MAROOINED FOR NEARLY YEAR AND HALF

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Feb. 22.—A letter mailed at Honolulu, February 3, was received here from Homer T. Madison, of White Hallis, relating how with a number of others he was marooned for nearly a year and a half on an island off the west coast of South America after leaving the British steamer Bella Donna, which was sunk by a German cruiser in September, 1914. The letter which was received by his grandmother, Mrs. Rebecca Madison, said: "For the last year and a half I have been on a little island in the South Sea, where no ships ever stop. I was on the English ship Bella Donna, when a year ago last September we were stopped off the west coast of South America by a German cruiser. They forced us to get into our small boats and then sank our ship. The day after we ran into a pretty stiff gale and were blown away south. We brought up on a small island among a group of several. There were a few friendly natives there, and one white man. We were there until about forty days ago when a small sailing vessel put in for water having been blown off her course. We then came here. We had a nice comfortable time while marooned, but, of course, we all were glad to get away."

TWO MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF MUNITIONS DAILY FROM U. S. TO EUROPE.

WASHINGTON, February 18.—American-made war munitions now are pouring into Europe at the rate of nearly two million dollars worth daily, with the figures swelling rapidly as production increases. For a long time after the war began shipments were negligible, and not until the middle of 1915 did the millions of dollars worth of war materials contracted for begin to move in considerable quantities. Estimates made at the department of commerce to-day put the total munitions shipments since Europe began to purchase for the present war, close to a quarter of a billion dollars. At the rate shipments are going now the next four months would see this total doubled, even if production remained at a standard level. Production is declared to be growing faster now than at any time since American manufacturers began the conversion of their plants into munition factories.

A great part of the munitions output has been in the form of high explosive shells, more than one hundred million dollars worth of which have left American shores. Powder comes next, with shipments estimated at nearly one hundred millions, and small arm cartridges are third, with $30,000,000. Fire arms, including ordnance exports, are put at less than $20,000,000, with small increases shown. The heaviest month's fire arms shipment was in January, 1915, when more than $2,000,000 worth went to Europe.

Parliament Buildings Can Be Repaired

OTTAWA, February 17.—A report by Messrs Pearson and Marchand, the Toronto and Montreal architects who were asked by the government to examine the condition of the Parliament building after the fire was read to the commons this afternoon by Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works. After a careful survey of the fire-swept building, they report that with the exception of the central interior and the rear wings, the building can be repaired without entirely re-building. Most of the walls are still intact and what is left of the building represents a value in labor and material of approximately two million dollars or considerably over half of the original cost. The new northwest wing built six years ago, at a cost of half a million dollars and made fireproof at the time, is practically intact, the only damage being from smoke and water. The walls and masonry of the east, south and west sides are standing practically in good condition and have not been damaged by fire. The commons and senate chambers and the central interior of the building are practically all destroyed together with a part of the north wall. The roof is also gone over most of the building and will have to be replaced in its entirety. The main tower is undamaged for the most part up to the top of the large windows and will have to be rebuilt only in part from there up. The floors throughout most of the building will have to be replaced on new steel supports.

TALES TOLD BY MEN ON THE FIRING LINE

IN THE CANADIAN TRENCHES.

Describing a visit to the Canadian trenches, Mr. W. Beach Thomas, the British Press representative at the General Headquarters, says: "The trenches themselves give every confidence. A general who had been through them a day or two earlier had been kept tame by wire and wood, and the millions of sandbags were piled in the newest and most scientific manner. Every foot announced experience and hard work; some places almost the affectionate care that we spend on a home."

A CANADIAN DUG-OUT.

"As I stopped leaning up against the looter-barbed wall," while someone else was peering through a spy hole I became aware of a sort of rabbit-hole below me. The inmate, with the usual quick Canadian hospitality, offered me the freedom of his dwelling. He could not receive the whole of his guests; there was no room for that. I considered the invitation as extending to my head and that could enter far enough to see and appreciate the whole of the Dutch interior. The owner sat low before a tiny stove, and he held in his hand a well-lathered shaving brush. His cheeriness, conspicuous even in this cheery group, was due, perhaps, to the prospect of a clean shave as the fumes already made a pleasant accompaniment to the toilet.

USE "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS WHEN CONSTIPATED

WHEN BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK FOR SOUR STOMACH, BAD BREATH, BAD COLDS.

Get a 10-cent box. Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, a bad cold, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you up by morning. A healthy bowel action: clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

No definite action will be taken however, until the whole question has been discussed in parliament and the necessary sum voted.

IF UNITED STATES BREAKS WITH GERMANY.

LONDON, February 18.—An Amsterdam despatch says that the managing director of one of the greatest German shipping companies, in an interview in the Bremen Tagblatt, expresses a most pessimistic opinion concerning the effects of a possible breach of relations between Germany and the United States. This shipper, who, the despatch says, is believed to be Albert Ballin director general of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, is quoted as follows: "A breach of Germany's relations with America would have a most serious effect. All American money and munitions would be at the disposal of the entente allies. We would have to take over the feeding of the Belgians, and America's attitude would probably induce other neutrals to attack us. All our ships would finally be interned in American ports. This would represent taking away enormous wealth from us."

"Our plight would be most difficult. When the war is over Germany will have to replenish her stocks of the raw materials. Do not let us entertain any illusions with regard to England. She will continue commercial warfare long after military operations are over. She will take away all our trade with South Africa and Australia and it will take years for our passenger service to reach a condition anything like that which existed before the war."

WHAT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS DID FOR MR. WILSON'S RHEUMATISM

Well Known Gordonsville Citizen Tells How His Pains Vanished When He Used Dodd's Kidney Pills

GORDONSVILLE, Ont., Feb. 21.—(Special)—That he got immediate relief from rheumatism when he used Dodd's Kidney Pills is the experience of Mr. Thos. Wilson, a well-known resident of this place. Mr. Wilson had tried other medicines but without getting beneficial results. "I certainly must say that Dodd's Kidney Pills did me a great deal of good," Mr. Wilson stated when asked concerning his case. "I was suffering from rheumatism and could get no relief till I started using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They brought me relief immediately. The natural way to treat rheumatism is to treat the kidneys and the natural way to treat the kidneys is to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Rheumatism is caused by uric acid in the blood. If the kidneys are doing their duty they will strain all the uric acid out of the blood and there can be no rheumatism. Put the kidneys in shape to do their duty by using Dodd's Kidney Pills."

of this daily warfare. The men make you forget it, so natural and they don't know it, each is in some sense treading on a mine. Everyone looks at home. From the next dug-out I passed came the gay whistle of "Suzanne, Suzanne. We love you to a man." On a back wall at the traverse beyond was a little hand-made vegetable garden at home. Who would even have thought that it was put up to indicate the winds favorable to a Hun gas attack?

THE SENSE OF DANGER AND DEATH.

The gongs fixed to the walls here and there have a domestic look, though they are made of empty shell cases. But most of all the household ways of the men and their lively spirit keep aloof the sense of danger and death, yet they never for a minute lack a reminder. It comes with a whiff of carbolic, with a hiss of a shell with the black dot of a falling grenade, with the sight of a mine crater, with the passage of the trench through a ruined house with the doorway in flames with bullet holes.

There, lying on a mud heap, are two French rifles dug up yesterday, relics of a stubborn fight on his same spot a year ago. The place is fathom-deep in the crudest form of war record. Here and there, the sense of danger and death comes across mark the burial spot of the often nameless dead. And you may see more direct evidence than this. Nor can the most buoyant talk quite avoid the tale of losses and scenes still printed on the face of all no one is less morbid than the man who fights daily. He thinks first and last of his job; and great thinkers have reached no sounder philosophy or source of comfort.

THE SNIPER'S RECORD.

Sniping the most interesting occupation, is also the favorite theme of trench conversation, as may easily be understood, in this very trench a simple sniper had just carried a few days' leave after killing his thirty-first German. They were all down in the notebook as certainties with details. Some of course, were just lucky shots. One of the two officers, in the list was hit almost by mistake. The sniper had snapped at a man passing a gap in the trench, but in the long run the luck comes to the man of the most persistent watchfulness as well as of the best aim.

Many of the tales of the skill of one particular German sniper. His prowess was even shown off to visitors, as if he were a recognized attraction of the locality. "Just you watch him," a man would say, and thereupon raise a tin on a stick. Before the visitor was well aware of what was being done the tin rattled and flew off the stick to the other side of the trench. "Treaty good, isn't it?" said the showman with conscious pride that his pet had come up to promise.

"NO MAN'S LAND" ANNEXED.

"No Man's Land" comes, perhaps, second on the list of trench subjects, but it has another name in the district I write of. A visiting general asked some questions about the work of the patrols in "No Man's Land," and received an answer as satisfactory as unexpected. "We do not call it 'No Man's Land' any longer," said the subaltern. "It is now named Canada." He spoke with justifiable pride. The space has been annexed so completely that no German has been known to venture upon it for a month and more. In such places is modern war fought, and in such its heroism flourishes. The

Constant Headaches
When the nervous system gets run down one of the most persistent symptoms is headache. Nervous headache has been described as the cry of the starved brain for more blood. Because of its remarkable blood-forming and blood-enriching qualities, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food ranks first as a means of overcoming nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, headache, indigestion, sleeplessness, irritability and all the annoying symptoms of nervous breakdown. It is not a mere relief, but thorough cure; for it rebuilds and reconstructs the wasted and depleted nerve cells. 50 cts. a box; 6 for $2.50.
