Strange Japanese
Cult Had Secrets

TOKIO, July 4.—Revelations concerning the Omotokyo, or the "great fundamental religion," whose leaders have been put in jail after a raid on their headquarters, show that the directors of this cult were pretending to exercise some of the prerogatives of an imperial Japanese family. An account of this raid and some of the discoveries made by the Japanese police were carried by cable at that time.

It is charged that the adherents of this organization referred to their religion as "God Administration Era." The authorities say Japan is an indignity against the throne, because the designation of names of eras is a right that belongs only to the Emperor.

As a result of this and other discoveries, less majestic is one of the charges which have been preferred against the Omotokyo. The cult's leader, Wansaburo Deguchi, the leader of the movement, who with others was taken into custody by the authorities at Kyoto after the raid, about May 10.

It is probable that exaggerated designs are being attributed to the religion, but the newspapers charge it with numerous crimes, including murder.

One of the discoveries made in the course of the raid was a secret apartment beneath the golden tower in the centre of the headquarters of the sect. The authorities say that judging from the papers confiscated, this secret cell was designed to confine a "certain person" when the Omotokyo leaders and followers launched operations they are said to have contemplated. It was so constructed that it could be readily flooded with water from a pond in the garden of the headquarters so that the prisoner could be drowned.

Near this cell was found another secret underground room devoted ostensibly to special religious functions. The newspapers have charged that this cell was intended to contain women prisoners.

Omotokyo taught the reconstruction and reorganization of the Japanese state and purported to give the way for a social upheaval which, in its turn, was to give Japan dominion over all the earth. Part of its scriptures are contained in a book entitled "The Volume of Fire," the contents of which have not been made public.

PRINCE CONFERS HONORS

BERLIN, June 29.—For the first time since the beginning of the war Prince Eitel Fritz yesterday, as Grand Master of the German Order of St. John, performed the ceremony of knighting a certain number of officers.

All the high court officials and many members of the Hohenzollern family, among them the Crown Princess, as well as commanders and past commanders, including Field Marshal Hindenburg, were present and masqued in gorgeous attire in high boots, and hats adorned with ostrich feathers, as the by-laws of St. John's Order prescribed for the occasion.

Prince Oskar Hohenzollern was first to be dubbed by his brother and Grand Master Eitel Fritz, while Hindenburg stood by like a statue of iron, with a heavy sword raised as if ready to knock down any intruder.

There was seventy-nine probationers, and all swore they would "always and in all eventualities whatever serve his Majesty the King of Prussia, the only rightful sovereign whom they vowed to defend with their lives—as if there had been no revolution and Wilhelm was still in power."

Friedrich Wilhelm, "by the grace of God Prince of Lippe," pours out his cup of bitterness over Prince Max of Baden, in an article in the reactionary Deutsches Abendblatt, accusing him of high treason and conspiring with Socialists and Communists to dispose Wilhelm Hohenzollern by the revolution of November 18, which he characterizes as the most dastard crime in history.

The main object of the Lippe princeling's article, however, seems to be that he wishes to call attention to the fact that although he had the courage publicly to insult Prince Max in a similar manner as far back as March 19, the latter had not yet answered for challenging him to fight a duel or by legal action.

Max of Baden's friends say he will never deign to notice the Lippe princeling.

GERMAN PAYMENT

PARIS, July 3.—Payment of 800,000,000 gold marks still owing by Germany as a first slice of her reparations bill can be made in European currencies, according to a decision which has just been taken by the principal allied European governments and approved by the Reparations Commission.

This decision, which involves a risk for the countries concerned will have, it is expected, the effect of lowering the price of the dollar on the European market, or at least of preventing a rise to the extent that has recently been the case. The arrangement is only experimental and temporary, but if it works successfully it will probably be extended and confirmed.
