

Laugh at Sunburn

A few hours' exposure to the summer sun plays havoc with tender skins—for besides the pain, there's the unsightly peeling—off that follows.

But you can laugh at sunburn if you have a bottle of Penslar Almond and Cucumber Cream handy. This soothing, cooling lotion stops the smarting and stinging in a few moments.

Better yet—apply it to the exposed skin before going out and there is very little danger of getting sunburned.

You really ought to try this. It will convince you that this word "Penslar" stands for the highest quality in Toilet Preparations and Remedies.

STATE CONVENTION KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

HALIFAX, June 16.—The annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus was held here yesterday and was largely attended by delegates from all of the councils in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. Over 50 visiting delegates, many of whom are accompanied by their wives and children, are in town. The regular order of business occupied the attention of the convention until noon when there was an adjournment for luncheon. The session was resumed after luncheon and sat all afternoon until 6 o'clock.

The reports from the visiting delegates showed that the order was in a flourishing condition both financially and numerically. The individual council reports showed a great increase in membership throughout the Maritime Provinces, and there was every indication that the coming year would be even more successful than the one which has just been completed.

The following representative men were elected to the state office as follows:—Past State Deputy, George J. Lynch, Halifax; State Deputy, E. C. Hanrahan, Sydney; State Secretary, E. L. O'Brien, Bathurst; State Treasurer, P. S. Bradley, Charlottetown; State Warden, J. P. Gorman, Antigonish; State Advocate, Louis Connelly, Louisbourg; State Chaplain, His Lordship Bishop O'Leary, Charlottetown. Delegates to the supreme national convention at Seattle, Wash., George J. Lynch, Halifax; E. C. Hanrahan, Sydney.

An outstanding feature of the convention was a motion picture of a highly patriotic nature which through the courtesy of the chairman we are able to publish verbatim. The text of the resolution which was passed by an unanimous vote was as follows:—

Whereas, the Empire of which we are proud to be loyal subjects in engaged in a stupendous struggle for existence, a struggle unparalleled both for the ferocity with which it is waged and the inhuman treatment accorded to non-combatants and to the innocent.

And whereas the call to arms has been loyally answered by members of our order, in this jurisdiction, who feel that their citizenship demands that they enlist to serve their King and country.

Be it therefore resolved that we assembled in state council heartily approve of the actions of subordinate councils in paying all dues and assessments of said members for the duration of the war; and we further bespeak for the various patriotic and charitable funds the generous and cordial support of the order.

The ladies of the party enjoyed a trip to Mount Saint Vincent Academy yesterday afternoon.

TYPHUS IN AUSTRIA.
PARIS, June 16.—Three hundred and forty-two cases of typhus had been reported in Austria in the week ending June 5, according to a despatch received by the Temps from Berne, Switzerland.

HE WAS THIN

Weighted 135 Pounds, Now Weighs 160
A 25-Pound Increase.

"When I started taking Sargol my weight was only 135 pounds," writes H. E. Henninger. "Now my weight is 160 pounds and I am the picture of health and stronger than I ever was before. You may use my letter for any case it will help somebody in the same shape I was. Would not take $100 for the good it did me." "When I commenced taking Sargol I weighed 116 pounds. I have been taking it only 26 days and weigh 130 pounds," writes Miss Lillie Davis. "I gained 7 pounds in 10 days," states W. P. Thacker.

And so it goes. Some folks take little stock in testimonials because they say people are apt to take treatment for some disease and just imagine they feel better. But Sargol is not a treatment for any disease. It simply puts firm, healthy "stay there" fat and muscular tissue on men and women who are thin, run down and underweight. There is no guess work—no imagination about it. These people weigh themselves before they begin. They weigh themselves each week thereafter and the scales tell the story. Hundreds upon hundreds of Sargol users are constantly reporting increases in weight ranging all the way from ten to forty pounds.

Sargol is just a tiny tablet which you eat at meals. It mixes with your food and turns all the fats, sugars, starches and oils of your food into rich, ripe, flesh-producing nourishment for the tissues and blood. If you are underweight it is certain that the greater portion of the fat producing material in your food is going through your body as waste. You eat and eat but get no benefit. Sargol stops this wasteful, dangerous leakage of fats and the result is quickly noted as the hollows of the body fill out with healthy flesh.

You risk no loss in taking Sargol, as leading druggists everywhere sell it with a positive guarantee of increased weight as contained in every package. Absolutely harmless. Costs little if it succeeds and nothing if it fails. If you are ten pounds or more underweight you owe it to yourself to try it. Sold in Charlottetown and vicinity by leading druggists.

He received an urgent telegram yesterday from Halifax asking if the board of Directors here could release him for a month and as the local work is somewhat quiet at present the Board felt they ought to give him leave, owing to the urgency of the call from Sussex.

THE PEOPLE'S

A rare treat—the best in months—was the verdict of all in attendance at the People's Theatre last evening, and it is estimated to be the best feature of its kind that this popular theatre has yet shown on the World Film programme. "Wildfire" is not a western or Indian drama, it is a story of the race track world by George Broadhurst and Geo. V. Hobart, dramatised in five parts, and featuring one of the greatest actresses on the living stage, Lillian Russell, assisted by an able and all-star cast of artists, from the first of the story, when the stable owner is murdered in the West by the gambler Keefe, till his downfall in the East, holds one in breathless suspense.

A scene describing particular mention is the race in the last reel. "Wildfire" is being staged by the daughter of her former owner, but Keefe, alias Duffy, has bought the jockey, but did not count on Henrietta (Lillian Russell), and when he sees his plans are about to be frustrated he makes a desperate effort to carry them through, but Garrison, the Sheriff from the West, who has taken up his residence in the East comes to the rescue of Henrietta, and the villain Duffy is overpowered and comes to his just reward—and best of all "Wildfire" wins.

The other pictures on the program were interesting indeed, the Pathé News containing many views of interest throughout the world and particularly from the war zone. The above programme will be repeated again this evening at both shows for the last time, when doubtless a capacity house will greet this truly wonderful picture. An interesting announcement was made by the management last evening, namely, that they start showing "The Perils of Pauline," one of the greatest serials yet released.

ISLAND BOY DOING HOSPITAL WORK

The following letter was received by Mrs. Charles Lyons, Charlottetown, from her nephew, Mr. Fred Foley, now at the front in France:—

No. 2, Canadian General Hospital, France, 12, 5, 15.
My dear Aunt Nellie.—It is now quite late and we have had a busy time since 5 a.m. but I am anxious to get this letter off to you to-night because I know my weakness—procrastination—and goodness only knows when the "Spirk" will move me again. I don't write often, I know, but often think of you all just the same. One couldn't be on this job and not be mindful of home, and all the dear ones, believe me. There is hardly a week goes by but I write several letters for the poor fellows here to their mothers or sisters in all parts.

We are at last in France, and though not up to the front—as indeed I would like to be—yet quite near enough to see some awful sights. Really if I were to describe some to you, you would be surprised to think one could stand seeing and even working over such cases. But one gets used to it so that they are prepared for almost anything.

Our hospital is for 1,000 beds—all in tents—but last week we received instructions to increase our capacity to 1,500, which we are now doing. The patients arrive here by train, right from the front at all hours of day or night. They come in hundreds, and all hands are on deck once the bugle sounds. The poor fellows—some in simply an awful state—are carried into a big long tent where all particulars, such as name, number, next of kin, etc., are taken; from there, then to their wards, where they are fed, washed, (should say bathed and in many cases scrubbed) and put to bed. All their clothing is taken, fumigated, all linen washed, and in a few days they are sent back to England fairly clean. The evacuating to England is almost as big a job as the receiving—so much red tape. There is no doubt but that the poor fellows get the very best treatment: Why it would astonish you, or even a medical man, to see how well this hospital is equipped. We want for nothing. The food is mighty good. The patients all get stout, cigarettes, and the real sick even get chicken. I have had my turn at the patients' cook house as orderly sergeant, watching that everything is just right, and everybody is satisfied—some job, believe me.

The Red Cross people are all very good to us, too. We get all kinds of goods for the patients. Really, to go into our Red Cross tent is like going into Timothy Eaton's in Toronto.

By the way that reminds me—I saw a box of nice shirts opened here about two weeks ago, and there was another little card in it from your Red Cross at Charlottetown. I had intended writing the president, but you know how good I am at that business. However, they were very nice indeed and I can assure you fully appreciated.

We have a P. E. I. Captain here with us—Dr. McKay. There was another Dr. Vessey, from Little York. There are also I think, three sisters, as they are called here—Rodd, Sharpe and McLeod, the two latter from Summerside; a Sergeant Foley from P. E. Island, whom you know quite well, besides two privates, Johnson from Kensington, (his father is a minister and another chap from South Shore, also named Foley, Foley is a first class soldierly—a mighty good man, as you may expect, and is in charge of one of my wards.

They made me a corporal when we arrived here first, and ten days afterwards made me a sergeant. It is considered a great thing in the ranks, but believe me, I don't worry much over it. The only real good thing to it is we have a sergeant mess and I don't have to wash my dirty dishes. For a while after we arrived here they had me at everything, officer, corporal of guard, looking for spies at 2 o'clock a.m. who were signalling from our banks to boats off shore—the "Little Corporal" and four men and no gun. However, now I am in charge of a Surgical Section, with 150 patients, which with this new change will be increased to 200.

We are having the most beautiful weather now but at first it was awful—very nearly as bad as Salisbury Plains—of "blessed memory." The first few days we "roughed it"—one blanket, sleeping here, there and everywhere, and by George! it was cold. Fin and dandy now though; we want for nothing. Remember me to all my old friends. With best wishes,

believe me

FRED FOLEY.
