CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN.

FRIDAY, MARCH 24 1905.

THE OLD MEN'S INNINGS;

Prof. Osler's alleged opinion that few men accomplish anything after they are 40 years of age and that all above 60 years ought to be chloroformed (the latter statement is squarely denied by him in the New York Times) is evidently not shared by the Russian Government which has just now placed General Linevitch in his 60th year in charge of the Russian armies in Manchuria. Nor are they shared by the Japanese Government whose leading generals, who have fought their way from the Yalu River to the Amoor are all above fifty years and one of them above 60. The German Government thirty-five years ago was also of a different opinion when it placed Field Marshal Moltke in command of its armies at the age of 71. He and the somewhat venerable Japanese commanders abundantly justified the choice by conducting campaigns unexampled in history.

Field Marshal Blucher was 73 years old when he came to the assistance of Wellington at Waterloo. Marlborough was 54 to 59 when he won the battles of Blenheim, Ramillies, Oudenarde and Malplaquet. Lord Raglan was 68 when he fought at Alma and before Sebastopol. Lord Cardigan was 58 when he led the famous charge of Balaklava. Lord Roberts was 70 years of age when he came to the rescue of the younger commanders in South Africa and turned the fortunes of the war in Britain's favor. Similar instances of vigorous and successful commanders in the sixties and seventies of life might be recorded by scores. Were we to turn to statesmanship and letters the names of Palmerston, Gladstone and Salisbury would at once be recalled as British Premiers who led the Empire's Government when they were beyond the allotted three score years and ten, and one of them beyond 80. In our own Dominion Sir John Macdonald was Premier of Canada at 75; Sir Mackenzie Bowell held the same position at 73 and Sir Charles Tupper at 75.

A modish evening gown of Pomour silk, in tones of lavender, and white chiffon over white silk. Heavy spangled embroidery borders the front edges of the broadened overskirt and white ribbon ruching edges the bertha and sleeve ruffles.

It is pleasant to read that immigrants are coming to Canada this year from the United States and Europe in largely increasing numbers. It is not so pleasant to reflect that none of them are coming to Prince Edward Island, and that owing to our winter isolation the exodus of our own people this spring is likely to be greater than ever before. We want the tunnel!

The Toronto Globe says that "Admiral Topogawa, a member of the Presbyterian Church and Vice-Admiral Uru is a Presbyterian elder. Field Marshal Oyama is an adherent of the Church and generous in its support, while his wife, a Vassar graduate, is a devout Christian worker. General Kuroki and General Oku are both members in full communion with the Presbyterian Church, as are others of Japan's leaders in the present struggle."—Onward Christian Soldiers!

FENCE WIRE SHOULD NOT BE TAXED.

The Dominion Government did a good thing for the farmers of Canada when it placed certain grades of fence wire on the free list a few years ago. Since then galvanized smooth wire Nos. 9, 12 and 15, which are most used in farm fencing, has been kept down in price to a place which enabled thousands of farmers to replace old unsightly, wasteful, wooden fences with neat, new wire structures, thereby improving their own property and enhancing the value of the surrounding neighborhood. Now it transpires that pressure is being brought to bear upon the Government to go back to the old order of things by imposing a customs duty on these grades of wire. That such a change would work injury to the farming community admits of no argument. At present, practically none of the grades of wire on the free list are manufactured in Canada, so that any duty that would be put on the wire would prove an equal tax upon the consumer—the farmer. A tariff of say 25 per cent. would undoubtedly enhance the cost of fencing fully ten to fifteen cents per rod. This would mean that the owner of a medium-sized farm would have to bear an extra tax of fully $150 to fence his farm. Were fencing an unimportant matter there would be no reason for alarm, but with the passing of the old fences, and the increasing attention to stock raising, new fencing is an absolute necessity.

In the older parts of the Dominion the improvement of farm buildings and the construction of new fences have been making very rapid strides during the past few years, and it would prove a very unfortunate matter if a check were given to this much-needed advance by the imposition of a tax that could work no benefit to the farmer and at the same time hamper the Canadian manufacturers of fencing who use wire as a raw material. Rather than hamper farm improvement, and demoralize an industry important to agriculture, by placing wire which is now admitted free of duty on the dutiable list, it would be much better to wipe out the present tariff of 20 per cent. on Nos. 7 and 11, which would enable farmers to get a stronger style of fence without increasing the cost.
