Conjecture which has been surrounding the activities of the coming City Hockey league will probably be all cleared up when representatives of the teams that will take part meet at the Queen Charlotte to draw up the plans for the schedule.

• • •

A large number of hockey followers were more or less disappointed when nothing definite came out of the meeting held in connection with the league on Tuesday night last but officials explained that it was more or less of a general discussion that took place with the laying of the groundwork being left until tonight.

• • •

But that the league will be in operation is a certainty. That was stated yesterday by Sam Doyle. Just how many teams will compose it is not known as yet but it will likely be five or six squads at least, depending on just what plans are drawn up this evening.

• • •

It is the intention of the league officials, and it is expected a new slate of officers will be appointed for the coming campaign, to give fans a league that will be composed of the most evenly matched squads that can be banded together.

• • •

By taking this attitude local fans are certain of witnessing a close, evenly fought schedule from beginning to end and with such type of a league in operation it is bound to prove a drawing card and that is just what is wanted. Last year the league enjoyed a measure of success far beyond expectations and it is the intention of those heading it to make the coming one even better.

• • •

It also appears evident that the league will not witness a city team in senior entries coming from the services together with St. Dunstan's and Prince of Wales.

• • •

And it is interesting to note that in regards to the two college quads there is a possibility of them operating as a combined unit. Of course this is still in the questionable stage as yet. It appears to be a good idea from here as both have lost key players through graduation last spring and if they do decide to combine might be able to ice a team that would be right in the thick of things for league honors.

• • •

It is definitely known that Prince of Wales are in favor of the idea as a meeting of the student body yesterday voted in the affirmative for such a move. Result of the meeting at St. Dunstan's hasn't been learned but it is expected that this matter will be fully decided upon at tonight's meeting.

• • •

With regard to the City team it appears to be a matter of getting a sponsor for the squad that is holding up their plans for the season. As yet no one has come forward to back them and it looks as if they won't be in the league. Players themselves are anxious to get back into harness but they too have practically given up the idea of being able to get into the league.

• • •

Queen Square School football team despite their 15-0 setback on Wednesday will again tackle the second Prince of Wales squad in an exhibition game at the Park gridiron this afternoon and the kids from the School are quietly confident that they can give the Collegians a much stiffer battle in their second outing against them.

• • •

Mt. Allison Academy team, a squad that had their line crossed only once this year and that by Prince of Wales, invade the City tonight for their second exhibition game against the P.W.C. team that is scheduled for the Park diamond Saturday afternoon, Remembrance Day.

• • •

Big, fast and capable the visiting Mounties are out for revenge for being held to a draw by the local fifteen but P.W.C. certain they are every bit as good as the Sackville boys will also be out to wrest a victory from them and the encounter should turn out to be a close-knit, hard-fought affair from whistle to whistle.

• • •

Petey Scalzo and Bob Montgomery battled viciously for five rounds in Philadelphia on the night of Oct. 25 last year.

• • •

Scalzo came out with a do-or-die expression when the bell clanged for the sixth. Montgomery met his rushes with left jabs that had plenty of steam behind them. Bob held the title and was scheduled to defend it in a return match with Beau Jack on Nov. 19. A victory for Scalzo would give him the match.

• • •

A right caught Montgomery high on the head, made him wobble, but as the howling crowd rose to its feet, Bob cut loose with a flurry of blows, then suddenly swayed away from a terrific left and crossed his right to the point of the jaw. Petey stiffened, fell.

• • •

The cheering crowd suddenly hushed, then broke loose with a tremendous roar as the referee counted 10. Bob Montgomery was the winner and still champion.

Canadiens Whip Black Hawks By 9-2 Score

MONTREAL, Nov. 9 — (CP) — Montreal Canadiens found their scoring eyes tonight as they whipped the Chicago Black Hawks 9-2 before a 11,275 crowd to keep on the heels of the undefeated Toronto Maple Leafs.

The powerful Lach-Blake-Richard combination was the spearhead of the Canuck attack, accounting for two thirds of the Canadiens goals.

Maurice Richard led the parade with three goals and two assists. Elmer Lach scored twice and had four assists, while Toe Blake bagged a single counter and helped on five others.

Harold Fraser and Russell Brayshaw were the pick of the Hawks, with Fraser bagging both their goals and Brayshaw making the play each time.

The Hawks made a fight of it in the first half of the game, coming from behind twice when Canadiens had gone ahead. But they had just tied it up for the second time when Richard slapped home the third Canadien goal mid-way through the second, and the game was all Montreal's after that. Lach added another to make it 4-2 before the period was out, and Canadiens ran wild with five goals without a reply in the third.

The loss left Hawks just ahead of the lowly Rangers, with one win and three losses in four games to date.

Maple Leafs Defeat N. Y. Rangers 6-3

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—(CP)—New York's national hockey league opener for the 1944-45 season didn't produce anything new tonight as the Toronto Maple Leafs walloped the New York Rangers 6-3 for their fifth successive victory and New York's fourth straight defeat. The game looked about like one of last year's contests to 15,234 fans.

The Rangers, thoroughly overhauled since last spring, still failed to show the kind of hockey that would make them play-off contenders but their efforts were pleasing to the customers most of the time. They came from behind once in the first period to tie the score and rallied again in the final frame to reduce Toronto's overwhelming lead.

The real damage was done, however, in the last four minutes of the first period and in the second when Windy O'Neil, Lorne Carr, Bob Davidson and Sweeney Schriner rallied home four straight Toronto goals. The rest of the way the Rangers' best efforts were about equal to Toronto's ordinary pace and the home team ran into the fault of pressing when it tried to reduce the Leaf lead.

Reg Hamilton and Babe Pratt were the other two Leaf scorers and Bob Dill, Hank Goldup and Fred Thurier made the three Ranger tallies.

BOMBSHELLER

Rep. Walter H. Judd, Jr., above Minnesota Republican who recently returned from Chungking tossed something of a bombshell into the Gen. Stilwell stew by charging that the general's recall was precipitated by a White House demand that he be given supreme command in China, even over Chiang Kaishek himself. Rep. Judd said that upon receiving ultimatum the Generalissimo "blew up."

New Zealand Commissioner Visits Island

Warm appreciation of the government and people of New Zealand and of the splendid hospitality and courtesy shown by Canadians to New Zealanders training in Canada since the outbreak of the war was expressed to a Guardian representative last night by the Hon. David Wilson, High Commissioner for New Zealand to Canada. Hon. Mr. Wilson arrived here last evening accompanied by Group Capt. W. White, Sqd.-Leader J. Madill, and Mr. L. Middlemass, secretary to the High Commissioner. He will visit New Zealand airmen at the Charlottetown and Summerside stations, and will also make courtesy calls today upon the Lieutenant Governor, the acting Premier and the Mayor.

"I was very much impressed with the spirit of hospitality towards our men in training which has been shown right across Canada", Mr. Wilson said. "It is greatly appreciated by us here, and also by the government and people at home.

"This is the first visit I have made to the Maritime Provinces, and I have been very much impressed with the fine appearance of the countryside, which reminds me of parts of New Zealand and also of Devonshire, England. I hope to have the opportunity of revisiting Prince Edward Island during the summer season, when I understand it is unsurpassed for its beauty."

Mr. Wilson took over his duties as High Commissioner at Ottawa on April 22 last. He left on June 7 for New Zealand, returning again on Oct. 12. His present visit is a continuation of a Canada-wide tour which he started last May, visiting all the Commonwealth Air Training schools where New Zealanders were in training.

"Anne Of Green Gables" Presented In Heartz Hall

"Anne of Green Gables" — a three act comedy presented by Trinity Young People's Union under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Houle, C. D. A. attracted many times the seating capacity of Heartz Memorial hall last evening to see the first presentation of this popular play on Prince Edward Island.

The beloved story of "Anne Shirley" was delightfully portrayed by Miss Connie Martin; Marilla and Matthew Cuthbert, her Guardians, being vividly characterized by Miss Dorothy Allen and Peter MacDonald.

The other characters were played as follows:

Before the play, musical selections were enjoyed, the music being provided by Miss Marion Puncher, Violinist, Mrs. Angus MacEachern, Pianist, and Leonard Jordan with the accordian.

Between the first and second acts of the play a chorus of young ladies of the Y. P. U. dressed in colorful evening frocks with dainty chapeaux, sang "When its Summertime at Green Gables." The song was composed by Mr. Clarence Charters, who was present in the audience. The members of the Chorus were:
