

We Present

NYLON

THE HOSIERY THAT SET THE WHOLE WORLD TALKING. Sheer, clear and flawless NYLON stockings are amazingly durable. We take pleasure in offering to our customers this great

Advance in HOSIERY

SIZES 8 1/2 to 10 1/2

Colours: Wichery, Thrilling, Banner, Joyous, Orchid

$1.65 pair

MOORE & McLEOD Limited

Cuba's new constitution provides that one-millionth of the annual budget be devoted to teachers' salaries.

In Memoriam

MRS. JOHN ALFRED ROWE

There passed peacefully away at her home in Charlottetown on Saturday, Dec. 21st, 1940, Eliza J. beloved wife of the late J. A. Rowe for over 30 years. She had been enjoying good health until about four months ago, when she fell, fracturing her hip. She was removed to the P. E. Island Hospital, where she gradually became weaker. About six weeks ago she was able to return home. The shock of the fall however was too great for her, and she gradually became weaker—till the end came.

She was a daughter of the late H. Nelson and Judith Cannon of Medford, having lived there several years before her marriage.

She leaves a family of six daughters and two sons namely: Mrs. Ina Hutcherson of Charlottetown; Mrs. Laura Lasher of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Bessie McLean of Boston, (Irene) Mrs. E. H. Wing of New York, (Helen) Mrs. Harry Mathison of Charlottetown; Mrs. Olive MacAnlay of New York; Jerrold in Los Angeles, Cal.; and Hollis in Montreal. Her husband predeceased her about five years ago.

The funeral was held from the MacLean Funeral Home on December 24th, service being conducted by the Rev. G. Carlyle Webster, pastor of Zion Presbyterian Church to which she attended for over sixty years.

Pall bearers were: Messrs. A. C. Duchemin, Murdoch Ross, Gerald Proctor, Stanley Thompson, Donald MacKinnon and Reginald Kemp. Interment was at People's Cemetery. (Moncton and Shediac papers please copy).

Neckties are to be produced which consist of 55 per cent. fiberglass and 45 per cent. weighted silk and which are to be sold for a dollar. They are said to be highly resistant to wrinkling and to wear longer than a good all-silk tie. It is the glass that imparts the wrinkle-proof quality.

STOP THAT COUGH

Bronchial Syrup

8 oz. bottle 50c

Money Back Guarantee

WEEKS' COLD TABLETS

Box — 25c

REDDIN BROS.

The Bible At The Inaugural

On Monday Franklin Roosevelt was inaugurated for his third consecutive term as President of the United States. He took the sacred oath of office with his hand resting on the tattered, old family Bible which he used at his other two inaugurations. It is 268 years old. On March 4, 1833, he chose the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians, which begins, "Though I speak with the tongues of men and angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal."

Ever since the days of U. S. Grant it has been the custom of each incoming President to choose the Bible verse he considers appropriate. A study of these verses offers some insight into the mental responses of a President to his times.

Rutherford B. Hayes in 1877 felt keenly the bitter criticism of his political opponents. He chose Psalms 118:11-13, which begins, "The compassed me about, yea, they compassed me about, but in the name of the Lord I will destroy them."

James A. Garfield had been a teacher and preacher, and knew well his Bible. He selected Proverbs 21:1 as his guiding verse: "The king's heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the rivers of water; he turneth it whithersoever he will. After the assassination of Garfield, Chester A. Arthur assumed office with the first three verses of the thirty-first Psalm to comfort and strengthen him: "In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust, let me never be ashamed; deliver me in Thy righteousness. Bow down Thine ear to me, deliver me speedily, be Thou my strong rock, for a house of defence to save me. For thou art my rock and my fortress, therefore for Thy name's sake lead me, and guide me by Thy goodness."

Grover Cleveland chose Psalm 112:4-10, the most significant verse, perhaps, being: "He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the Lord. At his second inauguration, Mr. Cleveland again chose the Psalms, using verses 12 to 16 from the 91st including these words: "He shall call upon me, and I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honor him. Benjamin Harrison selected his favorite Psalm, the 121st beginning: "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. McKinley's selection was from the prayer of Solomon, II Chronicles 1:10: "Give me now wisdom and knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this people; for who can judge this Thy people, that is so great?"

At his second inauguration he turned to Proverbs 16:20-21: "He that handleth a matter wisely shall find good; and who so trusteth in the Lord, happy is he. The wise in heart shall be called prudent; and the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning. Theodore Roosevelt was a man of action and it is significant that he chose James 1:22-23: "Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man who is building a house upon a rock. William Howard Taft had always the judicial mind and chose his verse from the third chapter of the Book of First Kings: "Give thereof Thy servant an understanding heart to judge Thy people, that I may discern between good and bad; for who is able to judge this Thy so great a people? Woodrow Wilson loved the Psalms and chose verses from them at both his inaugurations. At the first one he used a verse from Psalm 118: "I will speak of Thy testimonies also before kings, and will not be ashamed. At his second inauguration, the United States war overshadowed with the dark clouds of the Great War in Europe as now, Wilson selected that great Psalm, the 46th, beginning: "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea. Warren G. Harding selected Micah 6:8: "He that shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? Everyone knows the simple story of Calvin Coolidge being sworn in at his father's home in the tiny village of Plymouth, Vermont. Visitors to the old-fashioned little parlor can see still the family Bible which was used. Upon his inauguration in Washington in 1923 Mr. Coolidge selected I John 1:15: "This then is the message which we have heard of him and declare unto you, that God is light, and in Him is no darkness at all. Herbert Hoover, the Quaker President chose the 18th verse of the 29th chapter of Proverbs: "Where there is no vision, the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he. It will be interesting to note what Bible verse Franklin Roosevelt used on the historic occasion of the first three-term inauguration in American history. In a world where many countries are ruled by men who have discarded the Bible, it is not surprising that the Presidents of the United States turn to the Bible for guidance and comfort. —Christian Science Monitor, Boston, Mass.

Trusteth in the Lord — happy is he. The wise in heart shall be called prudent; and the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning. Theodore Roosevelt was a man of action and it is significant that he chose James 1:22-23: "Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man who is building a house upon a rock. William Howard Taft had always the judicial mind and chose his verse from the third chapter of the Book of First Kings: "Give thereof Thy servant an understanding heart to judge Thy people, that I may discern between good and bad; for who is able to judge this Thy so great a people? Woodrow Wilson loved the Psalms and chose verses from them at both his inaugurations. At the first one he used a verse from Psalm 118: "I will speak of Thy testimonies also before kings, and will not be ashamed. At his second inauguration, the United States war overshadowed with the dark clouds of the Great War in Europe as now, Wilson selected that great Psalm, the 46th, beginning: "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea. Warren G. Harding selected Micah 6:8: "He that shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? Everyone knows the simple story of Calvin Coolidge being sworn in at his father's home in the tiny village of Plymouth, Vermont. Visitors to the old-fashioned little parlor can see still the family Bible which was used. Upon his inauguration in Washington in 1923 Mr. Coolidge selected I John 1:15: "This then is the message which we have heard of him and declare unto you, that God is light, and in Him is no darkness at all. Herbert Hoover, the Quaker President chose the 18th verse of the 29th chapter of Proverbs: "Where there is no vision, the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he. It will be interesting to note what Bible verse Franklin Roosevelt used on the historic occasion of the first three-term inauguration in American history. In a world where many countries are ruled by men who have discarded the Bible, it is not surprising that the Presidents of the United States turn to the Bible for guidance and comfort. —Christian Science Monitor, Boston, Mass.

Trusteth in the Lord — happy is he. The wise in heart shall be called prudent; and the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning. Theodore Roosevelt was a man of action and it is significant that he chose James 1:22-23: "Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man who is building a house upon a rock. William Howard Taft had always the judicial mind and chose his verse from the third chapter of the Book of First Kings: "Give thereof Thy servant an understanding heart to judge Thy people, that I may discern between good and bad; for who is able to judge this Thy so great a people? Woodrow Wilson loved the Psalms and chose verses from them at both his inaugurations. At the first one he used a verse from Psalm 118: "I will speak of Thy testimonies also before kings, and will not be ashamed. At his second inauguration, the United States war overshadowed with the dark clouds of the Great War in Europe as now, Wilson selected that great Psalm, the 46th, beginning: "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea. Warren G. Harding selected Micah 6:8: "He that shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? Everyone knows the simple story of Calvin Coolidge being sworn in at his father's home in the tiny village of Plymouth, Vermont. Visitors to the old-fashioned little parlor can see still the family Bible which was used. Upon his inauguration in Washington in 1923 Mr. Coolidge selected I John 1:15: "This then is the message which we have heard of him and declare unto you, that God is light, and in Him is no darkness at all. Herbert Hoover, the Quaker President chose the 18th verse of the 29th chapter of Proverbs: "Where there is no vision, the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he. It will be interesting to note what Bible verse Franklin Roosevelt used on the historic occasion of the first three-term inauguration in American history. In a world where many countries are ruled by men who have discarded the Bible, it is not surprising that the Presidents of the United States turn to the Bible for guidance and comfort. —Christian Science Monitor, Boston, Mass.

The Central Guardian

This column is reserved for news of local interest. An advertisement of a new nature may be inserted at 5 cents a word, strictly payable in advance.

CONFEDERATION LIFE INSURANCE

MANY FRIENDS HERE. — Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Lowe, of Grande Prairie, Alberta, have announced the engagement of their daughter Penelope Mary to Mr. Albert Edward Powell of Ottawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Powell, Grande Prairie, wedding to take place in Toronto early in February.

FUNERAL SERVICES. — The funeral services for Mrs. Robert Marchbank were held from her late residence at Traveller's Rest on Friday afternoon, Nov. Mr. Hoddint, pastor of North Bedouque United Church, conducted the service. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Wyman Cairns, Jack Scott, Kenneth Calbeck, Clarence Marchbank, Jack Marchbank and Harry Heffell. Interment was in the North Bedouque Cemetery. —S.

PASSES IN EDMONTON. — Mrs. Herbert Murphy, of Charlottetown Sunday night, received the sad news of the passing of her brother, Rev. Joseph Fay in hospital at Edmonton, Alta. Father Fay was ill about two weeks. He was parish priest at Mearams, Alta. Father Fay was a native of Newport, P. E. I., where his brothers Malcolm and Leo as well as his mother, Mrs. James Fay, still reside. He graduated from St. Dunstan's in '21 and after studying at the Grand Seminary at Quebec in 1924. Shortly after going west in '24 he became pastor at Mearams, Alta. There he remained for several years. Later he was transferred to Daysland, Alta. He visited the Island two years ago. His body is being sent home but the date of arrival and of the funeral will be given later. Interment will be at St. Georges Cemetery.

PERSONALS
Pte. Leslie MacNeven, R. C. A. M. C., returns this morning to Debert camp, N. S., after spending a fortnight at his home, Argyle Shore.

Miss Freda Jake has arrived by plane from Moncton and is visiting her sister, Mrs. Maurice Block and Mr. Block, Hillsboro St.

LINES ON LORD BADEN-POWELL
Let loyal Scouts applaud his name For he has won immortal fame, Not for defence of Mafeking, But for a grander nobler thing.

Know various frustrated youth There's nothing grander than the Truth. He taught you noble to be Not to abuse your liberty, But to the weak to render aid; On victorious actresses to be staid.

He taught you to be strong and brave And at your peril life to save, Remember your Chief Scout's last word For life existent be prepared.

He knew the loyal hearts of boys Their enthusiasms and their joys, On helpfulness and courtesy Lies the romance of charity And what is nobler than a youth Whose character is based on truth. —C. T. E.

PHILATELIST'S PROBLEMS
Wartime restrictions continue to hamper the activities of stamp collectors in Canada. The best news has been taken by the customs division of the Canada Post Office Department, which has adopted a policy of stamp approval sheets from the United States or elsewhere for enemy nation stamps believed to have been slipped into Canadian mails amid foreign assortments. Particular attention is being paid to mint copies, the purchase of which comes under the heading of trading with the enemy, while re-issues are being allowed to come under the ban. Sheets containing enemy stamps are being returned to the sender.

Evolution of Standard Hospitals

The evolution of the modern hospital was the subject of an interesting paper read at Rotary luncheon yesterday by Hon. Dr. W.J.P. MacMillan.

After expressing his thanks to the other Superior and Sisters of the Charlottetown Hospital for the preparation of the paper, Dr. MacMillan read as follows: "The history of medicine and surgery dates from the earliest ages. When we retrace our steps back over the centuries we find the ad-jointing manereries in the Swiss Alps where the weary traveller was sheltered and fed. From this humble beginning is derived the word Hospital meaning host. One of these is the famous Alpine hospice of St. Bernard founded in 962 still gives aid to the traveller and sends its renowned dogs to the rescue of those who maintain others. Even before this time the monks of the Ancient Civilizations of India and Egypt had crude hospitals where their sick could be cared for. It is known that the first hospital was founded in Ceylon as early as 437 B. C.

A Long Road
The Hospital in its growth has climbed a long and crooked road often beset with many pitfalls. It has travelled along from India and Egypt to Greece and Rome, to England, France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Arabia and later to America. Hospitals have had their alternating dark and golden ages as barriers of prejudice and ignorance had to be broken down before they attained the position they hold today. In tracing the history of the growth of Hospitals we find that a great many organizations, as we would understand it today, have manifested. It was not until after the middle of the 19th century that Hospitals discovered that they needed a special organization. The fruits of this discovery resulted in a new view of the hospital's function, that of service to the patient which is the paramount purpose of the development of medicine, surgery, nursing and organization.

Now in considering the term standardization in relation to the Hospital it was necessary to accept as basic, a service minded leadership best suited to meet the demands of the patient insuring for him safety in his health and happiness. This standard is based on justice and fairness to the patient, moral responsibility and devotion to duty on the part of hospital workers. One must keep in mind that a hospital itself cannot be standardized — we can standardize only service. All the hospital's human equipment must be organized in such a way as to focus on the patient. Service originates in the research laboratories and teaching institutions and ends at the patient's feet. Ideas must be stretched to meet the needs of the patient until he becomes more reasonable.

The first stimulus for organization in American Hospitals came in 1893 when the American Hospital Association was founded in 1893. This organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements of the American College of Surgeons has been the standardization of the hospital. The organization was formed mostly for the purpose of improving Hospital Management. Fifteen years later in 1908 the American College of Surgeons was founded by Dr. Franklin H. Martin. One of the greatest achievements