KILLED IN ACTION—Mrs. John Turner of this city has received a letter stating that her brother Percy Watson has been killed in action. Private Watson, who enlisted in England when he was 15 years of age, saw active service and then enjoyed a furlough. Joining the colors again when he had attained his 19th year, he went into action on March 10th and was killed on March 30th. This is Mrs. Turner's second brother to make the supreme sacrifice and she will have the sympathy of many friends in Canada as well as from her home friends in England.

RETURNING TO DUTY—Mr. A. A. McDonald, son of Mr. C. McDonald, of Georgetown, who has been visiting his home in the city on his way back to join his ship in the transport service. Mr. McDonald left his home in Georgetown six years ago and travelled extensively over the world in aqueduct-rigged sailing vessels. He has been in the Royal Naval transport service for the last year and for the last month has been in the North Sea. He left England on March 27th last for Halifax to take examination for First Mate which he passed successfully. He spent three weeks at his home in Georgetown.

A WARNING NOTE—A warning note from the Retail Merchants Association of Canada says: "Please note that a woman and her daughter are moving from town to town in the Maritime Provinces, getting in debt to merchants who will let them have a cent's worth of goods on credit. They go to a town, rent a flat or take rooms, buy furniture wherever they can get it on credit, furnish their home, live on the best they can get, and buy all the clothes they can on credit. When the merchants begin to look at their bills the ladies pick up what they can take with them and leave town without giving any clue as to where they are going. They leave the furniture and fixtures, and the landlord very often takes this for payment of the rent."

JAMES JEFFREY ROCHE—The "Observant Citizen" in the Boston Post observes that the late James Jeffrey Roche, editor and poet was born on May 31st 71 years ago and continues: As to the poet, James Jeffrey Roche, he would find the name of Roche still conspicuous in American literature. He would find a younger generation of his family among the most successful of the young novelists—prosperous, popular and of growing fame." The late James Jeffrey Roche was the son of the late Edward Roche, School-master of Charlottetown and was educated at St. Dunstan's College. He left the island when a young man making his home in Boston, where he became editor of the Boston Pilot and achieved notable success as a poet and writer. At the time of his death some years ago he was United States Consul in Genoa. It is pleasing to know that the younger generation of his family are also achieving literary fame.

BRITAIN'S DOGS FACING FAMINE

LONDON, June 6.—(Correspondence)—How shall we feed the dogs? is the problem that all the dog lovers of Britain are seeking to solve.

The rationing of meat of all kinds and the use of horseflesh as food by the population has eliminated the supply of meat for the dog, while the use of bread and cereals otherwise than for human consumption is forbidden under a severe penalty.

The low grade meat that has been used in the manufacture of dog biscuits is being partly used for other purposes. The stocks of low grade meat at present in the country are being held up by the wheat commissioners as a reserve supply of possible food, and in consequence the bakers of dog biscuits cannot supply the demand and the British dog is in danger of starvation. Even fish has reached a price which makes its use prohibitive.

In spite of the demands of the public and the trade, the wheat commissioners refuse to permit the release of any of the stock in hand.

There is no question of the wheat commission losing money by selling their stocks of low grade flour; as the price they have been charging to the manufacturers of dog biscuit is one dollar per sack higher than the charge for bread flour, the difference being the rebate made to the bakers on condition they sell bread at government prices.

In an interview on the subject an official of the wheat commission said: "Of course we quite appreciate the love of animals. The fighting man always makes a pet of his dog. But putting all sentiment aside, the question this department has to decide is whether human life is not of higher consideration. We are at war, and the present position does not justify the use of any grain for dog food which might under any conceivable circumstances of emergency be utilized as sustenance for the community."

"If the dog food manufacturers can clearly demonstrate that there is grain of such quality and condition that its conversion into food for human consumption is a matter of impossibility, then there could be no objection to such grain being employed in any manner that might commend itself, but the dog food manufacturers would have to make out a strong case, as we are concerned with the imperative needs of the nation."

A SETTLER
"Darling, answer me," he pleaded. "I am on the rack."
"So is your hat," came a deep voice from the hall. Whereupon the young man took the hint, his headpiece and his departure.

NARROW ESCAPE OF A GEM
"Veni, vidi, vici," was Caesar's terse report of his great battle.

"Send it to Georgius Creellius to be elaborated," the order was given—but on second thought they decided to let it stand.

CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE
Friend—What about the rent of a place like this? I suppose the landlord asks a lot for it.
Ardupe—Yes, rather—he's always asking for it.

A young clerk was called before the manager.
"Mr. Jones, of late your work has been very perfunctory."
Just as he was going to ask for an explanation, the young clerk broke in:
"Mr. Smith, I've been working here for three months now, and, though I have tried my best, that's the first bit of praise I have received. Thank you!"—New York Sun.

REMOVE THE CAUSE

for a skin disease, and the disease will naturally disappear. That is how Zam-Buk cures. The cause of all skin troubles is germs. Zam-Buk is a powerful germ-destroyer, not only of germs on the surface skin, but also deep down in the underlying tissues.

This is because of Zam-Buk's unusual power of penetration. Ordinary ointments, which have not this power of penetration, can only destroy the germs on the surface skin—hence the disease breaks out again. Zam-Buk cures thoroughly and, therefore, permanently.

Only Zam-Buk should be used for eczema, ringworm, salt rheum, scaly sores, ulcers, abscesses, blood-poisoning, piles, boils, pimples and itching rash, while Zam-Buk's power to end pain and heal quickly also makes it invaluable for cuts, burns, scalds and all skin injuries. All dealers 50c. box.

The Sardine

The fresh sardine is a beautiful little fish. The scales on its back are an iridescent blue-green, the exact tint which the sea so often takes, while beneath the scales there shows up the most wonderful peacock-blue. There are bars on its back and sides. When it first comes out of the water like those on the mackerel, but they seem to fade and disappear the moment it is exposed to the air. The rest of its body is pure silver.
