FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE

IS 82 AND IS WELL.

LONDON, December 4.—The report cabled to the United States that Florence Nightingale was near death was unfounded. Florence Nightingale is well.

She was born May 15, 1820, and is therefore in her 82nd year. Her work in the Crimea in 1854 will make her name remembered for ever.

HARD, RACKING COUGHS

Barring accidents, the person who get along with the least amount of cough will live the longest. Of course the right time to attack a cough is the commencement when it is a simple thing for the right treatment to drive the cough quickly away. As a general thing, however, people spend too much time experimenting with various remedies that the cough is well under way before they know it. Then comes the long siege. You feel the hard, racking all through your system, and get relief for nothing. You fill your stomach with nauseating mixtures to no purpose. Then you use compounds containing narcotic, which deceive temporarily and leave you slightly worse. Some coughs of this kind hang on for weeks, or even months, and, of course, they frequently develop into serious lung trouble. A true specific for all coughs is Jamson's Botanic Cough Balsam and should be kept in the house against any emergency With a cough that has become chronic the first effect of this remedy is a lessening of the dull sensation of pain which usually is felt with such a cough. Then you are conscious that the soreness is leaving you and presently the desire to cough grows less frequent. All this process is brought about by the healing properties of the Balsam. It is a compound of barks and gums. You can test it 25 cents at any druggist's. Get the genuine with "F. W. Kinsman & Co.'s blown in the bottle.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON X, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, DEC. 8.

Text of the Lesson. Ex. xi, 1-10—Memory Verses, 4-7—Golden Text, Isa. lxiii, 9—Commentary Prepared by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1901, by American Press Association.]

1. "And the Lord said unto Moses, Yet will I bring one plague more upon Pharaoh and upon Egypt. Afterwards he will let you go hence." The time had come to deliver Israel from Egypt according to His promise to Abraham (Gen. xv, 14). Moses and Aaron are sent first to the elders of Israel to show by the signs God had commanded that they are His accredited agents in Israel's deliverance. The people believed and worshiped when they heard that God was about to deliver them (iv, 29-31). Moses and Aaron are then sent to Pharaoh with the message from the Lord, "Israel is My son, My firstborn, and I say unto thee, let My son go that he may serve Me, and if thou refuse to let him go, behold, I will slay thy son, thy firstborn." Pharaoh's reply was, "I know not the Lord, neither will I let Israel go" (iv, 22, 23; v, 2). He ordered Moses and Aaron to go to work, and he greatly increased the tasks of Israel, so that they cried against Moses and Aaron, and Moses cried to the Lord, who then said, "Now shalt thou see what I will do to Pharaoh." And He repeated with great emphasis His assurance that He would now deliver Israel (vi, 1-8). Note especially the seven "I wills" of verses 6-8, beginning and ending with "I am the Lord." This "yet one plague" of our lesson was the only one of which God spake to Pharaoh (iv, 23), but He is so long suffering that He sends first nine others, if perchance Pharaoh will repent and prevent the necessity of this last terrible one. He sent blood, frogs, lice, flies, murrain, boils, hail, locusts and darkness (vii to x), but Pharaoh only hardened his heart (iv, 21; vii, 3, 13, 14, 22; viii, 15, 19, 32; ix, 7, 12, 34, 35; x, 1, 20, 27; xi, 10) until this last one had to come before he would let Israel go. He offered to let them go if they would not go far, but stay in the land. Then he offered to let the men go, but not the children. Then he offered to let old and young go, but not flocks and herds. But not till after this last plague was he willing to let all go, as the Lord demanded (viii, 25; x, 11, 24; xii, 31, 32). The whole record is suggestive of the way satan holds on to those whom the Lord would redeem, and also those whom He has redeemed, hindering them from full consecration to God. But if we would glorify God "not an hoof must be left behind" (x, 26). We must be wholly set apart for Himself (Ps. iv, 3; Titus ii, 14, R. V.).

2, 3. God had said to Abram that when his seed should leave their house of bondage they would come out with great substance (Gen. xv, 14). The word "borrow" in this passage, and also in iii, 21, 22; xii, 35, 36, should be "ask" or "demand" (see R. V.), for the Israelites had long served the Egyptians and had a right to some recompense. To borrow with no intention to return the thing borrowed is simply to steal, and God could not authorize that which He had forbidden or was about to forbid (xx, 15). God never tempts any one to sin (Jas. i, 13, 14), much less commands it.

4-7. "That ye may know how that the Lord doth put a difference between the Egyptians and Israel." The awful night drew nigh when, because of Pharaoh's sin, there was to be one dead, the firstborn, in all Egyptian homes from the palace of the king to the home of the humblest peasant. Cattle also were to suffer in like manner, but no obedient Israelite would suffer, and the difference would be manifest to all. It came to pass just as God said (xii, 29, 30), and Pharaoh and the Egyptians thrust Israel out (xii, 31-33). When the plagues preceding this one came upon the Egyptians, Israel suffered not (viii, 22; ix, 4, 26), and God said to Pharaoh, "I will put a redemption between my people and thy people" (viii, 23, margin). The great difference between people on earth in the sight of God is not wealth or poverty, education or ignorance, culture or the lack of it, but redemption.

8. After the plague of darkness and Pharaoh's heart was still further hardened he said to Moses: "Get thee from me. Take heed to thyself. See my face no more." And Moses replied: "Thou hast spoken well. I will see thy face again no more" (x, 28, 29). There comes a last time when mercy ceases to be gracious. The heart has become increasingly hardened, and it wants only its own way of death, and God gives it up, saying: "Because I have called and ye refused I will also laugh at your calamity. I will mock when your fear cometh" (Prov. i, 24-27). He had to say as Israel increased in sin that though Moses and Samuel or Noah, Daniel and Job stood before Him yet He could not hear them on behalf of Israel (Jer. xv, 1; Ezek. xiv, 14). Yet this does not conflict with the truth that "God is love," and He is not willing that any should perish (I John iv, 8, 16; II Pet. iii, 9).

9. The Lord knew that Pharaoh would not listen to Moses, though he was free to do so if he had chosen, and the Lord took occasion thus to multiply His wonders in Egypt, for He maketh the wrath of man to praise Him and restrains the remainder (Ps. lxxvi, 10). He would make Pharaoh to know that He was Jehovah in the midst of the earth and that there was none like Him in all the earth, and by his wonders upon Pharaoh and his people He would make His name to be declared throughout all the earth (viii, 22; ix, 14-16). By the obedience of His people and by His power on their behalf, also by His judgments upon His enemies, He makes His name known. His name was never so fully declared as in Christ (John xvii, 4, 26).

10. "And Moses and Aaron did all these wonders before Pharaoh"—that is, God did them through Moses and Aaron upon Pharaoh and his people. It is ever God who worketh, both in mercy to His own and in judgment upon His enemies, whatever instruments He may use. As His redeemed we must not see second causes, but only and always the one great first cause, even God Himself. As to the hardening of Pharaoh's heart, note carefully the passages quoted under verse 1 in this connection and observe that it is written that Pharaoh hardened his heart as well as that the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart. God commanded Pharaoh to let His people go, but knew the perversity of his heart, that he would not let them go till compelled to, though he might have done so if he had chosen. By his disobedience he hardened his heart still more. All that God did toward the hardening was to lay upon him a command which he saw fit to disobey.

CANADA AT PARIS.

An Echo of the Great Exposition of 1900.

Mr. J. G. Jardine, Canada's Commissioner Tells an Interesting Story of the Splendid Results Obtained by the Use of a Canadian Remedy.

TORONTO, Dec. 6.(Special).—The great World's Exposition held in Paris last year saw many visitors from all parts of the globe assembled in the gay French capital. Canada was well represented both as an exhibitor and as a visitor, many of our best people having attended.

The interests of the Dominion were looked after by a very capable and intelligent company of patriotic Canadians among whom one of the most conspicuous was Mr. J. G. Jardine, of 305 Crawford St. this city. Mr. Jardines duties as Commissioner entailed a vast amount of hard work which made great demands on his physical health and strength.

He is authority for the statement that he has found Dodd's Kidney Pills, that best known of Canadian medicines, invaluable as a tonic during these trying times. He says, "They relieve backache almost instantly and tone up the system generally as nothing else seems to do."

While in Paris Mr. Jardine introduced Dodd's Kidney Pills to Mr. Dupuis, the esteemed and popular Secretary to the Canadian Commission who, was feeling under the weather, with the very happiest results to that gentleman.

By healing and stimulating the kidneys Dodd's Kidney Pills prove absolutely the very best tonic known to medical science to-day and both Mr. Jardine and Mr. Dupius were greatly pleased to find that their own fair country, so distinguished in many other ways was throughe this great tonic remedy earning in Europe a glorious reputation in medical lines.

Very few Canadians are aware of the world wide reputation of Dodd's Kidney Pills and many who have been abroad seem surprised at being able to purchase their favorite medicine almost anywhere in the civilized world.
