In the passenger of Mr. Robert Clements, 30 Upper Hillboro St., yesterday morning, Charlottetown has lost an old and respected resident. Born at Union Road in 1835 he was but a few months short of 85 years of age. Having previously lived for a short time in Boston he settled in Charlottetown nearly 60 years ago and has since worked at his trade as shoemaker his six years ago. He was a devoted father and a devoted family.

About five years ago he had a slight stroke which somewhat crippled him and reduced him to feeble health. But it was not until last October that he suffered a second stroke which rendered him helpless ever since. He bore his sufferings with great courage and thorough Christian fortitude, and bravely met the end after having been strengthened by the last rites of the Catholic Church, of which he was a member. Interment was made in Holy Cross Cemetery beside the remains of his beloved wife, who pre-deceased him by ten years.

Nello, (Mrs. James O'Connor), Frank, Joseph, John and Edmund, all of whom are engaged in business in San Francisco, California.

In personal appearance, Mr. Powers was well over six feet tall and built in proportion. His manner was gentle, obliging, condescending. He could, however, say an emphatic word when the occasion required. He was a lover of peace and had no use for disturbers or small minded men. Always a rock of common sense, his advice was frequently sought by well meaning neighbors. He could always be relied upon whenever a charitable deed was to be done. Many of the old residents of Fort Augustus will lament the death of their old neighbor and respected friend.

None knew him but to love him, None named him but to praise. —FUNERAL SERVICES.—The funeral of Jessie Ruth McKay, daughter of A. S. Her mother served her with such love and devotion as to claim the admiration of the whole community. The tender little one are the little lambs of the Great Shepherd's Fold. When He calls them unto himself they should be gladly surrendered. Letting His Will to be true and wise, Heaven's music grows the sweeter because of their young. We commend the sorrowing father and mother any remaining children to the tender mercies of Jesus Christ. May they find his grace sufficient for them.
