Singing Color Fountain At World's Fair

One of the most unique attractions at the World's Fair at Chicago is the Firestone Singing Color Fountain, in the gardens surrounding the Firestone factory and exhibition building.

This gorgeous spectacle is the only one of its kind in the world. It presents in marvelous beauty a perfect harmony of music ever-changing color combinations and variations inthe rise and fall of the beautiful mystic fountain. This scientific enginering achievement is the result of years of work by some of the world's greatest electrical engineers and scientists.

This magnificent Singing Color Fountain is situated in front of the ultra-modern and attractive Firestone factory and exhibition building in the center of the spacious garden, surrounded by trees, shrubs and beautiful flowers. The great pool is 100 feet long and 15 feet wide, out of which rise the many dome-shaped mystic fountains, the powerful light rays of varying hues penetrating the misty water. This diamond-like spray shoots twenty feet in the air—all in tube with the music. The ever-changing shots of colors and the varying velocity of the water are in complete tune with the music that fills the air from immense radio loud speakers hidden within the walls of the building.

The Firestone factory and exhibition building is one of the main attractions of the World's Fair. The building contains a complete tire factory, showing every step in the manufacture of tires, and many unique and interesting dynamic displays of an educational nature.

In addition to this, Firestone has an exhibit in the great "Hall of Science" where one of the features will be a group of rubber trees from the million acre Firestone Rubber plantations in Liberia.

Will Discuss Lobster Exports

AMHERST, N. S., May 30—Lobster exporters of the Maritime district will meet here today with Dr. W. A. Found, deputy minister of fisheries, and D. H. Sutherland, supervisor of the eastern division to determine how export certificates under the new Franco-Canadian treaty shall be arranged and apportioned.

Under the treaty, if ratified by France, Canadian lobster packers will be given a quota of 3,000 quintals for export to France under the preferred tariff arrangements. Under French weight systems, this amounts to 660,000 pounds gross weight, or 9,300 standard 48-pound cases.

British House Considers Timber Import

LONDON, May 31.—(C.P. Cable)—Major D. J. Colville today told the House of Commons no licenses had been granted British firms to import timber from Russia since the proclamation of an embargo against most of that country's products early last month.

The House was discussing article 21 of the Canada-United Kingdom Ottawa Conference trade agreement, which calls for imposition of restrictions against imports from foreign countries which are sold at less than cost price.

LIFE

Only he who lives a life of his own can help the lives of other men.—Philliph Brooks.

Mary, The Crossing Sweeper

"Pitch" Business Is Generally Dying Out in England And Times Are Hard For Daughter Of Veteran Of Crimean War.

Crossing sweepers, once to be found in every London, (Eng.) street have almost disappeared. Modern tariffs is against their technique, mud is not of the same thickness and skirts are shorter than they were twenty years ago.

Here and there one may find a pitch, and one of the last regular sweepers is Mary, of Ladbroke grove.

She has carried on the business begun by her father, who was a veteran of the Crimea, and the takings go to support herself and her mother, who is nearly 90.

Penny An Hour

Mary laughs when she speaks of her takings.

"People used to retire on crossings they tell me," she said to a reporter.

"It is hard to keep going on it now. Saturday is my best day, and last Saturday I was here for over seven hours and took sevenpence ha'penny. On Sunday I made twopence."

Her mother who is not able to leave the one small basement room which is their home, is her chief support. They live on her old age pension.

"Five shilling goes for the rent" Mary explained "and if I can't make anything during the day we go without meals.

Flag Day Rivals.

"Mother often worries about me, wondering what I shall do when she's gone, but I suppose I shall manage somehow."

In Mary's opinion it is the flag day custom which has ruined crossing sweeping.

"They're always flagging for something, and if people give to them there is nothing left for us," is her point of view.

Yet she has two regular patrons both almost as poor as herself.

Paying Up Arrears

One woman gives her two halfpennies each Monday, and on Saturdays a man gives her sixpence. He is unemployed and lives with his brother, also unemployed, and his father too old to be employed.

If he is unable to give her the sixpence he owes it to her, and faithfully pays up arrears.

As Mary says, "He goes without himself in order to pay me."

But she can still smile at life. One of her humorous reminiscences is her one and only visit to the pictures.

Saw Movie Once

It was before the days of talkies, and the local M. P. of the time threw open a cinema in Portobello road to the poor.

"Mother and I went," says Mary, "and enjoyed ourselves. But we have never been since and never shall, of course."

Another bit of fun for her is when the strolling comedians with barrel-organs and dancing stunts come to the neighborhood.

"They always draw up opposite me," she said, "and I sit in the stalls and don't pay."

The stall is the upturned soap box which is her seat all the year round.

By her side is her badge of office, and although it is a draughty corner she does not catch cold.

"It's a healthy life," says Mary, with another chuckle.

"Wonderful how you can live on air and a cup of tea now and then to wash it down."

OFF COLOUR? HOW IS YOUR LIVER?

Wake up your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

Your liver's a very small organ, but it certainly can put your digestive and eliminative organs out of kilter, by refusing to pour out its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels

You won't completely correct such a condition by taking salts, oil, mineral water, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughage. When they've moved your bowels they're through—and you need a liver stimulant.

WIFE'S SUNBURNED BACK SLAPPED BY HUSBAND COURT GRANTS DIVORCE

CHICAGO, May 31—Back slappers take heed. Virginia K. Chabot 22, complained to Judge Joseph Sabath that every time she went to the beach to get a sun tan her husband Irving, would slap her sunburned back. The court ruled Saturday that this was cruel and gave her a divorce decree.

THINNING

As a general rule too little attention is paid to thinning. Nature is usually lavish and as a result far more seeds germinate than is necessary. But if all are allowed to grow the plants will be spindly and weak. In the case of flowers the first squall will topple them over and the blooms will always be small. With such vegetables as carrots and head lettuce for instance, growth will be slower and slow growing vegetables are invariably less tender than those that come along rapidly and unchecked. For well developed flowering plants allow at least half as much room each way as the plant will be tall when fully grown. This will encourage symmetrical side growth, stout stems which need little if any support and a plant capable of producing full sized and full colored bloom.

Unsolicited letter from Ford owner tells of low oil and gasoline consumption

Ford Motor Company
of Canada, Limited
East Windsor, Ontario

As you are aware, I recently exchanged my 1932 V-8 for a 1933 V-8 and thought you might be pleased to learn that my new car (the fourth Ford car I have owned) has more than met expectations.

It has always been a matter of peculiar interest to me to ascertain the mileage per gallon each of the cars I have owned gave, and it has been my practice to keep an accurate record.

Naturally, with the new 1933 V-8, with its larger body, longer wheelbase and increased horsepower over last year's model, I felt I could not expect to get as many miles per gallon. Imagine my satisfaction and surprise to find, by actual test, that I was able to secure an increased mileage per gallon of gas.

Having in mind the statements of representatives of other makes of cars, that the new 1933 V-8 would not give more than 12 or 15 miles to the gallon, I thought you might be interested in the record of my new car to date.

My new V-8 has covered 1594 miles and only 68 gallons of gasoline were put into the tank; a remarkable record, particularly as it was made in breaking in a new car with its extra idling, etc. This shows 23.44 miles to the gallon, and I know that for certain periods I was getting 26½ miles to the gallon. During this period I used 3 pints of oil.

You are at liberty to make use of this information in whole or in part, and I desire to state that this information has been entirely unsolicited by any member of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, and is given with but the single purpose of giving credit for performance so eminently satisfactory.

PROGRESS

True progress is the increase of the number of individuals who detach themselves from the inorganic mass of mankind, and develop their physical and moral qualities to the full extent of which they are capable under the conditions in which God has placed us.—Bayle St. John.

No one can be sure in advance where the climbing path of truth may lead. It threatens to go near to terrible precipices; it threatens to lose itself behind perpendicular rocks of doubt. The appeal is to the brave mind, regardless of self, to march on and climb, with sublime trust that truth leads surely to the heart of God.—Charles F. Dole.
