THE BAPTIST CHURCH

His text "Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid, ye believe in God, believe also in me." The speaker affirmed his belief in God. A world without God would not exist. God is a fact, but it is he in a world of natural law and hard fact. We live in a world of law and order. Ignorance of law is no excuse. In this life we hope to know God is not marked. Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap. Our help is in God. Whence doth come my help. If God is like Jesus, then it means that God is in truth the greatest good. It means that the highest law of human living is that we should care for and be considerate of our neighbors, as of ourselves, and that to do otherwise is to go against the law of God. Choose ye this day whom ye will serve. In the willing and glad acceptance of the higher service our hearts need, not be troubled neither will they be afraid. We believe in God. We also believe he is like Jesus. The God of Jacob is with us. The God of time O Lord.

At night the text was "No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another He dwelleth in us and His love is perfected in us." 1 John 4-12 and the sermon was a splendid exposition of Christian nature that is frequently attached to love—Christian love (1) sympathy, care (2) consideration and (3) sympathy. The limit of our opportunity of our obligation is our brother's need—Wherever there is need Christian love requires that he should be cared for, helped, looked after, and given consideration and sympathy. "If a man say he loveth God and hateth his brother he is a liar."

Mr. A. R. Gillis sang in the morning "God is my light" and Mrs. W. A. Jenkins at night sang, "O Lord, my Shepherd." These solos were well rendered and greatly appreciated. At the close of the morning service words of appreciation were expressed to Mr. Connell of the Royal Bank staff who is transferred to Sydney and leaves for that place by the Hochberg today. Mr. Connell has been a very faithful member of our choir during his residence here and his departure is regretted, but he carries with him the respect and best wishes of Trinity choir.

Rev. Mr. Boothroyd of Hunter River will preach at both services next Sunday.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

A detachment of officers and men of the H.M.S. "Dragon" paraded to St. Paul's Church for the morning service; the lessons for the morning were read by Captain Wake-Walker.

After extending a hearty welcome to the representatives of His Majesty's Navy Reverend H. D. Raymond, the Rector, delivered a very acceptable sermon from the text, Romans 14:19 "Let us therefore follow for peace and things whereunto we may edify another."

Mr. Raymond by referring to the Holy Scriptures showed that one great requisite for following the command of the Apostle St. Paul in his Epistle to the Romans was love. First of all we must learn to love one another and having done this we must be seen to do things which will serve to "build up one another."

The offertory solo, "The Good Shepherd" Van de Water, was sung by Mrs. Arthur Roper.

The lessons at the evening service were Samuel 12:1-23, St. Matthew 7. The hymns 379, 513, 402 and 25.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

In the supply arranged for the month of July and August our congregation was fortunate in having Rev. Chas. Krug, Professor of Philosophy at Mount Allison on the program for he has given delightfully interesting and thought provoking sermons for the last two Sundays. In fact the enthusiasm created made me after yesterday morning service. He said "I think he is just a darling." His personality and the manner of presenting his views add greatly to their impressiveness.

The subject of Mr. Krug's morning address was "Belief in God."

Mrs. Edward F. O'Brien and young son of Montreal, is visiting her mother, Mrs. S. R. Jenkins, Brighton Road.

Mrs. Alvin Sample and two children, Biddle and Vivian of Winnipeg, Man., arrived on the Island last Saturday on a visit to Mrs. Sample's father, Mr. Henry Vaughan, Cumberland Street.

Mrs. Roy Carter and Miss Myrtle Cutcliffe of Fredericton also, Miss Helen MacKay of Charlottetown were passengers on Monday from Boston, Mass.

Mr. Edwin Crockett, of Toronto, Assistant General Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, is spending a vacation at his old home in York. He is accompanied by Mrs. Crockett.

Mr. A. Allison Campbell, Principal of the South Park School, Victoria, B.C. accompanied by his son, Elmer, has arrived in the city to spend a month's vacation at his old home in Prince Edward Island. Mr. Campbell was formerly Vice Principal of the Macdonald Consolidated School at Hillsboro.

It is with regret that the Guardian reports the serious illness of Mr. Edmund Hamberly, of Norwood Road, East Royalty, who has been in the P. E. Island Hospital for observation. Mr. Hamberly returned a few days ago to his home and expresses appreciation of the great kindness he received from the doctors, matron, nurses and the orderly, which did much to relieve his anxiety. His many friends look for his speedy recovery.

IN MEMORIAM Finds Feeling Favourable To Hitler's Action

(By Rudolph Josten) (Associated Press Foreign Staff) (A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) BRESLAU, Silesia, Germany, July 7.—The killing of Edmund Heines, Chief of Police of Breslau, and guard of about 100 storm troopers changed the whole public outlook in this city, inquiries developed today.

The meaning of the "second revolution" which Chancellor Hitler suppressed by killing such men as Heines became clearer when it was learned at first hand that the "traitors" had planned their uprising to the last detail.

All storm troop detachments here had been given hard "emergency training" for several days before Hitler struck June 30, and waited only to be commanded to go into action.

No press dispatches were sent to the national capital regarding the situation here, and a member of the Berlin staff of the Associated Press came here to investigate.

Never did a foreign correspondent meet greater resistance in getting information in time of peace and order.

The citizens were reluctant to talk and become less hesitant only after repeated assurances that the correspondent was not seeking "atrocious propaganda."

The death of Heines, whose rule was considered absolute, is highly significant in Breslau.

It is frankly admitted that among storm troop men were many who would have taken Heines' side openly at the risk of losing their lives.

With their supreme group commander dead, however, the rank and file of troopers apparently lost spirit and submitted readily to the orders of the police.

Breslau breathed distinctly easier today, and there was a general feeling of appreciation toward Hitler for having quelled the threatened revolt.

Refuse License To Siamese Twin Expert Finds No Difference In Handwriting

By Max Hill, Associated Press Staff Writer. (By Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, July 7.—Refused permission to marry in two states because she is a Siamese twin, red-haired Violet Milton and her would-be bridegroom, Maurice L. Lambert, decided tonight to wage a legal battle for the license.

In both New York and New Jersey officials were unyielding to pleas of Violet, accompanied of course by Daisy, the left hand of the famous twins, and Lambert. They based their refusal on moral grounds.

The trio appeared first at the municipal license bureau in Manhattan where a stammering clerk delayed them while he sought a legal refuge in the corporation counsel's office. After a lengthy study of legal tomes was made, it was decided there would be no license issued.

The twins and Lambert journeyed to Newark, N. J., where the perplexed clerk's refusal was based on the same moral grounds.

"We'll go to Ekton, Md.," said Violet.

But instead the trio turned back to New York, and their attorney said he would start mandamus proceedings against city officials tomorrow in Supreme Court.

The corporation counsel's office admittedly based the non-issuance of the license on the theory that a city has the right of discretion in their issuance.

The officials also voiced a suspicion that the application might be a publicity stunt for a forthcoming vaudeville tour of the twins, who are joined together at the hips.

Edwards And Piers In Every Final

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) HALIFAX, July 6.—Commander J. C. Edwards, recently transferred here from Ottawa, and "bouncing" Bev Piers found themselves rivals in the finals of every event in the Halifax County Tennis Tournament as they swept through semi-final matches today in men's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles.

Inexperienced Don Bauld a young Dalhousie student who scored a surprising victory over "Red" Haire of New York yesterday, was not match for the veteran Edwards and was ousted in straight sets 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

Bev Piers eliminated his doubles team-mate, Harry Roper, in the semi-final bracket of the men's singles after losing the first set of a "best two out of three" match. They played a short afternoon which lasted three hours. Piers finally won out 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Piers and Roper, Nova Scotia doubles champions, were in the finals of the County tournament for the fourth year in succession, but they go there only after one of the most bitterly fought matches in their long experience. In a five set match they eliminated the hard-hitting "Red" Haire and his youthful partner Bobby Donahoe, 6-3, 6-4, 6-8, 5-7, 9-7.

Piers and Donahoe were in match game several times, but in veterans managed to battle their way out of the tough spots.

Edwards and Eric Woodworth had no difficulty except in the final set eliminating the comparatively unknown but surprising combination of Ben Russell and Gordie White.

Marine Enquiry Is Delayed

(C. P. Cable) (By Guardian's Special Wire) ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 7.—Refusal of Captain Edward Vardy and three officers of the steamship Silver City to testify at a marine enquiry into the loss of five Newfoundland seamen aboard the Schooner Ethel Collett resulted in the adjournment to await the outcome of manslaughter charges against the witnesses.

Claiming that the criminal actions superseded the marine enquiry, counsel for the four declared that the investigation should be delayed pending preliminary hearing of the manslaughter charges. His clients might incriminate themselves by testifying now, he said.

The enquiry opened June 13, three days after the Silver City and the Ethel Collett collided off Torbay. Following the crash the schooner sailed on into the darkness without a helmsman but with all sails set before the wind. The Silver City followed but the smaller craft sank with all aboard while still several hundred feet ahead.

At the outset Captain Vardy told the Marine Court he was not carrying the two white masthead lights required to indicate he had vessel in tow. He was towing the schooner I'm Alone at the time of the collision.

The enquiry was adjourned to permit him to make a scheduled trip to the northern outposts and when he returned several days later he and his three officers were charged with manslaughter.
