URGE CANAL TOLLS FOR FOREIGN SHIPPS

Efforts Will be Made to Have Foreign Ships Engaged in Lake Traffic Liable to Pay Canal Fees.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 18.—Word comes to Ottawa that another effort will be made at the coming session of the Dominion parliament to have a toll levied on foreign ships using Canadian canals. This would not however include ships of the United States. The effort will be made by shipping interests in Canada carrying freight on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence river and will be aimed chiefly at Norwegian and Danish ships, a number of which ply on the Great Lakes every summer.

While the 1928 figures are not yet available it is stated in 1927 there were 15 Norse and Danish ships operating along the lakes and that they made 85 trips between various lake ports. By loading in Canada and unloading in the United States or vice versa they did not contravene the coasting laws. It is thought the ships and trips increased this year.

The argument which will be advanced by marine interests is that Norway and Denmark do nothing to reciprocate. Canada built the canals at great expense and the steamship companies pay their share in general taxes for upkeep and operation of the canals, and also have to pay income taxes, all of which the foreign boats escape. Under these advantages, it is claimed, the boats of the probability of the deep waterway project being carried out. Then Canada would be anxious that ships of all nations should come to the lake ports and with that in view it is doubtful whether it would be wise to discourage them now by imposing canal tolls, as one official pointed out.

In 1927 196 boats of all nationalities came from the sea up through the lakes. Ninety-two of them brought pulpwood from Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and gulf ports to Ogdenburg, Oswego and Cornwall; 57 brought scrap iron from New York to Detroit; 14 brought steel and iron from Sydney to the Head of the Lakes; 10 brought general cargoes from the United Kingdom to Cardinal, Ogdenburg and Toronto. The remainder carried cargoes from various parts of the world. In 1926 the ships coming up from the sea numbered 131.

THE MARKETS

(Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 19.—There was no improvement in the foreign demand for grain here today and little new business was done by local exporters. The domestic market for low grades of wheat was stronger on account of the advance in spreads in Winnipeg and local dealers marked up prices 1-2c per bushel with sales of Manitoba No. 6 wheat in carlots at 98 1-2c and feed wheat at 94c per bushel, ex store.

In other lines of grain there was no actual change and the market on the whole was quiet.

The demand being only for odd cars to meet immediate wants there was no actual change in the condition of the local flour situation, business generally being rather quiet but prices for spring and winter wheat grades were well maintained. The trade in all lines of millfeed was fair and prices were steady. A fair trade was done in rolled oats and prices were firm.

A moderate trade was done in fresh and storage eggs, but prices were inclined to be easier. Receipts were 1,637 cases. There was no change in the potato situation, P.E. I. whites were offering at 75c and P. E. I. Green Mountains at 83c per 90 lbs. in bags, while New Brunswick Green Mountains were offering at 60c per 90 lbs. in bulk. There was no new feature to note.

The market for beans and peas prices were holding firm under a steady demand with supplies none too large owing to the current scarcity. There were no imported beans offering. Canadian beans were selling wholesale at 85.25 per bushel and choice boiling peas were 83.50 per bushel.

The trade in butter was reported rather strong with the result that a firmer feeling prevailed in the market for broken lots and a 1-4c per pound more realized in some instances. Receipts were 41 packages. There was no change in the condition of the cheese trade owing to the fact that English importers show little interest in the market and the demand for domestic accounts also continues of a limited character but as the offerings in

DISPOSAL OF DAIRY CATTLE

Sir,—In a letter signed by W. R. Shaw, Live Stock Supt., he laments about the sale of milch cows at an undervalue price, and states the Department of Agriculture of P.E.I. has realized this fact and have advised against the wholesale disposal of cattle. Will Mr. Shaw please give particulars of the Department of Welfare of the farmers in this respect, as I know of cows and oxen three years old and over, having been sold at $40 a head, and the sellers were ignorant of the greater value. Surely our Department of Agriculture will not expect the people to accept without question Mr. Shaw's statements, as his letter was the first indication of them sending out information to the public.

Think of $40 for 3 year old oxen and 6 year old cows. When Mr. Shaw speaks of that figure for calves three to seven months old.

To my mind the Department of Agriculture is in a moribund state, and they would be happy to have the public swallow letters such as above referred to, more anon re Danish farm help which the Department made apologies about in the Patriot re Mr. Solaber's comment.

he turned up the little lane towards Gad's Hill.

CERTAIN breeds of dogs are quite capable of expressing facially not only a smile, but a laugh. (Don't laugh!) Even the sedate Newfoundland has been known to smile. It was at Ostend, fashionable Belgian bathing beach, that a Newfoundland lost patience with the importunities of a Pekinese, all clad in resplendent coat, with crest, and pocket-handkerchief (vouches Captain A. H. Trapman in "Man's Best Friend: The story of the Dog.")

THE Newfoundland picked the Pekinese up and ran into the sea with it and dropped it just in the line of the breaking surf. The little fellow was quite unable to battle with what to him were overpowering waves, and was in obvious danger of being drowned.

AFTER watching its ineffectual struggles for half a minute or so the Newfoundland relented—big people have usually the tenderer hearts—and rescued the little dandy, dropping him safe but frightened on the beach. Then he strolled away contentedly smiling to himself.

Hundreds of people witnessed the scene which was reported in the newspapers next day.

AFTER a life time of tramping and listening to the birds, John Burroughs, the great naturalist, took up automobiling, his friend Henry Ford, having made him a present of a car. Uncle John learned to drive in the Catskills, above all places, and at the age of eighty-one he motored himself from Woodstock Inn, at Roxbury to the Hamlin Garlands summer camp at Ontonagon—a two hours' drive.

AS a special celebration of the occasion, Mr. Garland made some of his famous coffee and Uncle John took a swig at it, although his doctors had forbidden any stimulant (Hamlin Garland tells the story in "Back Trailers from the Middle Border"), and then—just to show what a little good drink will do for a man of eighty-one, he leaped into the air and cracked his heels together twice.

ONE of the Justices of Appeal in Ireland some years ago—Judge Charles Barry—would insist on going to "The Dolphin" for lunch and taking an unconscionable time to come back. His two colleagues, Ashbourne and Fitzgibbon, sought to shame him into punctuality by coming out on the bench and waiting there for him. He did not mind.

ONE DAY after a long delay (re-lates Sergeant A. M. Sullivan in "Old Ireland: Reminiscences of an Irish K. C.") Ashbourne broke silence:

"While we are waiting for our brother Barry, Mr. Price, don't you think you might go one with the relevant portions of your argument?"

"Certainly," was the reply.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL
(By Rev. W. Scott Galbraith)
Awake my soul and greet the morn.
For unto us a Child is born;
Yea, God has come in human frame
To save the world from sin and shame.

Ye angels, swell your notes of song
Till echoes ring both loud and long,
And lead us to the holy Child,
The lowly Jesus undefiled.

With Judah's shepherds let us tread
To reach the Saviour's stable bed,
And there to Him our homage show
With love that makes the spirit glow.

O, Mary, blest of womankind,
What thoughts arise within thy mind!
Thou hast been called by God alone
To bear His own begotten Son.

Let all proclaim His birth and sing:
"Glory to God our gracious King;
Goodwill to men and henceforth peace,"
With rapture that shall never cease.

Come all ye lands and truly prove,
The wonder of the Saviour's love;
And like the holy men of yore
Praise God the Lord forevermore.

A CHRISTMAS WISH FOR YOU
(By Charles Bruce in The Chatelaine)

Stars in the dusk; and bells across
The night;
Dim hills against the sky; the
faery foam
Of frost on glimmering windows in the light
Of hearthfires, flickering on the walls of home;
The cry of dreams in quiet hours
apart;
And more than these—friends, and a laughing heart.
