THE MARKETS

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 9.—Owing to the fact that foreign business were again below local exporters views, the export trade in Canadian grain on the Montreal market today continued inactive. There was some demand from local and country buyers and car lots of oats and a considerable amount of business was done, flour trade was without any new features to note, business and shipping wheat grades being quiet but prices were steady. The undertone to the millfeed market was firm under a fair inquiry from local sources. The demand for standard grades of rolled oats was again small but values were unchanged. The feature of the egg trade was the feeling that prices for extras scored an advance of three cents per dozen and the lower grades one to three cents. Receipts seem to be falling late and the quality of eggs coming forward fresh extras were quoted at 40 and firsts at 34, per dozen. A firmer feeling prevailed in the butter market and prices regulared a fractional advance under a moderate local demand. No. 1 pasteurized quoted at 32¾ to 33 cents per pound, the receipts were 2,207 packages. A stronger tone prevailed in the cheese trade and advanced ½ cent to ¼ per pound. Western grades were sold at 17⅛ cents to 17¾ cents per pound and eastern grades at 14¾ cents to 15 cents per pound the receipts were 8,872 boxes.

British Leaders Uneasy Over Issue In Dominion

LONDON, Aug. 5. — The Canadian situation with its constitutional issue is still arousing much uneasiness among political leaders in spite of a desire to drop the affair.

Col. L. C. M. S. Amery, secretary for dominion affairs, speaking at a dinner to 250 university graduates from Canada in honor of Viscount Willingdon last night, plainly emphasized the words."The Empire is passing through difficult times. What would keep it together is not any constitutional device but sympathy and understanding between its citizens and a vivid faith in the future."

There is a distinct realization everywhere of the importance of events in Canada but it is understood that Lord Willingdon is so impressed by Canadians he has met in Canada and here that he believes the task will not appear so difficult as some of the gloomiest imagine.

Sir Campbell Stuart paid a tribute to Lady Willingdon, saying that he is certain the women of Canada will indeed be fortunate in the Governor-General's wife and Lord Willingdon's greatest success was in marrying her.

Weak Ones Warned To Stay Away

FROM "WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES" NOW SHOWING AT THE PRINCE EDWARD THEATRE

Tom Jones is in town and he can be seen at the Prince Edward Theatre, where "What Happened to Jones" the latest Universal-Jewel, holds forth, to the riotous amusement of capacity audiences.

People with weak ribs who can't stand the strain of laughing are advised not to see the hilarious tickler.

The photoplay is a rollicking farce comedy with a laugh every minute. Reginald Denny, Universal star, portrays the role of Tom Jones, a wealthy bible manufacturer, who starts for his home, after bidding his finance farewell, on the eve of his wedding.

Although he had faithfully promised her to go straight home, he is lured into a friendly poker game, which is raided by the police. In his frantic effort to flee from the minions of the law, he exits via the fire ecape, enters an open window, and is horrified to find himself in a woman's Turkish Bath.

Thereafter, complications pile up mountain high. The poor hero is forced to assume various disguises and with each attempt to clear himself, he falls deeper and deeper into the mire of despond.

Denny fans will not be disappointed in this latest effort of the popular star. He puts into work his usual sense of humor and flair for comedy and makes a most entertaining story.

"What Happened to Jones," is a photoplay version of the famous stage play of the same name, written by George Broadhurst and first produced in the early Nineties The picture was directed by William A. Seiter, from a screen adaption by Mel. Brown.

"Eight cylinder Bull" starts the laughing and the feature keeps it going right to the last fade out.

National Trilogy Comes From Pen Of B. C. Judge

Canadian Anthem and Two Other Poems Constitute Patriotic Set of Three Written by Hon. Mr. Justice Archer Martin of B. C. Court of Appeal.

It is not uncommon for distinguished jurists and statesmen to employ their spare time to literary pursuits. The great Gladstone found sufficient leisure in the midst of a busy life to write scholarly works of exegesis on the Greek texts. The late Lord Morley was, possibly, a writer first and a statesman afterwards, but Disraeli managed to produce novels which are still excellent pictures of his times while engaged in the strenuous activities of British politics. Lord Bacon was perhaps the first of a long succession of distinguished lawyers who have made names in literature.

Mr. Justice Archer Martin of the Court of Appeal of British Columbia, is quite in the tradition in turning his scholarly hand to poetry. Below are given the poems of a patriotic trilogy of which the first is intended as a Canadian National Anthem. It was published in the Canadian Bookman, which introduced it as follows:

"Competition for the past of National Anthem writer (in English) to the Canadian people becomes more and more keen. The special committee of the C. A. A. which has been working on the question of the desirability and possibility of securing one single and unanimous accepted English version of "O Canada" has been inundated, ever since the publicity given to its proceedings at the Ottawa convention, with the manuscripts of ambitious writers. And this month a distinguished member of the association. Hon. Mr. Justice Archer Martin of the Court of Appeal, Victoria, B. C., secured the approval of the "Native Sons of Canada," through their grand council in session at Victoria, for his anthem entitled "Canada, Our Canada," the music for which has not yet been provided. The Canadian Bookman has been obliged, owing to their immense numbers, to refrain from printing any of the "O Canada" versions: but we feel at liberty to print Judge Martin's admirably brief stanzas as an example of what may be done by breaking loose from the limitations of a pre-determined musical setting."

The trilogy follows:

I.—CANADA, OUR CANADA!

Hail! stately country of our sires!
To Thee we light the altar fires
Ne'er to be quenched till life expires,
Canada, our Canada!

Chorus—
Canada, we hail Thee!
Whoever may assail Thee,
Never shall we fail Thee,
Canada ,our Canada!

Each true son's heart glows with the flame,
Of patriot pride to see Thy name,
Writ large upon the roll of fame,
Canada, our Canada!

From East to St Elias towers,
The cry comes through th' awakened hours—
"Arise, assert Thy manhood's powers,
Canada, our Canada!

"The time has come to take Thy place.
Among the nations, face to face,
Equal at last with ev'ry race,"
Canada, our Canada!"

*Mt. St. Elias (18,024 feet) over looking the Pacific and forming the southwest corner boundary between the Yukon and Alaska.

II—CANADIANS ALL!

(Dedicated to those truly loyal Canadians who are engaged in the patriotic and most necessary work of helping Canada to find her Soul.—Jan. 1, 1926)

In our broad Land must be no place
For racial strife to show its face,
Or jealousy our hearts enthral;
For we should be,
From sea to sea,
Canadians all !

But though our Native Land be fair
It lacks a something in the air—
A Soul to sound a clarion call:
This shall not be—
From sea to sea
A Soul set free,
Canadians all!

The Soul of Nationality,
In sovereign reality,
To bind both great and small:
Then we shall be
From sea to sea
In amity, sincerity,
In unity, in verity,
Canadians all!

III.—OUR FATHERLAND

(Dedicated to those truly patriotic Canadian who feel that our own land is our Fatherland.—July 1, 1926).

O true Canadians, love this land,
Esteem it o'er all other,
Itself alone an Empire grand,
Our Fatherland, our Mother.

All honor be to that great name
Of gallant France so fair,
Whence dauntless bands of settlers came,
The first to breathe our air.

And equal honor proudly pay
To England, Scotland, Ireland;
But this Land of the maple spray
Stands first of all—our Sireland.

BASEBALL

Baseball locally has begun to sing its swan song; but a few more games remain to conclude a very satisfactory season in which thousands some new and old fans have enjoyed to the utmost. Nevertheless before saying adieu for the year the game has yet to be patronized, more so than ever during the final fixtures of the City League. Up to the present the Stars stand out as leaders, having won the first section, but now comes the most crucial test. They are yet runners-up for the second half and the championship, but if the Anchors succeed in besting them in the second section race, a play-off will be necessary to decide the title holders. At all events, as mentioned above, thousands are expected to witness the concluding games and play-off.

Tonight's Game

This evening the Anchors and Stars play in one of the final games of the last section. Much speculation and no little interest is manifested as a result therefore one of the largest attendances this year is anticipated.

Facts For Voters

Relief from taxation,—that is what is wanted, to reduce the cost of living and make our earnings go farther in supplying our needs. The difference between the political parties is very clear. Each has a record and each has a policy.

The record of the Conservative party is this: When in power they raise the taxes, and when in opposition they vote against lowering them.

The record of the Liberal party is that whether in power or in opposition they work to reduce our tax burdens.

When the Conservatives were in power before they imposed three cent postage, a three per cent tax on all sales by wholesale, a huge tax on incomes and high customs duties on imported goods. When the Liberal Government proposed to lower the import tax on agricultural implements the Conservative Government proposed to lower the import tax on agricultural implements the Conservatives opposed it with all their power, and in the late session every Conservative in Parliament voted against the Robb budget which lowered the postal rate from three cents to two cents, abolished the receipt tax, reduced the income tax and reduced the duty on automobiles.

And for the future what are the policies of the two parties concerning taxation? The Conservative leader promises more protection. He is obsessed with the queer belief that this country can be taxed into prosperity. The Liberal leader has publicly stated that a return of his party will bring about further reduction of taxation.

The Conservative leader would raise the tariff against the United States,—that is to say he would wage a war of tariffs. How would a tariff war with the United States help Prince Edward Island? One of the first results would be an increased duty on our potatoes, and the splendid export business which our Potato Growers' Association has built up would be knocked on the head.

When the people rejected Mr. Meighen as Premier on December 6, 1921, the Canadian dollar was 8 per cent. below par in exchange for the United States dollar. On the day, recently, that the Governor-General forced Mr. Mackenzie King to resign our dollar was above par.

When Mr. Meighen left office five years ago Canada was showing an adverse trade balance of 30 million dollars per year. Today the Dominion enjoys a favorable trade balance of 401 million dollars, which is the highest per capita of all the countries in the world.

When the Conservatives were put out of power by popular vote in 1921 the Canadian National Railways were producing a yearly operating deficit of 11½ million dollars. After four and a half years of Liberal rule, these railways are earning an operating surplus of 34 million dollars.

When the Meighen Government left office in 1921 there was 15.1 per cent of unemployment among organized workers of Canada, a worse condition than in June of that year, when general employment was only 86.55 per cent, of what it was in January of 1920. But on June 1, 1926, after four years of Liberal rule, employment was 101 per cent of what it was six years earlier.

It is not necessary to argue that these substantial improvements were due wholly to the fact that the country during the last four years has been under Liberal administration. The facts speak for themselves. But there is no doubt in the world that the Liberal tariff policy of reducing the customs duting as evidenced most conspicuously in the popular Robb Budget this year, has been a very important contributing factor in the growth of foreign trade and the revival of general prosperity. In Mr. Meighen's campaign last year "blue ruin" was the dominant note of the Conservative appeal to the electors. They were told that unless the Liberal Government was defeated and Mr. Meighen given power to put into effect "his distinctive policy of protection" the country was doomed to disaster. What has happened has falsified all these gloomy prophesies of evil.

Last October Mr. Meighen insisted that the tariff was the only issue before the electors. The results showed that the people voted against Mr. Meighen's tariff policy and that popular verdict was given expression in the Robb Budget of this year. That budget has been received throughout the Dominion with popular acclaim, because it effected substantial reductions in the tariff and other tax imposts. Its effect is reflected in the continued remarkable increase in foreign trade and in growing business activity and prosperity.—Chronicle.

Premier Meighen now admits that automobile prices have been reduced without loss to the manufacturer, but he says "Every dollar saved by the buyer of a car is a dollar taken from the treasury." But, it is pointed out, the treasury does not require that dollar because the MacKenzie King Government produced a 35 million surplus last year. It is a surplus producing tax-reducing Government.—Chronicle.
