesting functions in connection with the show will be the grand banquet to be held at the Canadian National Hotel on Wednesday evening. In order that the greatest amount of enjoyment can be gotten out of it, after an excellent menu which is being carefully thought out by the management of the Hotel has been disposed of, there will be short speeches by prominent public men and fox breeders. When we say short we mean it. Five minutes will be the limit of time allowed. There will be all kinds of fun interspersed with the speeches so that when the banquet is over those who have been present will go away saying as they did last year, "Well, that is the best function of that kind I ever was at." In order not to crowd the guests and leave lots of room for the "vaudeville" only 140 tickets will be sold.
 President George A. Callbeck of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders Association will be sole judge of the foxes and it is planned to have the Exhibition conclude with a grand presentation of prizes by His Honor Lieut.-Governor George DeBlois.

Here's a grand way.
