OLD-TIME CHRISTMAS ENJOYED

A real old fashioned Christmas was what the weather man handed out to Islanders this year. The snow fall was quite heavy in Summerside and made a charming picture of the landscape. The many lighted Christmas trees on the lawns of private houses and the town hall property were very beautiful and were the admiration of all. Mayor Robinson's house was particularly attractive in a blaze of colored lights.

Christmas was observed in the various churches. Midnight services were held in St. Paul's and St. Mary's Church on Christmas Eve with the usual services on Christmas Day. Carols and Christmas music was the order of the day on Sunday and all services were largely attended.

Sad Fatality Christmas Eve At Summerside

Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph MacDonald of Summerside on the sudden death of their son Courtney aged 25 years, who passed away while at the supper table on Christmas eve from a hemorrhage. The young man had complained of not feeling well but was about as usual when he was taken suddenly ill and died almost instantly. Besides his grief stricken parents, he leaves to mourn two sisters and four brothers. The funeral will be held this afternoon from Compton's undertaking parlors at 2 o'clock.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

Mr. Charles Barrett, the grand old man of Lot 16, passed away on the evening of Christmas Day on his eternal rest at the ripe old age of 95 years. Mr. Barrett had been in failing health for the past six months but up to that time enjoyed remarkable good health and was quite active in spite of his advanced years. Up to the last his sight and hearing were good and only two days before his death he had been able to read the paper without the aid of glasses.
