SKYWAY LOVERS

"What's the matter with you, Al?" she asked. "A date in New York?"

"Yes!" retorted Alison.

"I'll get her back on time, don't worry," and Jim was as good as his word.

When they landed back that night the porter from the office had a message for Alison. "Somebody's sent a car for you, Miss Alison," he said. "It's over there." And he pointed to a handsome limousine. Sonny hurried into the rest room with her bag and prayed that her dress would not be too wrinkled. When she was finally ready she looked at herself critically and decided she looked rather well. Her hat showed a lot of her red hair, and the black made her skin seem whiter.

"Do!" she decided as she pulled on her new gloves. "Now for the limousine!" And she hoped the boys would be gone when she went to hang her suit away. They had waited with deliberate intent, Sonny felt sure. "Stepping out? And in society?" Phil's voice was sharp.

Nonsense, Phil. Don't be so silly! But Sonny was embarrassed and she hurried toward the car.

"The boys, Roger!" there with his pick-ups! Phil's voice came to her clearly across the dark.

Sonny was so furious tears stung her eyes, but she stepped into the car and the chauffeur closed the door sharply.

As Sonny whirled away, Phil sniggered a few times. "You know, the ways of women just pass my understanding," he told Jim slyly. "Here I thought Sonny was different, an old-fashioned girl, and the first girl with a limousine who tries to date her up—look what."

"How do you know?"

"Say, I knew the moment that guy of the boys, Roger, saw Sonny the once-over he'd try and date her! Let's get a drink!" And Phil stomped away.

Alison had been trying to sleep for some time when the buzzer of the doorbell disturbed her. She thought perhaps her mother had forgotten her key and she pushed the lock without calling downstairs through the tube. When she opened the door, a Western Union messenger stood in the doorway with a big box of flowers. Alison pulled her kimono closer and stared.

"Miss Alison—Thayer?" He read with difficulty in the dim light.

"Yes."

"I'm to wait for an answer," Alison took the envelope he held out. It was a short note.

"Dinner at 8 tomorrow night. Meet you at the Plaza." It was signed "Larry Weston."

Alison gazed. How in the world had he found out so quickly where she lived? The messenger boy stood first on one foot and then on the other.

"I got to have an answer," Alison went to the desk and scribbled a few lines. And until then, she had gone she forgot to open the flowers. The box held masses of chrysanthemums. They tumbled out and made the shabby apartment seem even shabbier, but the bright colors filled Alison's heart with joy. She rushed to get a big pitcher and finally pressed the metal waste basket over the flowers. She had a thing big enough in the whole place to hold them. She tucked Weston's note into the pocket of her dressing gown. She had told him she'd meet him if her ship got back from its run on time.

"I don't suppose I should have done it," she thought defiantly. "But I need a little fun. I'm sick and tired of all this!"

Had her mother been there, had she not felt so depressed, she never would have agreed to that dinner party. Now she had sent an acceptance. She was thrilled. But what in the world should she do? She had only one decent frock. She rushed to the clothes closet and got that out. It was black and might do in a pinch. It was a street dress. She'd bought it for a dance Phil had taken her to at the hangar at a small airport where his brother was learning to fly.

When her mother came home she found an excited girl pressing her best dress. Her red head hung over her eyes. "I'm going out to dinner tomorrow night. Mother, what do you think?"

Alison gasped. Larry had not recognized her. She knew that now. It was just another pick-up with him!

CHAPTER VI

Larry tucked Sonny's hand under his arm. "Let's go places! Too stiff here, and we're not dressed. On our way!"

In the moment they were back in the limousine and they drove for a short distance.

Shortly Sonny was facing Weston wearing a red-checked tablecloth. It was a intimate club, jammed with well-dressed girls, dapper young men. Larry had had no trouble getting a comfortable table in the crowded place. The headwaiter knew him.

"Now, tell me about yourself," Weston began after he had ordered drinks and they'd decided about dinner.

Alison smiled. Not so long ago he had said those same words and how unhappy she had been. It seemed unlikely she would be the pretty heartbreaker now. There really is nothing to tell. I work every day we have flying weather. I like it." She made a little grimace. "I think peo-

Larry's view of life

"Come, now, you begin by telling me about yourself," Alison countered.

"Well, I'm no good, for one thing. I'm lazy, my dad says. I play polo in the summer and I'm on my way to the polo field in the fall. I keep on all winter. I loathe any form of work; it's the worst kind of human endeavor. And—here's our drink." He raised his glass.

Round Up the Crowd—Sing Western Songs

Popular Ditties Make Hit

Real cowboy songs—what grand times you have warbling them with friends! And when it comes to a favorite like "When I Dream of My Red River Home"—everybody joins in.

"The peaceful fireplace, the armchair in the corner, How I miss them in the twilight all alone!

Every dream is a picture of heaven, When I dream of my Red River home."

Never mind if you don't know the words and music by heart—you follow right along with a songbook! And feelingly you croon "The Girl I Loved in Texas," popular cowboy lament.

"The girl I loved in Texas married another man, My heart lies dead in Texas, just like my every dream."

And now for a rip-roarin' song, "Lariat Bill." Put pop into it: "Wherever he came from, folks, he knew his biz, At usin' a rope, say, he sure was a whiz.

These jolly songs, many others, are given complete in our songbook of popular cowboy ditties. Has words, music, piano accompaniment for 19 favorites—including "Send Down to Santa Fe Town," "Misouri Joe," A treasure chest of fun for dates and parties.

For Tuesday, May 16th.

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—How much good nature and self-control do you possess? Today should tell you if especially calls for explanation of those help-mates. Go carefully to avoid error and misjudgment. You can do it!

APRIL 21 to MAY 20 (Taurus)—Wholesome matters, things necessary to the day's needs are favored. Selfish interests, careless expenditures, unnecessary force or bluntness are not. Tact all day, please!

MAY 21 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—One favorable aspect this morning and two this evening. However, employ careful management in your affairs. Be particular about necessary to the day's needs are favored. Selfish interests, careless expenditures, unnecessary force or bluntness are not. Tact all day, please!

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—You born to the day's needs are favored. Selfish interests, careless expenditures, unnecessary force or bluntness are not. Tact all day, please!

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Projects involving money, expansion, investments ask first consideration, especially for you born before Aug. 8. Don't be discouraged at slow returns. Good day for checking past errors and improving present method.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—If you will produce your natural aptitude for cleverly turning the mediocre into something vital and unusual and otherwise make your ingratiating self felt, you'll get good returns for your pick-up, not now, so on.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—You may encounter drawbacks if starting new undertakings, in extensive red tape, discussions and the like. It will be well to weigh the pros and cons first. Rays more favorable for finishing incomplete matters, necessary duties, domesticity.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)—Select quiet corner for thinking out difficult propositions, laboratory work, engineering, construction. Concentration and quiet important to right decisions. Don't be easily upset by trivialities.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius)—Changes likely. Looked for benefits may not show up today but you should proceed as usual with your schedule. Matters rightly started now will be fruitful in due time.

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 23 (Capricorn)—Mixed rays. In different for expensive activities, risky ventures, drastic changes. Okay for routine, minor affairs, ple are so interesting, don't you?"

ple are so interesting, don't you?" Don't tell me you have training, too? That's too much for a fellow to expect!"

BLACKHEADS

THE COOK'S CORNER

BEEF TEA

Have one lb. of beef, free from fat and bone. Cut into small squares (it must not be minced). Place in an earthenware jar with one pint of cold water. Put the lid on or tie down with grease-proof paper, then place the jar in a saucepan of hot water. Leave this open on the side of the stove for four hours to simmer or place in the oven with the gas down to the minimum. At the end of the time, strain through a muslin. Squeeze out all the juice from the meat. Before setting the beef tea aside to cool, add just a pinch of salt. Beef tea is generally given in the proportion of about five ounces at a time.

BEEF ESSENCE

One piece of good lean beef, usually about 1 lb. free from bone and fat. Cut into small squares, then place in an earthenware jar with two tablepoons of water. Put a lid or paper on the jar. Stand the jar in a hot oven and leave it for four hours. At the end of four hours, there will be about four tablepoons of deep brown fluid, which should be strained through muslin. Beef essence is given when anyone is very weak and unable to take much nourishment, and for this reason it must be remembered that only a teaspoon is given at a time.

It's not surprising that you're constipated!

If you suffer from constipation to the point that you feel weary, depressed and worn out—it is time to question yourself!

What have you eaten lately? Meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? It is not surprising then that you're constipated. Your diet lacks "bulk" and "bulk" doesn't mean quantity, but a kind of food that is not completely assimilated and leaves a soft "mass" in the bowels that helps the bowel movement.

If this is your case, the solution is tasty Kellogg's All-Bran, every morning for breakfast. It contains the necessary "bulk" and "Vitamin B," the natural intestinal tonic.

Get All-Bran every day, drink lots of water and get back your seat for life! All-Bran is made in London, Canada by Kellogg. At all grocers.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

If Your Husband Insists on Being "Boss" of His Business and His Home, Let Him be the Dictator Rather Than Break up the Marriage and Spoil a Whole Family Life

Dear Miss Dix—I am married to a fine young man, but he is so different from me that I sometimes despair. I am ambitious. He is indifferent to rest on his laurels. I am thrifty. He is extravagant. I am immaculate both in my dress and in the appearance of my home. He likes to throw things around. We have gone far financially in the last ten years despite the depression, yet he now tells me not to attempt to interest myself in his business.
