No Atomic Secrets Leaking To Russia

OTTAWA, Feb. 4.—(CP)—The Government is convinced that no atomic energy secrets are reaching Russia from Canada, Reconstruction Minister Howe said here today following reports in the United States which expressed fear of such a leakage.

"We think our security measures are as good as those of any other country and better than most," Mr. Howe said. "We have no reason to believe any secrets are leaking out. If anyone knows of any leakages we would be glad to know what they are so we could take steps to correct them."

Red River Pioneer Caught Riel Aide

WINNIPEG, Feb. 3.—(CP)—The growth of Manitoba from an isolated western territory to a mature, Canadian province is the theme of Constance Kerr Sisson's "John Kerr" (Oxford University Press), a biography of her uncle.

John Kerr was in his teens when he left his home in Perth, Ont., for the Red River country. Mr. Sisson compiled the book from stories she had heard her uncle relate and also from a detailed and descriptive diary he kept during his years in Manitoba.

Buffalo, now almost extinct and known chiefly as emblem of Manitoban life, is mentioned in Kerr's diary. Kerr was one of three constables who took part in the Lepine arrest.

Buffalo, now almost extinct and known chiefly as emblem of Manitoban life, is mentioned in Kerr's diary. Kerr was one of three constables who took part in the Lepine arrest.

After witnessing some of the Indian treaties, Kerr returned to Ontario where he died in 1940 at the age of 89.

CUT DOWN ON TAKING LAXATIVES THIS WAY

See How Regular You Can Be Every Morning

Try taking Carter's Pills this way: Start with 3 and see a definite time at every morning. When you get regular every morning cut down to 2. After a few days, try 1.

Then try taking Carter's every other day. You may even find you can keep regular without any laxative.

You see, Carter's are so tiny you can cut down the dose—from 3 to 1—to fit the needs of your individual system. Without disappointment.

Carter's help clean out your intestinal tract naturally, but thoroughly. They are doubly effective because made with two vegetable herbs compounded properly for thorough, easy action.

Thousands can cut down on laxative doing this Carter way. Ask for Carter's Pills by name to get the genuine at any drugstore—35¢, 70¢, $1.00. Start the Carter graduated dose method tonight, and jump out of bed tomorrow with a top.

GEORGETOWN AND VICINITY

Howard Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Walker left on Monday for St. John, N.B., where he will be a recent visitor to his relatives through the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Fund Established To Aid Canadian Engineering Students

MONTREAL, Feb. 3.—(CP)—Inauguration of an educational fund to help university students to become engineers or scientists was announced today by the Engineering Institute of Canada.

The fund is known as the "Harry F. Bennett Educational Fund of the Engineering Institute of Canada" and was inaugurated as a memorial to Mr. Bennett who for six years before his death in 1945 was chairman of the Institute's committee on the training and welfare of the young engineer.

Mr. Bennett was district engineer of the Federal Department of Public Works at London, Ont., and had held similar posts in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Objects of the fund are to establish engineering and science scholarships and fellowships, to encourage by way of financial assistance and otherwise the establishment and maintenance of engineering and science departments in schools and colleges, to make loans to deserving students to enable them to pursue engineering and scientific studies, and generally, in any way to promote and advance the study of engineering and science.

The first loan has been made to a McGill University student from Winnipeg. He served in the Canadian Navy during the war but his name was not made public.

BORDER WARS

From the close of the 11th century to the middle of the 16th there were constant wars between Scotland and England.

Irishmen Begin Returning To Emerald Isle

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

DUBLIN, Feb. 3.—(CP)—The return of Irishmen from Britain has begun. An increasing number who crossed the Irish Sea from neutral Eire to take high-paid war jobs now are looking for work at home.

Simultaneously there is a sharp drop in the number leaving Eire, despite the British manpower shortage and the unemployment of 50,000 workers here.

Lifting of the De Valera Government's wages standstill order and consequent improvement in salaries and wages in Eire is the main reason given by returning workers. Publication in British newspapers of reports of proposed and actual expansion of Eirean industry is another.

By no means least important is the continued "austerity" in Britain and the comparative—if expensive—luxury of living here.

Release from the armed services of millions of Britons has made it no easy task for an Irishman to find suitable work although there are plenty of jobs going begging. Many Irishmen taken on temporarily have been discharged to make room for ex-servicemen. Anyone leaving Eire now must have a written guarantee of employment before he can obtain the necessary visa to travel.

Big-time movies: Sean O'Casey, who rose from the streets of Dublin to recognition as one of Eire's greatest playwrights, is working on a film script for "The Shadow of a Gunman."

It will be the first production of Mercury Films (Ireland) Ltd., a new company which has taken over Germanstein Castle in County Meath as a base and plans to turn out movies for the international market.

In Memoriam

MR. ROBERT JAMES TODD

The death occurred at Bradabane, P.E.I., on Tuesday, January 28th, 1947, of Robert James Todd, eldest son of the late William Todd and Ann Cameron.

Born at Springton on Nov. 3rd, 1881, he there attended public school until the age of ten when the family moved to Bradabane where he completed his public school education. At the age of 18 he went to the Canadian west where for a number of years he was employed by the C.P.R. While still a young man he returned to Bradabane where he engaged in farming and where he resided at the time of his death.

A man having the highest regard for integrity and possessing a general, kindly disposition he will be sadly missed by a large circle of relatives and friends.

Besides his sorrowing widow, the former Christy Isabella Kennedy, he leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate father five daughters, Mrs. Angus Gillis, Mrs. Alex. McDonald, Mrs. Lorne Newson and Audrey, all of Bradabane and Mrs. A. E. Ramsden, Ottawa; also two sons, William R. Ottawa and John J. Bradabane. A son, Samuel K., predeceased him in 1940.

The funeral services, both at the church and at the grave, were conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. B. McPhail.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Daniel Buchanan, Donald McLaure, Kenneth Buchanan, George Anderson, Bruce Davidson and Cuyler Matheson.

Interment was in the family plot Bradabane Cemetery.

An Appreciation

It is with the greatest of pleasure that we take this opportunity of thanking all our customers for the generous response shown us following our opening announcement.

Many of our patrons have found that some of the garments they forwarded for cleaning were not returned as soon as they had expected and to them we extend our special thanks for their co-operation.

To say that the volume of business we are handling at the present time is heavy would be an understatement; actually we are flooded with orders.

Since our staff has been instructed never to sacrifice "quality cleaning" for speedy delivery there are bound to be delays in some deliveries. Each garment sent to our establishment for cleaning receives the full attention of our highly trained staff.

If your garments are delayed it will not be because they have been by-passed by other orders but rather that our staff has found it necessary to give further specialized attention to your garments. Your continued co-operation will be greatly appreciated.

British Designers Like Profile Hats

By Denise Daltroff

LONDON, Feb. 3.—(CP)—British hat designers go back to Gainsborough for their spring styles, showing a definite trend toward models with the profile or side-ways movement.

This is achieved by the one-sided dip or sweep of the brim or by a heavy cluster of flowers, feathers, plumes or bows on one side. However, basic fashions of the beret, sailor, bretton and turban are retained.

Delicately-colored felts were generally used in pastel shades for models shown at a collection of the associated millinery designers of London.

Several of the hats shown had feather boas attached to one side and cascading down over the shoulder.

An attractive version of the forward fitting, wide-brimmed halo was in white straw with two black feather boas over each ear. Rolled brims or double or treble brims were popular, such as the double-brimmed beret in black taffeta with ruffled blue and pink ribbon between the brims.
