RETURNED HEROES

The following young men returned home Thursday from overseas, but owing to their arrival not been noted they did not receive a public reception.

Private A. B. McLeod of Grandview, son of Mrs. J. R. McLeod, who left here with the 105 Battalion was one of the number. He is suffering from the effects of having been severaly gassed upon two different occasions. Private McLeod took part in many of the hardest fought battles and although suffering from the German gas, looks remarkably well.

Another hero was Corporal D. McEachern of Riverton, son of Mrs. Margaret McEachern.

Corporal McEachern left here a member of D. Company of the 105th Battalion. He crossed to France and engaged in several of the combats, finally being shot through the ankle. After going the rounds of the hospitals, for which he has the highest praise, he was invalided home.

The third hero was Private C. J. Dwan of St. Peter's Bay, son of Mrs. Mary Dwan. He left here a member of the 105th Battalion and after being in France for some time contracted trench fever which left him unfit for further military duty. He was therefore allowed to return to Canada.

IN MEMORIAM

CELINA GAUDET.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gaudet, of Miscouche, was saddened on the morning of April first by the death of their second eldest daughter Celina after an illness of two weeks of meningitis, during which every care and attention was lavished upon her and all that the medical skill of three doctors and a trained nurse could do proved of no avail.

The deceased young lady was only 13 years of age but she was exceptionally bright and clever for her age and a universal favorite.

During her illness she was frequently visited by her pastor Rev. Dr. Monaghan and the sisters of Notre Dame Convent, Miscouche, of which she was one of the brightest and most favorite pupils. Besides the sorrowing parents there are left to mourn five brothers and three sisters. The funeral, which was exceptionally large took place on Tuesday morning, the levee du corps was rendered at the house by her pastor, who was also the celebrant of the Requiem High Mass which was sung by a full choir under Mrs. J. Doiron organist of Miscouche Church. The last sad rites at the grave were also performed by Rev. Dr. Monaghan. That dear Celina was beloved was evinced by the numerous offerings of spiritual boquets and High Masses which will assuage the loss of the grief-stricken parents.—R.I.P.

MR. FRED SMITH

Mr. Arthur E. Smith, of Messrs. Morris & Smith, received a telegram yesterday dated Seattle, Washington April 10th, stating that his brother, Mr. Fred Smith had died on that date in that city of typhoid fever. No further particulars were given.

Mr. Fred Smith left Charlottetown about two months ago with his wife and family to permanently engage in farming operations in Washington. He was about forty-three years of age and at that time was enjoying excellent health. It appears, however, that typhoid fever is prevailent in Seattle and yesterday the sad news comes that he has succumbed to the dread disease.

Mr. Smith was well and favorably known in Charlottetown, where he resided the greater part of his life. His wife was Miss Mary McFadyen, of West River. His widow and a family of five children, the latter by his first wife Miss Lutie Moore, daughter of the late Theophilus Moore, of this city, and who predeceased him some six years ago are left to cherish his memory and mourn their loss.
