DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

We have received a turf goods catalogue from the Kopf Manufacturing Company, 49 Warren Street, New York City, which gives a complete line of harness racing accessories. This firm is the leading one of its kind in America. Ten or more years there were no less than three turf goods concerns but today a great bulk of the business is in the hands of the Kopf Manufacturing Company.

R. J. Reynolds, a nephew of W. J. Reynolds the tobacco magnate, and himself a big figure in that industry, has developed a great fondness for trotters and pacers, taking part in matinee events and superintending some of the training of his speedsters. Mr. Reynolds has purchased the Calumet Farm training property at Lexington, Kentucky, which comprises barns, office blacksmith shop, paddocks and all desirable adjuncts for housing and developing speed.

One of the Abbedale fillies sold at the Old Glory sale last fall to H. Stacey Smith, which is training at Pinchurst, N.C., recently paced a mile in 2:23 1-4 with the last half in 1:01 1-4.

Squires & Hudson, Inc. are holding a speed sale at Springfield, Mass., Tuesday, March 5th. Among the good ones that will go under the hammer are Peter Dale 2:03 1-2, Rowdy Boy 2:09 1-2, Blue Beard 2:10, Forest Guy 2:05 1-4, Miss Vimont, 2:06 1-4, Calumet Edith (3) 2:06 3-4, Miss Berrydale, 2:11 3-4, Preferred Stock 2:14 1-2, Margam's Sun 2:10 1-4 and many others.

Our thoughts run back to the good old days before the depression and drop in Silver Fox prices and we think how that list of speedsters would have affected us then. We aver that our kit would be packed for Springfield and we would be on the way there today.

Margaret's Sun 2:10 1-4 is a daughter of Kalmuck 2:15 1-2, owned by Willard Kelly, Southport, and out of Margaret, a daughter of the hammer and several summers last season and is eligible to a 2.21 class.

Of the original nomination of 350 mares of the Kentucky Futurity has been made on 330. Sixty breeders are represented and eleven of these have made payments on five or more foals each.

As usual Walnut Hall Farm heads the list with 122 sired largely by Peter the Great 2:02, Volomite 2:03 1-4, Protector 1:59 1-4, etc. Next in order is David M. Look of Castleton, Ky., with 31, the majority by his farm's sire Spencer (3) 1:59 3-4. Then follows W. N. Reynolds with 27, Hanover Shoe Farm with 26, Henry H. Knight with 17.

Fifty stallions are represented by their get of which ten have ten or more foals to their credit. W. N. Reynolds's sire Gayworthy 2:02 3-4, recently sold for $10,000 to Italy, heads the list with 33. Volomite 2:03 1-4 has 32, Spencer (3) 1:59 3-4 has 30. Protector (3) 1:59 1-4 has 29 and Peter Volo 2:02 has 28.

Grace Direct 2:00 1-4, regarded by many as the greatest of racing pacing mares, died just recently at Arrow Point Farm, Lexington, Kentucky. She was foaled in 1914 the property of W. M. Tolley, Columbia, Tenn., sired by Walter Direct 2:05 3-4 and out of Mistic Gentry by J. R. Conroy 2:00 1-2.

As a four-year-old she started in ten races and attracted a lot of attention and that fall was sold to Mayor W. H. Foster, Elkhart, Ind.

ABBIE TEAMS PRIMED FOR PLAYOFFS

Intermediate and Junior Abegweits Await Mainland Invasion.

The Intermediate and Junior Abegweits resting on the wave of a popular tide that carried them to the championships of their respective leagues in this province were casting cautious glances across the Straits as they awaited mainland invasion.

Each team has just concluded a hard two weeks drive, playing more than a half dozen games in the final lap of their schedules. Manager Ian MacKenzie of the Intermediates, looking back in retrospect at the league just concluded, says "It has been one of the hardest fought playdowns in the history of provincial hockey. It taxed to the limit the physical fitness of every player. I feel I can safely say that the winners of the league, under coach Perc Rodd, are worthy representatives of the land and will go far in the hunt for Maritime honors."

"One surprise—and a pleasant one at that," continued Mr. MacKenzie, "is the abundance of natural hockey talent that is coming to light in this province. Nearly every district has a rink and old and young are ardent followers of the ice pastime. The youngsters are beginning to command attention, showing rare ability on the blades."

Mr. MacKenzie echoed the views of local enthusiasts when he claimed that "The time is not far distant when the importation of hockeyists from Central Canada will be a thing of the past."

The Juniors, although they are not as highly rated as the team that won the Maritime-Quebec title last year, nevertheless have shown a vast improvement in recent games and should go far in the defence of their championship. Coach Lou Campbell who guided the destiny of the team along with Harry Richards last year, is again at the helm.

Mute testimony of the coaching ability of "Lou" is the fact that four of last year's juniors jumped into senior "A" company acquitting themselves favorably with the senior Abegweits. The champions of the series with the Wolverines for the Maritime Hockey League title. The Juniors are a hefty crew averaging, clear of Price, their goalies, 157 pounds, quite an advantage that stood them well in their games with the speedy Royals, city rivals who made an impressive debut this season under the tutelage of "Chick" Williams. Local fans are eagerly looking forward to the semi-final playdowns which open here next Friday when the Abegweits play host to the N. B. champions at Oxford, Nova Scotia Intermediate champions, meet the Abbies here Monday night in the first game of their two game total goal series for the Nova Scotia-Prince Edward Island title.

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, March 1.—Jim Londos, generally recognized as the heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, today was suspended indefinitely by the New York State Athletic Commission. The suspension was in line with the recent action of the California commission, which set Londos down for failure to go through with a match on the coast last Wednesday.

Along The Sidelines

(By Pat Power)

PROUD HOLDERS of Island championships after gruelling playdown series, Abegweit Junior and Intermediate teams are busy preparing for the start of Maritime semi-finals, scheduled to get underway at the local Forum Monday and Friday nights of the coming week.

FRESH FROM THEIR VICTORIES over Summerside, the Juniors are also quietly preparing to defend the crown they captured last year. Lou Campbell, their coach, never loquacious, has little to say regarding the chances his charges have of repeating, but Lou has the habit of turning out winners and it is a safe bet that when the New Brunswick champions, be they Campbellton or Moncton, stack up against the local youngsters they will have to be on their very best behaviour to eliminate the Island crew. General opinion seems to be that the Abbies are not as strong as last year, but as was the case a year ago when they caused a sensation by eliminating the Quebec champions, they are improving daily and it would not be surprising should the 1934-35 edition turn out to be just as formidable as the 1933-34 team.

STARS IN THE MAKING were on display last night when Summerside and West Kent clashed in their annual game at the Ice Sports Arena at the Forum. We speak of the smart performances turned in by a youthful West Kent team that would do credit to much older players. Notwithstanding their age, the boys showed a knowledge and skill of the game that was surprising, and just 15 years of age, gave a display that speaks volumes for their coming hockey future and also drew down plenty of well-deserved praise on their coach, Lou Campbell, for the way in which he is developing the talent placed in his hands.

PRINCE OF WALES and St. Dunstan's are having a mighty bitter struggle in their series for the Wellner Intercollegiate Trophy. Failing to decide a winner in the original three game schedule, the teams have to go to a fourth game, and judging by the manner in which the previous bouts have been contested, it would be a hard task to pick a winner. A clash on paper the F. W. C. squad appear to have the edge.

THE BEST WON'T BE THERE VICTORIA—Reputedly the four most promising tennis players in Canada, Carlo Deacon and Eleanor Young of Vancouver and Bob Murray and Laird Watt of Montreal, won't be back from their trip to Wimbledon and English tournaments in time to take part in the Canadian championships here in July. Officials expect Don Budge, sensational California youngster, to enter.

GOMEZ IS FIRST YANKEE HOLD OUT

Wants Two Year Contract at $27,000 a Year.

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, March 1.—Vernon "Goofy" Gomez, ace southpaw of New York Yankees, came back from a world tour today, glanced at the figures in his 1935 contract, rushed down town for a heated session with Ed. Barrow, business manager, and then proclaimed in purest castilian that he is the spring's first Yankee hold-out. Last season Gomez received $12,500 for leading the American League pitchers, both in games won and lost and general effectiveness. He was offered the same salary to try and repeat this year.

Good Proposition

After talking with the lean port-sider for 30 minutes, Barrow announced: "I have made him a mighty good proposition. He is going home, talk it over with his wife and let me know tomorrow." Barrow's offer is understood to include a two-year contract at between $18,000 and $20,000 a year. At any rate, Gomez said it was not big enough and he has no intention of accepting it.

HOCKEY'S PIPE ORGAN

TULSA, Okla.—Tulsa's hockey arena, home of the American Association Oilers, cost nearly $1,000,000 and seats only 5,000 customers. But it has a big ice surface which means there are lots of ringside seats at high prices for boxing fans. The arena also boasts a $50,000 pipe organ.

HARD LUCK OUDE

MONTREAL—Young Wilf Cude, a sensation in goal last season for Detroit Red Wings, is the hard luck "guy" of this National Hockey League campaign. Playing for Canadiens Cude had to wait until Feb. 14 for his first shutout of the season. He hopes to get a couple more before the season ends.

PIGEONS ON A BIG SCALE

EDMONTON—It is estimated Edmonton has more than 4,000 homing pigeons who do their stuff competitively. A race from Winnipeg to Edmonton—a distance of 700 miles—is being planned for this year. The birds are owned by more than 50 fanciers.

NOTHING BUT GRIEF

MONTREAL—Montreal Whalers, who haven't been quite able to win the Big Four title in the last two seasons, haven't had much encouragement lately. First, Chuck Welch's firm moved him to Hamilton—into an enemy camp. Then Fete Jotkus decided to turn professional with Canadiens hockey team and probably will leave the gridiron for the ice right in the midst of the football campaign next fall.

A HOCKEY LESSON

CHICAGO—Howie Momen's advice to forwards who want to know when they should shoot for goal is to let it fly from 10 to 12 feet out. That's the best point from which to beat a goalie, Howie says drive for either corner.

JUST EXHIBITIONS

VANCOUVER—Phyllis Dewar, Moose Jaw's swimming ace, won't be able to compete for the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club for six months—A. C. S. A. regulation. Meanwhile the British Empire champion will give exhibitions here and perhaps in the United States.

PRODGER HAS SOUVENIR

LONDON, Ont.—The first time that professional hockey players performed in England was during the war when a team was assembled from the 27th Battalion. Goldie Prodger, former London Trocuser manager, was one of the players. Goldie keeps the puck used in that game as a souvenir.

SWIMMING RECORD BROKEN

BRISBANE—Edith Barr clipped three-fifths of a second off the previous Queensland record for 50 yards in the women's junior swimming championships.

West Kent Team Chalk Up Second Win Over S'ide

Annual Ice Sports Held At Forum Last Night Highly Successful.

West Kent School ice sports again proved a decided success as the annual event of skating races, hockey, etc., was held at the Forum last night before a medium-sized crowd of spectators. Races were conducted throughout from the opening event and some of the younger competitors displayed marked ability.

Several unique features were also on the card the parade of the features causing much merriment as characters representing comic strips displayed themselves on the frozen surface. The inimitable Jed Maddigan supplied the clown act and as usual his antics had the crowd holding their sides from laughter.

Garnering 11 points during the meet, Prentiss Andrew captured the O. H. B. Longworth prize for the best all-round skater in the boys' division, while four girls, Ruth Sinclair, Marion Robertson, Eleanor McLeod, Frances McEachern were all tied for first in the girls' events with five points apiece. The prize in this division was also donated by Mr. Longworth.

Bedeque Wins Clark Trophy

On Feb. 26th, Bedeque defeated Albany in the second of a two game series, goals to count. Albany came on the ice with a two goal lead as the score the first night was 3-1 in their favor. Shortly after the game started Lloyd Walsh scored for Albany, giving them a lead of 3 goals. Bedeque then sent all their men up expect the goalie and one defence man and Frank McDonald scored for Bedeque, tie, period 1-1.

In the second period Bedeque with all to gain and nothing to lose still kept up their heavy bombardment with the result that Austin McDonald made two goals for Bedeque, tied, period 3-1, thus tying the teams in the total score. In the last period both teams went on the ice determined to win the cup, and fought very strenuously until Ambrose McInnis scored for Bedeque giving them the lead, with about 10 minutes to go. Albany put their full force up and stormed the Bedeque stronghold and the situation was saved only by the stonewall goalie. Game ended 4-1 making a total score of 5-4 in favor of Bedeque. As a versa of O Canada was played Mr. James Clark donor of the Trophy came on the ice with his little daughter Patricia, who presented the Cup to the Bedeque team. The Albany boys who are all good sports, congratulated the Bedeque boys and gave them three rousing cheers and went home apparently just as happy as if they had won the Trophy.

Frank McParlane very capably refereed the game to the satisfaction of both teams.
