

Murphy-McCarthy Nuptials

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Holy Redeemer Church on Tuesday, Sept. 12th, when Marie Murphy, R. N., daughter of Mr. Peter Murphy, Morell, became the bride of Justin McCarthy, Morell, father of the bride's cousin of the bride officiating.

The bride was very becomingly attired in a dress of maise silk net over satin and carried a bouquet of roses and ferns. She was attended by her sister, Melinda who wore a blue taffeta silk dress with hat to match and carried a bouquet of carnations and ferns.

The groom was supported by his brother Michael of Boston. After the ceremony breakfast was served to the officiating clergy and the immediate relatives of the bride and groom at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Jos. Trainor, 76 Upper Queen Street.

The bride was entertained at several pre-nuptial showers and the many valuable and useful gifts she received attest to the high esteem in which she is held by her many friends.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful amethyst necklace with ear rings to match, to the bridesmaid a signet ring and to the groomsmen a set of gold cuff links.

The happy couple left by motor on an extended honeymoon trip to Portland, Boston and other American cities.

On their return they will reside in Morell where the groom is a prosperous farmer. Their many friends wish them a long and happy wedded life.

ADMITTED TO N. S. BAR—Mr. Robert T. Donald, Malpeque, was admitted to the Bar of Nova Scotia Tuesday morning on motion of Mr. W. C. MacDonald, President of the Nova Scotia Bar Association. The motion was made before Mr. Justice Hall in the Supreme Court Chambers, Halifax. Mr. Donald had a brilliant scholastic career at Prince of Wales College and at Dalhousie University, graduating from the latter institution a few years ago with great distinction.

VALUED APPRECIATION—While reading in the library some months ago, Mr. F. Baker, Hillsboro Street, noted in an illustrated paper, a picture of Sir Andrew McPhail. Noting the change that the experiences and cares of fifty years had made in his old time college mate, he made a pencil copy of the picture. Putting it in his desk he thought no more of it till learning that Sir Andrew had come to his old home. Then he sent the picture to him. A few weeks ago Mr. Baker received a letter of thanks and appreciation, enclosing a generous cheque.

VICTIMS OF ASSAULT—Mr. Henry Neal, City, and Mr. Alfred Stewart, Southport, were victims of an unprovoked assault at St. Mary's Road on Sunday night last. Having exhausted their supply of gas, they had left the car to walk to a gas station, and were attacked from behind by two men, and were badly beaten. Mr. Stewart's injuries were of such a nature that he has since been confined to his bed. On procuring the victims of the attack proceeded to Montague, but as the R. C. M. P. Constable, stationed there, was on duty elsewhere, they were obliged to come to Charlottetown before reporting the matter. The Mounted Police have the case under investigation.

COMEDY ENJOYED—The Kingston Players presented the three-act comedy drama "The Blue Bag," in Crapaud Hall last Saturday evening to a fairly large audience and the cast, although amateurs, acted their parts like professionals and from the time the curtain rose until it was drawn there was never a dull moment. Between the acts comic songs by Davis Ward, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Everett Holmes were (encored) and a reading by Miss Flossie Younker and the quartet by the choir with many discords and without discords, elicited great applause from the audience. Splendid music by the orchestra also between acts was furnished. Altogether this is a great play and worthy of a full house wherever it goes.—(Patriot please copy).

L. O. L. VISITATION—Thursday, Sept. 14, 1933, will go down as a red letter day in the history of Prince Arthur L. O. L., Crapaud, when the Lodge entertained at a luncheon the large number of guests from Rose Valley, Milton, Canoe Cove and DeSable Lodges. Bro. John Shaw, of Boston, who is at present visiting his old home at DeSable was also a welcome guest, he having been initiated into Prince Arthur L. O. L. over fifty years ago, shortly afterwards removing to the United States, the land of his adoption, where he has been honoured with the highest offices in the gift of the Loyal Orange Association and is now Past Grand Master of the state of Massachusetts and Past Supreme Grand Master of the United States. Complimentary remarks were made by several of the visitors on the nicely ordered Lodge room with its fixings, which goes to the credit of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association, who are untiring in their efforts to keep their meetings place nice and attractive.—(Patriot please copy).

Dancing Tuition

For some time there has been a distinct lack of opportunity for private instruction in dancing to the regret of parents and others. This is now to be remedied by the opening of classes by a distinguished graduate of the Margaret Eaton School, Toronto, in the person of Miss Vera Williams, who announces that classes will be formed for children and young people of from three years to seventeen, and for adults beyond that age. Apart from the ordinary dance instruction Miss Williams features characters in creative dances. Miss Williams is at present the guest of Mrs. (Dr.) J. P. Lantz, 8 Ambrose Street, while the classes will be conducted in the hall over the Canadian Bank of Commerce used by the B.I.S. Miss Williams will gladly supply information and details to inquirers. 1262.

CONSUMPTION OF STEEL ON INCREASE

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—The consumption of steel for industrial and construction purposes in Canada has been slowly increasing, Major General Sir Newton Moore, President of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, Limited, told the annual general meeting of its shareholders here today.

The meeting was routine. Directors were re-elected, and the report and statements were approved. A meeting of the bondholders, held after the annual meeting, to deal with modifications of the trust deed with respect to interest and sinking fund payments, was adjourned until November, for lack of a quorum. It was explained that as the banks are interested in the proposed changes, and are also holders of large amounts of the bonds, they had refrained from voting. At the next meeting, the bonds represented will be empowered to deal with the changes.

Primitive Agriculture In Kingdom of Iraq

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 20.—In the kingdom of Iraq, much in the public eye lately on account of the reputed attack on native Assyrians and the death of its king, Feisal, agriculture is in a very primitive state, states the Agriculture Department of the Canadian National Railways. Plowing is still done by a piece of wood with a sharpened point. Tractor plowing is being used to some extent but development in this is handicapped by want of knowledge of mechanics. The staple winter crops are wheat and barley, and, in summer, cotton, maize, sorghum and rice. It is also one of the chief date producing countries of the world and the date is the staple export crop. It is here in Mesopotamia that the history of mankind was laid in Biblical lore and then, as now, the country is entirely dependent upon irrigation. All through the days of ancient history the system of irrigation canals which had been built up from ancient times remained entirely intact until devastated by the Mongrels some five or six hundred years ago. Following the Great War, pumps have come into use for the lifting of water and at present about one million acres of land are irrigated in this way. The great oases of Iraq should prove a great stimulus to this form of irrigation on account of cheap fuel. Iraq for some time after the war was a mandatory possession of Great Britain and she still exercises a certain amount of control over the area.

POWERS NEAR

the French plan with Allan Dulles, an associate, and Hugh R. Wilson, United States Minister to Switzerland. It was uncertain whether he would see Joseph Paul-Boncour, French Foreign Minister, again before going to Geneva for the resumption of the Disarmament Conference next month.

Meanwhile, a closer understanding between the French and Italian viewpoints on arms was said to have resulted from conferences between M. Paul-Boncour and the Italian Ambassador.

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer. LONDON, Sept. 20.—(C.P. Cable)—Broadly outlined, the aims of the British Government on the disarmament question are understood to be the application of the principle of armament limitations to all nations and the avoidance of new competition in armaments.

Need For Reduction

Questions of arms supervision and control are regarded as of lesser importance than the necessity for an early agreement on actual reduction. It is the need for this reduction the government is pressing in its negotiations with France. Differences between the British and French governments on such questions as supervision and control are not regarded in British circles as likely to prevent the conclusion of a disarmament convention. France is reported to be skeptical of any agreement that does not provide for definite supervision at stated intervals. The British attitude is that investigations should not be undertaken unless one of the contracting parties complains of an infraction of the pact's provisions.

(Special to the Guardian) MONTREAL, September 20—Residents of Eastern Canada again have the opportunity of travelling by Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways to Western Canada on the cent a mile basis during the ten day period September 20th to 30th inclusive.

Tickets for these excursions from the East are good to all points in Canada, Port Arthur and west. They will bear a return limit of thirty days, with stop over privileges at all points beyond Port Arthur and also permit of tourist sleeping car occupancy on payment of a small additional amount.

In order to accommodate relatives and friends who may wish to travel, the railways also have an arrangement whereby anyone desiring to prepay the railway fare of another may do so at any railway ticket office, and such ticket will be delivered by the railway direct to the person designated. According to the latest information received by the passenger departments of the two railways, these autumn excursions promise to be well patronized, many wishing to take advantage of the fall season for travel to the west.

TRADING DULL IN WINNIPEG WHEAT MARKET

(Canadian Press) WINNIPEG, Sept. 20.—A last-minute reaction in Chicago coupled with increased hedging sales and a general lack of support here, sent wheat futures prices downward on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today to close 1/4 to 1/2 cents under the previous finish.

The increased selling swept trading out of the doldrums and the close was quite active. October option wound up at 68 1/2 cents, December at 70 1/2, and May at 75 1/2 cents. All deliveries were only fractionally removed from the low points at the finish.

Trading opened quietly and for most of the morning operations were rather dull, with traders awaiting some new development. Export sales were estimated at 250,000 bushels and buying for this purpose had little effect on prices.

A little selling for southern interests and scattered hedging constituted most of the pressure and values held at levels near the previous close nearly all day. Some investment buying, coupled with a few purchases early in the day against the small export movement, supported prices at the start.

Demand for cash grains was only moderate, with spreads of No. 1 hard 1/2 cent easier. All coarse grains tended easier with the exception of barley which firmed fractionally due to expectations of fair buying by United States interests in the near future.

(Continued from Page 1) Valley shippers two water routes to Europe, either north or south by barge to the terminals of deep water shipping at New Orleans or at the projected inland seaports on the Great Lakes. There transfer could be made to ocean-going vessels.

Also, waterways men pointed out, it would give a continuous safe inland water route from the Gulf of Mexico across the north-south span of the country to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, with the Atlantic at either end.

"The St. Lawrence," said Colonel Randolph after the White House Conference, "ties in as part of the connected system from the Gulf of Mexico to the St. Lawrence and also as part of an intercoastal system of waterways."

Both Walsh and Randolph left the White House Conference, they said, assured that the President would press for Senate ratification of the St. Lawrence Treaty at the coming session of Congress.

Returning Confidence Improves Travel

MONTREAL, Que. Sept. 20.—Returning confidence on the part of the people led to improvement in the tourist traffic in Canada after the opening month of the season with the result that August travel was very heavy on the Canadian National System and there is yet a prospect of heavy traffic to and from Chicago in connection with the Century of Progress Exposition being held there, it was stated by C. W. Johnston, General Passenger Traffic Manager of the Canadian National Railways.

Excursions from the Prairie Provinces to the Pacific Coast during the early season and also at later dates helped considerably in swelling the movement of holiday-seeking Canadians. Exhibitions both in Eastern and Western Canada reported attendances increased over those of other years.

The holding of the World's Grain Exhibition at Regina attracted many people in the Prairie Provinces while in other parts of the Dominion the low-rate excursions arranged by the railways attracted many passengers and helped to improve earnings. The prevalence of hot weather during the time the World's Fair has been in progress at Chicago has caused many people to defer their visits and it is anticipated that during the balance of September and October several thousands from Eastern Canada and the Eastern United States will take advantage of the opportunity to visit Chicago and the Fair.

The movement of sportsmen, both fishermen and hunters, into Canada this year, promises to be well up to expectations. During the fishing season several important parties have come into Canada from the United States for fishing outings at points along the Canadian National lines in Eastern Canada and in Jasper National Park. With the opening of moose hunting in Quebec and Ontario several parties are due to pass through Montreal en route to the north woods.

It was stated by C. K. Howard, Manager of the Tourist and Convention Bureau, while several important parties are now out in the mountains adjacent to Jasper National Park. While the moose and deer season in Nova Scotia does not open until October 10th and in New Brunswick until October 20th, a considerable number of enquiries have been received from sportsmen. Large flocks of geese, brant and duck have been reported in all three Maritime Provinces, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, and there should be some good bags available to hunters. The season opened on Prince Edward Island on September 1st while in Nova Scotia the duck season opened September 15th and for geese and brant it will open October 1st, except in Shelburne and Queens Counties where it opens November 1st. The season for duck, geese and brant in New Brunswick opened September 15th except in the Grand Manan Island group which commences October 15th.

DOES NOT NECESSARILY LOSE STATUS

Canadian Woman May Remain British Subject Despite Marriage to U. S. Citizen.

(Canadian Press) OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—Statements to have been made at the British Commonwealth Conference in Toronto are incorrect, Hon. C. H. Cahoon, Secretary of State, said today. Mr. Cahoon referred to a Canadian Press despatch from Toronto which stated that a Canadian woman, when she marries a citizen of the United States, loses her status as British subject and does not thereby acquire American citizenship. Mr. Cahoon said that an Act of the Canadian Parliament, which came into force by proclamation on January 15, 1932, a Canadian woman, in case of such a marriage may within six months from the date of her marriage, or in special circumstances with the consent of the Secretary of State within any longer period than six months, make and file with the Secretary of State a declaration that she desires to acquire British nationality, and upon so doing she is deemed to be a British subject.

Address And Presentation

On last Monday evening, Sept. 18, the members of St. Peter's Whist Club repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Hanley where they might spend one more and last social evening with their daughter, Miss Sadie, who on next Saturday enters Mount St. Mary's, the Motherhouse of the Sisters of St. Martha of this Diocese.

Besides the members of the Club many other friends and relatives were present among whom was Rev. Emmet O'Hanley of St. Dunstan's Basilica, brother of Miss O'Hanley. Father O'Hanley, it will be remembered, was ordained to the Holy Priesthood at St. Peter's a little more than one year ago.

Miss O'Hanley has always enjoyed an enviable popularity among the young people of St. Peter's and her departure from their midst will be felt by all as a great loss to the community. Her good-natured disposition, unassuming ways and pleasing personality have always commanded the admiration of all who knew her. Her many friends, though regretting that she is leaving, are congratulating her on her high and noble aspirations, and are wishing her the best of good health, and a long and happy life that will be filled with such heavenly benedictions as are known only in the life of a religious.

During the course of the evening's entertainment, Miss O'Hanley addressed the recipient of a beautiful address read by Miss Mary MacKinnon and a purse presented by Miss Marion McIsaac. The address was as follows: St. Peter's, P. E. I. Sept. 18th, 1933.

Dear Hilda: The pleasure of having you with us this evening is deeply tinged with regret, since the occasion bears the "signet" of a farewell and a long while may elapse before the present company will have the joy of having you in its midst again; but our sadness at parting with you is borne up by the consoling knowledge that your future life and talents are to be dedicated to the highest of all service.

Yet we could not allow you to leave, dear Hilda, without giving expression, even though feebly, our sincere feelings of love for your person and appreciation of your generous bestowal of time and energy towards any community work. You will long be missed as one who was an ever ready and cheerful member of our little club. Will you kindly accept from us, this little gift, not for its small worth, but as a symbol of our affection; regard and as a pledge of our undying remembrance of you. When our ways of life shall be so far apart, may we humbly ask you to cherish us in your memory as true friends who appreciated to the full the pleasure of working and playing with you in the happy past.
