UTAH GRIDDERS SEEM CHAMPS

(United Press) SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 3.—The question bothering Utah football fans is not whether the University of Utah will win another state championship this fall—that is, virtually, a foregone conclusion—but whether it will march to its fourth consecutive Rocky Mountain conference championship.

The Utes, who haven't lost a conference game since 1927 and whose golden age of football machines reached a climax of one-sided victories last fall, have the nucleus of a strong 1931 aggregation.

True, it may not be as strong as last year. Among the ten letter-men that graduated were such bulwarks of strength as Marvin Jonas center, Captain Theron Price, half back, Evert Lybbert, guard, George Watkins, end, Preston Summershays, halfback and Ray Forsberg, quarter.

On the other hand, there are 12 lettermen who will answer the first practice call and a reasonably strong crop from last year's freshman team.

Frank Christensen the sensational back of the conference last year, will be the foundation. He will be supported by Fred Teedaco, Juddy Bischoff, Dan Beckstead and S. Elliott.

Coch Ike Armstrong's principal problems are to fill the quarterback, center and blocking back positions. The University of Utah, which has wanted to add inter-sectional laurels to its conference record, will get its chance 12 days after the first practice, Sept. 26. The Utes will play the University of Washington at Seattle.

LEONARD ROBERTS

Budded on earth to bloom in heaven. Those words were indeed truly realized when it became known that Leonard Roberts, beloved and only child of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Roberts, Kinkora had passed away on Monday morning, Aug. 31, after but seven hours illness, aged four months and 8 days. He was perfectly well until 11 o'clock Sunday night when he was stricken with cholera. Everything possible was done to save the child but medical skill proved of no avail and at six o'clock Monday morning his tiny spirit went forth to meet its Maker. He was a bright and lovable child and during his short stay on this earth, by his bright ways and pleasant smile won the hearts of all who knew him. He leaves to mourn his parents, also his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roberts, Kinkora, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDonald, New Annan who will ever cherish the memory of a beautiful child. The funeral took place Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery at Kinkora. His four uncles acted as pall bearers. Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved parents in their sudden sorrow.
