Warner Baxter In "Robin Hood Of El Dorado" At Prince Edward

Lifted bodily from the most romantic era of America's frontier history, "Robin Hood of El Dorado," starring Warner Baxter, came to the screen of the Prince Edward yesterday to take its place among the truly magnificent achievements of the talking screen.

It is an outdoor epic reminiscent of "The Covered Wagon," "The Big Trail" and other spectacular photographs which stand as milestones of motion picture progress.

Painted with spectacular strokes on a tremendous canvas, it still finds opportunity to deal with the heart-aches, the romances, the joys and the sorrows of an absorbing character—the historic Joaquin Murietta who left his name written large in the early history of the Far West.

Warner Baxter turns in the greatest characterization of his career as the dashing good-bad man who rode like an avenging angel through the roving gold towns of California in the days of '49, leading a wild outlaw army of 400 men. It is a role that blends romance with fierceness, tenderness with hate, and to it Baxter adds a delightful charm that is certain to captivate feminine hearts.

In the supporting cast are several players who contribute outstanding performances—Ann Loring, a new comer who demonstrates a dramatic depth that seems to destine her for the heights; Margie, the Spanish dancing beauty who has become a splendid dramatic actress; Bruce Cabot, J. Carroll Nash, Eric Linden, Edgar Kennedy, Charles Truena, Harvey Stephens and many others.

Jack Holt In "Dangerous Waters" At The Capitol

A swiftly paced thrilling adventure picture, made exciting by scenes of fire and mutiny at sea, is the cinema offering, "Dangerous Waters," the drama which opened an engagement at the Capitol Theatre yesterday.

Jack Holt is the star of this interesting screen play and in his character as a sea captain he gives an entertaining performance. He is a forceful figure when quelling an uprising of the engine room gang during the fire sequences. But in the hands of his faithless bride he is helpless, his great love making it impossible for him to realize what is going on behind his back. This part is magnificently played by attractive, red-haired Grace Bradley, one of the screen's most seductive sirens.

The object of her blandishments is Robert Armstrong, best friend of the husband, who gives a fine characterization of a young man desperately trying to preserve his ideals of loyalty. Diana Gibson, a newcomer to the screen, shows promise and beauty. Charlie Murray is his lovable self as an Irish chief engineer, humorously trying to dismantle and repair every gadget that comes into his hands.

The action takes place on the Pacific and the narrative is filled with exciting incidents, including a terrific gale which rages so convincingly that it impels the spectator to look for life preservers.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.—An event of unparalleled social significance occurred on Tuesday, November 10th, when upwards of one hundred relatives and friends gathered at the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor, St. Anne's, Hope River, to celebrate their 10th wedding anniversary. After the guests had been warmly welcomed Mr. Wall Farish, that adept violinist gave such a perfect rendition of old time jigs that were so completely entrancing in less than no time dancing was the order of the program. Mr. Cyril Campbell and the Misses Lucy and Cecilia Campbell arrived at the psychological moment and added greatly to the procedure. When all had thoroughly enjoyed this feature Mr. Arthur Malone took the chair and in a concise manner told those present that it was proper to offer congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor on this occasion. Several speakers followed, each one offering best wishes to the happy couple. Mr. O'Connor in his usual intelligent way thanked all present for their kind expressions. A few solos concluded the night's fun and all departed to their homes satisfied that the celebration would be down in the annals of the community.

The news of the passing of Miss Auisie R. M. Stevenson, whose death occurred at her home in Wheatley River on Sunday evening is deeply regretted by a host of relatives and friends. Death is sad at all times, but doubly so when taken at the early age of twenty years. Auisie was a beautiful girl and a general favorite with all who knew her. She will be sadly missed in the Young Peoples Study Group where she took deep interest, also the Wheatley River United Church, where she was a member. In the home where she was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevenson, her death will be greatest. There are left to mourn, besides her loving parents, two younger brothers, William D. and Nelson, to whom deepest sympathy is extended. The funeral was held from her late home the following Tuesday at two o'clock, when a large concourse of people came for miles to pay their last respects. The service was conducted by Rev. J. McQuarrie, who delivered a beautiful message to the bereaved. The assisting clergymen were Rev. W. G. Quigley, Rev. W. A. Paterson, and Rev. W. J. McLeod. By special request Rev. J. Richard Dickieson rendered the beautiful hymn "If Jesus Goes With Me I'll Go." The floral tributes received were many and beautiful. The pallbearers were Alfred Stead, Theo. Sellers, Harold Buntalan, Melville Lyle, Frank MacFarlane, and Preston Rackham. Flower bearers: Orville Sead, Ronald Rackham, Arthur Gamster, William Rackham, Charles Andrew, Leonard Ling. Interment was held in the Wheatley River cemetery. The funeral was under the direction of Cutcliffe and Andrews, Hunter River.

Miss Ruth Dickieson is visiting in Charlottetown, the guest of her cousin, Miss Agnes Williams, Sydney street.

A very enjoyable event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Taylor, Hazel Grove, on Friday evening, November 20th, when a large number of friends and neighbors gathered to welcome the newly wedded couple in their new home. Mr. Russel Nichol called the gathering to order and an address was read by Miss Edith Bagnall, accompanied by a well-filled purse presented by Mr. Reigh Bagnall. Mr. Taylor on behalf of his bride thanked his friends for the lovely gift and expressed the hope that they would feel free to visit them at any time. "The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, music being supplied by Messrs. Frank Gallant, Hope River, and Reg Dolron, Charlottetown. A delicious lunch was served by the ladies, and after bounding the bride and groom the happy crowd departed for their respective homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Taylor many years of happy wedded life. The following is the address: Dear Mr. and Mrs. Taylor:—We, your friends and neighbors of Hazel Grove and vicinity are gathered this evening to extend to you our congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life. We are very pleased to welcome you both into our midst and although you are both strangers to most of us, we hope in the days to come you may experience great joy and pleasure in your associations with us. HER KNEES SWELLED WITH RHEUMATISM

To Go Upstairs Was Agony

There is nothing in which rheumatism is a greater handicap than in doing ordinary household duties—kneeling, stooping running up and down stairs. How to overcome that handicap, and relieve rheumatic aches and pains, is the subject of the following letter:—

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for three months. When I started, I had rheumatism in both knees. They were very swollen. I could not rise from a chair without assistance. I could not kneel, and to go upstairs was agony. Now I can run upstairs and kneel as much as I like. Since I have taken Kruschen, I can work like a horse."

—Mrs. H. E. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are effective solvents of uric acid. Other ingredients of these Salts have a stimulating effect upon the internal organs, and assist them to expel the dissolved uric acid from the system.
