PLUS SCREEN NEWS AND MUSICAL COMEDY

Comedy Is Based On Famous Novel

English novelist H. DeVere Stacpoole's famous story, "The Man Who Lost Himself," now in screen form, is proving a hilarious bit of comedy in the unusual picture of the same name, starring Brian Aherne and Kay Francis, which is now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

Star Plays Two Roles

Entirely farcical in nature, the offering presents Brian Ahern in two roles. In one, Evans, he is a respectable business man; in the other he is Scott, a worthless eccentric who sees, in the discovery of his exact double, a way out of his difficulties. He installs Evans in his own home, where Evans cannot convince anyone, including Mrs. Scott, that he is Evans and not Scott.

In supporting roles are Henry Stephenson, Nils Asther, S. Z. Sakall and others. The picture was produced by Lawrence W. Fox, jr., and directed by Edward Ludwig.

Well-Known Cameraman

Victor Milner, noted Hollywood cinematographer, was the cameraman assigned to the production. The illusions and dual photographic tricks were devised by John Fulton, noted lens expert famous for his screen magic in the "Invisible Man" series of pictures.

Wife Trouble Bothers Ronald Colman In Hit "Life With Caroline"

Ranking among the star's finest light comedy efforts, Ronald Colman's new vehicle for RKO Radio, "My Life With Caroline," proves to be charming and ingenious film fare when it opens to-day on the screen of the Prince Edward Theatre.

The plot deals in gay fashion with the efforts of a tolerant and understanding husband (Colman) to keep his butterfly wife from leaving him for various persuasive admirers. The wife means well, but she is susceptible to flattery and is easily convinced that she's neglected and misunderstood and that she'd be much happier married to the particular gentleman who intrigues her fancy at the moment.

With infinite tact and adroit maneuvering the husband manages to break up these incipient affairs, and his strategy comprises the delightful basis of the story and its many surprises.

The British star, Anna Lee, makes her bow to American filmgoers as the vacillating wife, and her blonde loveliness and brilliant handling of the part guarantee her acceptance as a definite new asset to Hollywood's film offerings. Colman himself turns in a splendid and perfectly shaded performance in what is easily his best role in years, and the pair are given ideal support by a notable cast.

Charles Winninger as the heroine's cynical father and Gilbert Roland and Reginald Gardiner as two of Caroline's most fervent admirers have the best of the supporting characterizations, with Katherine Leslie and Hugh O'Connell also in important roles.

Lewis Milestone's joint direction and production of the film rates high praise. It's a picture every fun-lover should see.

Discussions took place over the proposals of the Finance Minister that the various provinces surrender the personal and corporation income tax field to the Federal Treasury.

LAID TO REST—The funeral of the late Mrs. John J. MacDonald, Ottawa, took place Saturday morning from Frank Hennessey's Funeral Home to St. Andrew's Church, St. Andrews where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. T. Campbell who also conducted the service at the grave. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Hon. J. P. McIntyre, John J. McIntyre, J. A. McAulay, Daniel McDougald, Peter O. MacDonald, A. J. Grant.

REV. J. B. M. ARMOUR, M. A., General Secretary of the Bible Society in Canada and Newfoundland, will address a meeting in Murray Harbour tonight, Sept. 29. Rev. J. M. Murchison, District Secretary for N. B. and P. E. I., St. John will speak on the Bible Society in Murray Harbor North Presbyterian Church. Meeting of the executive St. Paul's Parish Hall at 4 p.m. L-764.

SERIOUS FIRE — A disastrous fire occurred at Kingsboro between seven and seven thirty a. m. Thursday morning, September 25 when the dwelling house of William Robertson was burned to the ground. When the fire was noticed it had made such headway it was impossible to do any thing. The ground floor furniture was saved and with great difficulty one bed room outfit was saved on the second floor the rest being a total loss. At the time of writing it was not known if there was any insurance or not.

FUNERAL SATURDAY — The funeral of the late J. D. Taylor was held from his late residence on Hillsborough Street, Saturday afternoon. Service was conducted by Rev. Hugh Miller and Rev. Mr. Mabon. Rev. Mr. Miller officiated at the grave. Interment People's Cemetery. Pallbearers were: Messrs. E. A. Foster, Walter Curtis, Guy Dowling, Kelsey J. Brehaut, John Blanchard, W. J. Brawders. A Masonic service at the grave was conducted by Messrs. Reg Kemp and George Woods.

MACKEREL GALORE — Fishermen along the north shore of the Island were all smiles Saturday as they returned from the fishing grounds with their boats loaded with mackerel. At Rustico and other points the returning boats were almost swamped under the heavy load which was caught when the school hit off that fishing village. Mr. Benjamin Gauthier, Rustico, had no less than 1500 of the mackerel in his fishing boat when he landed. An ordinary catch is anywhere from 400 to 800 fish. It is reported that another boat had 1700 although this could not be confirmed last night. The price being paid was from three to five cents. One man is said to have received $80 for his catch. However, everyone agreed that the run was one of the biggest ever encountered on the north shore for many years.

MANY GAS STATIONS SOLD OUT— Scores of "no gas" signs appeared Saturday at service stations in this province and yesterday a very noticeable decrease in traffic was observed as hundreds of motorists left their cars idle to save what small supply of fuel they had. In Charlottetown gasoline was fairly plentiful in the morning but by mid-afternoon it was difficult to obtain even a few gallons. Conditions in rural areas were even worse. Along the paved highways practically every gasoline retailer was sold out. One dealer said he could have sold thousands of gallons Saturday alone if he had had it. Every car that passed stopped and the driver inquired for gasoline, he said. Most retailers were rationing gasoline, with two gallons per customer the largest amount obtainable. Last night it was not known whether the shortage would continue until after the end of the month Tuesday, or whether there would be limited supplies available today. However, conditions in Summerside seemed to be somewhat better and it was reported that service stations had a sufficient supply on hand to supply the demand up until closing time Saturday.

SEEKS ADDRESS

Sir,—I would like to find out the address of a Miss Hilliery. I have forgotten her first name and also her address. We corresponded with each other in 1932, at that time I was in the United States army signal corps located at Ft. Monmouth, New Jersey. I would like to know if you could help me locate her through your paper. I am now serving in Canadian forces and would like very much to get in touch with her.

Thanking you in advance for any information that you may be able to give me.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

There were splendid attendances at both diets of worship yesterday which were conducted by the newly inducted minister Rev. T. H. Bussell Somers, M.A., S.T.M.

In the morning he took as the text for his sermon the 2nd Book of Kings ch. 7, verse 2: "Then the Captain, on whose arm the King leaned, answered the man of God and said: If the Lord would make windows in Heaven might this thing be?" The anthem was, "O Taste and See"—Goss. During the course of his sermon, Mr. Somers said: "God does nothing? He created the worlds—and you. He plays impromptu music on the keyboard of enduring laws. He works in secret ways to lead the truth to triumph. He sent Christ—No—He came Himself in Christ (opening the very doors of Heaven) that in that creative act all other acts should be made clear and purposeful. What then? We need not wait for God to act. He still waits for us. The only question is, in clear conscience and honest endeavour in this troubled world are we doing our little? When we will (and it is not God's method to compel) we shall find that even now God is preparing His deliverance in His own strange and blessed way. He will use the weak things of the world to confound the mighty. That is the glory of our human days."

At 2.30 p. m. the minister gave an inspiring address entitled, "Christ, the Hope of the World," on the occasion of the Sunday School Rally Day service. He is also assuming charge of the Young Men's Bible Class which commences next Sunday.

For the evening service, Mr. Somers chose as his text the 1st chapter of Jonah, verse 6: "So the shipmaster came to him and said: What meanest thou O sleeper, arise and call upon thy Lord". The anthem was "Now the Day is Over."—Heaton.

Churches of Christ Young People Hold Conference

The young people of the Churches of Christ met in conference at Charlottetown over the weekend. It opened Saturday night by a hearty banquet served by the Gracia Club. Lloyd Grant welcomed the guests and after a social half hour a vesper service was held. Rev. Robert Shaw gave the address using as his subject "Come Learn of Me."

The young people worshipped together on Sunday morning. Communion service was held. Mr. Preston Beck sang a solo. The address "Come Follow Me" was given by Rev. Neil Herman.

A devotional service was held in the afternoon. Mrs. Silas MacKay and Mrs. Louis Herring sang a duet. The address "Come and I Will Make you fishers of men" was given by Mr. F. H. Fenwick. A business meeting was held and reports read. The new slate of officers is as follows: Mac Beck, president, Montague; Gordon MacKay, Vice-President, Murray Harbor; Jennie MacNeill, Secretary-treasurer, New Glasgow.

The evening service was largely attended. Mr. Eric MacGregor rendered a solo. Mrs. MacKay and Mrs. Herring again sang their duet as a special favor. Mr. Neil Herman spoke using as his subject "Reward—Eternal Life". Mac Beck led the Mispah service.

The addresses were inspiring and the fellowship will be long remembered. The young people feel a fresh vigor for their bright and glorious task.

Rev. Neil Herman

Rev. Neil Herman, spoke yesterday morning and last evening to these young people. He preached on subjects alive with the problems and solutions of youth life, and with a seriousness becoming the hour in which youth plays a major role, he drove home the rugged truths without fear or favor.

He said in part:—"If you cannot be a full, red-blooded disciple of Christ, the fault does not lie with your Christ but with yourself. If our Lord Jesus cannot meet the crying needs and burning problems of enthusiastic, bubbling youth, then our Master puts a premium on weak bodies, and falsely evaluates the pale face of the anemic, and stamps with approval the languid efforts of the half dead and alive. I tell you he does nothing of the kind. His call is the call of youth. He challenges the red blood of young manhood and womanhood. And in this hour of world crisis, He sounds out the clarion call to every wide-eyed, quick stepping pulsating man and woman—Follow Me.

"Don't be afraid of the truth. Stop hesitating on the doorstep of big truth. Don't be a coward. Be a Christian, with a capital C. Your Lord—if you belong to Him, by the blood of His redemption—is Light. He is the Way, go along with Him. and He will show you things you never dreamed of.

"Don't be afraid to make money. Be afraid to hoard it. Your Lord doesn't stand in the way of honest business. He blocks the road to all money making which will damn your souls and damn your fellow men.

"Let us have an end to our negative morality. The world has no use for Miss Nancies. What does Jesus say—Except your righteousness exceed the righteousness of the scribes and pharisees ye shall in nowise enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

"You can be religious, and be as teetotally lost as the savages of the jungle. When we preach that Christ alone can save you, we stand upon the indisputable fact that Christ is a fact: His death for you is a fact: His resurrection and His presence right now in the world is a fact: nothing can wipe Him out. It is Christ or chaos for the world. Christ or chaos for you."

WORK ON RADIO RANGE — A group of technicians from the Department of Transport arrived in Charlottetown Saturday by plane to do some work on the radio range about five miles north of the Airport. They are "recalibrating" the range which is the process of checking its course. The Lockheed plane, which they flew to the province in, is being used in the work. The range is used both in civil aviation and in connection with Air Force work. It is expected the job will be completed today. The technicians include: Messrs. Gordon Bulger, R. S. Brownlee, D.D. Murphy (Pilot) all of Ottawa, A. Albulet, P. Bishop, J. A. Holmes and W. C. Hopkins, Moncton.

STARCH FACTORIES TO OPEN —Four starch factories in the province will swing into action next week as farmers commence to harvest their season's crop of potatoes. Factories at Hunter River, St. Peter's, Baltic and Murray Harbour, are prepared to take all the undergrade potatoes offering it was announced by Lt.-Col. G. Elliot Full. The price will be 50 cents per hundred pounds—10 cents higher than last fall when half a million bushels were turned into starch in the same four buildings. It is expected that the regular markets will absorb all the first grade tubers and the factories are prepared to take seconds for processing. This announcement comes as good news to the farmers who will, in all likelihood, have little trouble in marketing their entire crop.

P. E. I. Hospital Subscriptions

Today every progressive community must have and must maintain a modern hospital in which the poor as well as the prosperous may obtain treatment for injury or illness, and in which every newborn babe may make a start in life under the most favorable conditions. It is now everywhere admitted that an efficient hospital is the best place in which to be cured—that no nome, no matter how luxurious, can equal a good hospital in the care of the sick.

The doors of the Prince Edward Island Hospital are always open to all suffers. No patient has ever been turned away because of lack of means. Hospitals, however, have become expensive to build and to equip, expensive to maintain, and must progress with the times. Happily as a result of such progression, over the last thirty years the average time required for the average patient to remain in hospital nas been reduced from twenty-two days to less than twelve days, while rates for greatly superior accommodations and the attention of a larger staff in the new hospital are as low or lower than the rates were in the old.

Now in the annual collection all are being asked to pay something this year towards the maintenance of the hospital's work. The collection will take place the first, second and third of October, in Charlottetown, and we hope for the same generous response as we have had in other years. L-611-9-29-11
