

BABY'S OWN SOAP
Softening and healing, the flower-fragrant lather of Baby's Own Soap promotes a healthy beautiful skin.

Sold Everywhere
ALBERT SOAPS LIMITED, MONTREAL

WORDS OF WISE MEN.

There are like to be short graces where the devil plays host.

Those who place their affections at first on trifles for amusement will find these trifles become at last their most serious concerns.

In small proportion we just beauties see.

And in short measures life may perfect be. —Ben Johnson.

The brave do never shun the light, Just are their thoughts, and open are their tempers.

Truly without disguise they love and hate.

And heavy and men are judges of their actions. —Rowe

CANCER DEATHS SHOW INCREASE BUT NOT LARGE

TORONTO, Jan. 26.—"There is an increase in the number of recorded deaths from cancer," said Prof. William Duane, of Harvard University, in an address last evening before the Royal Canadian Academy.

"Whether that means that the profession is more careful about making records or not, is impossible to say. The increase, however, is not large, nor does it necessarily imply an increase in the number of people who are getting cancer."

"I think we can safely say that we are coping with the disease," said the doctor.

He said: "Sometimes cancer can be removed apparently completely. Often, there is marked relief or alleviation. Sometimes, though, it is impossible to do anything. That depends upon the nature of the disease and particularly upon the situation of it."

To cure cancer of the stomach was practically impossible so far as present discoveries had proved.

Cancer was not contagious. It was sometimes inherited though, and again it developed as the result of more or less continuous injury to certain tissues.

Dr. Duane said that at Harvard in the laboratory research work of which he had charge, they had found a very small salt, enough to fill a very small salt spoon.

The radium itself was always kept in a safe and the theory that it would vanish through use, was not correct. As a matter of fact radium itself was not employed but the Harvard laboratory had discovered a system through which "radium emanation," an extract from radium, was used with just as good effect, so that the radium itself was not touched. By means of pumps this "radium emanation" was compressed into small capillary glasses which were used in the treatment of the disease. The "emanation" was the active substance in cancer as far as therapeutic use was concerned as all of the rays used come from this source.

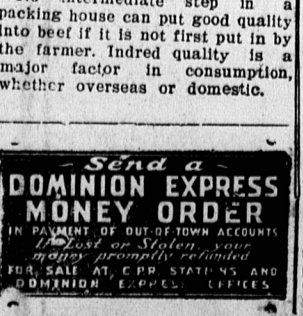

QUALITY IN BEEF

No intermediate step in a packing house can put good quality into beef if it is not first put in by the farmer. Indeed quality is a major factor in consumption, whether overseas or domestic.

SPANIARDS' CITY OF GOLD

There is romance in the name of "El Dorado." In Spanish it means "the gilded," and was first applied to a South American king who was said to cover his body with gold-dust and to bathe in a sacred lake. Next it was transferred to a fabulous golden city and then to a marvellous country of gold and gems. Legends of this mythical land and its mythical kingdom assumed many forms, and the face of the fabled city was said to be now in one spot and now in another, but always in some distant or inaccessible region. The story took hold upon the imagination of many a credulous Spaniard and vast sums were spent in sending out exploring parties, most of whom returned, disheartened by "various and disease, and (needless to say) unsuccessful in their quest. The name is now used for a country abounding in gold or in opportunity for acquiring great wealth.

BRINGING UP FA THER

MAGGIE WANTS TO GO TO AFRICA AND I WANNA GO HOME.

ARGUE HER OUT OF IT—TALK TO HER!

ALL I GITA CHANGE TO DO—IS LISTEN

MY BOY—MAKE A STAND—DON'T WEAKEN—JUST SAY YOU WANT GO TO AFRICA.

I'LL TRY IT—DINTY!

DO AS I SAY NOW AN' I'LL SET YOU GIT OUT OF GOIN' TO AFRICA.

MR JIGGS SENT ME TO TELL YOU THAT HE IS NOT GOING TO AFRICA—HE'S IN THE HOSPITAL!

Notes By The Way

(Continued from page 4.)

make a beginning than at federal and provincial headquarters? It is notorious that the cost of governments and parliaments has been enormously and unreasonably increased both before, during and since the war. In 1868 the revenue and the expenditure of the Dominion were each about 13 millions of dollars and the federal taxes were not more than four dollars per head.

Never since had we wiser or greater men in the councils of the nation than we had then and these men served in the House of Commons for $600 each and in our Legislature for less than $200 each. And just in proportion as they were modest in regard to their own emoluments they were prudent and careful as to the public expenditure and the burdens they imposed upon the people. Rigid economy was practised then and was little talked about. Today our politicians talk glibly and copiously about economy and spend the public money, especially upon themselves with a lavish hand.

We all know how the indemnity of members of Parliament was increased, first from $600 to $1,000, then to $1,500 then to $2,500 and finally to $4,000 each. We also know how the local members pay was boosted up from a modest $170 to $300 and then by a big jump in 1920 to $500 each. In the meantime, although our provincial government and legislature were shorn of half their powers by the Union Act, our provincial expenditures have since increased three fold and our federal outlays from 13 millions to between 400 and 500 millions a year!

These increases in governmental expenses and in tax burdens upon the people have been beyond all reason. They constitute a disease in the body politic which threatens the future of the country and the very life of the nation. It began at the top, the seat of government and has infected the entire public service. There lies the source and the primal cause of the deadly malady. If there is to be any reform, any check imposed upon the disease that also must begin at the top where the eating ulcer first showed itself.

The evil has grown until the average man earning wages or other income must now work, or conduct his business two months out of the twelve to pay his taxes! Few of the taxpayers realize the fact or the extent to which they have been defrauded by their rulers. Talk about governmental economy in the face of such conditions makes a mockery of the word. Real economy we shall never have until it begins at the top, whether in Ottawa or in Charlottetown. It will not begin there until the people demand it. The cost of government and legislation must be reduced if the country is to be saved from disaster. When we see real economy beginning at the top we may believe that our rulers mean to be more honest with the people's money. Until then we shall not believe it!

W. G. Y. Program

MONDAY, JANUARY 29

W. G. Y. (Schenectady, N. Y.) 370 Meters General Electric Co. Eastern Standard Time Co.

12.00 p. m.—U. S. Naval Observatory time signals.

12.30 p. m.—Noon stock market quotations.

12.45 p. m.—Weather report on 485 meters.

2.00 p. m.—Music and talk "Making an Easy Job of Dishwashing" (Courtesy of Modern Priscilla Magazine).

6.00 p. m.—Produce market and stock market reports and quotations; news bulletins.

7.45 p. m.—Musical program: Orchestra selection, "Romany Love" Zamecnick

Keeler's Orchestra
Del Keeler, violin (director),
John Stoerch, banjo
John Poesch, saxophone
James Williams, trumpet
Lawrence McGovern, piano
Kenneth Withrop, traps

Reading, "Something of Interest to All" (Copyrighted stories from the Youth's Companion.)
Selection, "Haunting Blues" Lange
Orchestra

Soprano Solo, "In the Garden of My Heart" Roma
Helen Gross
Fox Trot, "Tomorrow" Lange
Orchestra

Address, "Teaching the Children to Save Time as Well as Money," Chas. E. French, President Amsterdam, N. Y., Savings Bank.

Fox Trot, "Sunshine Alley"—Vest
Orchestra

Fox Trot, "Lonesome Mama Blues" Brown
Orchestra

Soprano Solo, "My Hero," from "The Chocolate Soldier" F:ml
Helen Gross

Fox Trot, "Three Little Words" Brown
Orchestra

Fox Trot, "The French Trot" Davis
Orchestra

Waltz, "Venetian Nights" Raymond
Orchestra

Soprano Solo, "Lullaby," From "Erminie" Jabowski
Helen Gross

Waltz, "Moon River" David
Orchestra

Fox Trot, "The Sneak" Brown
Orchestra

KEEP PUMPKINS ALL WINTER

It isn't so very difficult to keep pumpkins, squash etc., all winter if they are stored properly. Of course only well-ripened pumpkins or squash, with thick rinds, and which are well colored, should be stored. They should be gathered carefully before hard frost. Any that are injured in gathering or otherwise should be discarded, and only the perfect specimens retained. Be sure to leave the stems on all the pumpkins. The ideal storage place is a dry room or dry basement where the temperature will average around 55 degrees or above. Place the pumpkins or squash on shelves, or at least keep them off of concrete floors or other places where there may be too much moisture. Do not pile them up, but keep them apart from each other. With such care either pumpkins or squash should keep several months.

THE HAPPY DUFFER.

George S. Lyon, the internationally famous golfer, who is familiar with the great old game from all its angles, maintains that the player who is entitled to the big handicap gets just as much enjoyment out of the sport as the often envied scratch man, and sometimes more.

"Just to demonstrate the idea," relates Mr. Lyon, one day an enthusiast, who by the way was over eighty years of age, was playing at the Lambton links. Said he to me, "How many strokes did you take, George, to do that hole in?"

"Four," I replied.

"Well, I took eight," the old gentleman retorted, "and I had just as much fun of it as you did."

FEEDING THE LAMB

Extra feeding increases the lamb yield in two ways—it puts the ewes in better condition to make sure of their getting in lamb and it increases the proportion of twin lambs.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

FOR THE RELIEF OF Coughs, Colds, Croup WHOOPING COUGH, HOARSENESS BRONCHITIS—SOLD EVERYWHERE—

TOURISTS FLOCK TO VALLEY OF KINGS

LUXOR, Egypt, Jan. 26.—Never at least in modern times, has the Valley of the Kings presented the scene of animation it does today. The discovery of King Tutankhamen's tomb by the expedition financed by the Earl of Carnarvon has converted the desolate ravine into a veritable mecca for tourists, historians, and archaeological students.

Numbers of visitors are arriving here in anticipation of the coming next week of the Earl of Carnarvon and all are anxious to be present at the momentous unsealing of the inner chamber in which the Pharaoh's body is believed to lie. The hotels are filled nearly to capacity; there are insufficient boats to transport across the Nile all those wishing to visit the scene, and extravagant prices are being charged for any sort of conveyance from Luxor to the tomb.

The British, United States and French archaeological colonies, which hitherto have enjoyed undisturbed quiet, are inundated with tourists seeking permits to enter the royal treasure house. No permits are being granted, however, and even the newspaper correspondents are barred from the place, being forced to satisfy themselves with glimpses of the rare objects brought from it.

LAW AT ASCOT

Ascot is legal as well as royal in being the only race course in the world with its special court of justice. When George IV. was regent he was assaulted at Ascot and when his assistant was arrested demanded his instant punishment. Enraged at the delay necessitated by the man's conveyance to Windsor, the prince decreed that a magistrate should always be in attendance at Ascot for the swift punishment of offenders. The indelible offenses act of 1818 made the royal wish the law of the land, and during Ascot week the chief magistrate at Bow street is accordingly on duty in the little room opening onto the paddock, to try and sentence all offenders within a minute or two of their arrest.—London News.

SUBSTITUTE FOR PUTTY.

An effective substitute for putty is produced by soaking newspapers in a paste made by boiling one pound of flour in a three parts of water, and adding a teaspoonful of alum. The mixture should be of the same consistency as putty, and can be forced in the cracks of woodwork with a blunt knife end like a putty knife. It will become very hard when dry, and may be painted or stained to match the boards.

BRITAIN'S COAL EXPORT.

Latest official returns dealing with the export trade in coal record striking progress in the first nine months of 1922, when 45,475,573 tons of coal, valued at $51,410,935 were exported from Britain. The figures for 1921 and 1920 were respectively 13,351,564 tons, value £27,856,159; and 19,871,555, £78,492,476.

A NEW GAS FIELD.

A new natural gas field has been discovered in Northern Louisiana, which is estimated to hold about five trillion cubic feet, making it the greatest natural gas supply yet discovered.

FORCE OF HABIT.

"Look here, young man," ejaculated the judge to the prisoner at the bar. "How is it that a former soldier is charged with shoplifting? How did you learn such a mean business?"

"It's this way, your honor," replied the offender. "In the army I spent most of the time picking the company streets, and I sort of got into the habit of picking things as I went along."—American Legion Weekly.

TIMES TO STUDY GARDENING

Fall and winter are good times to read and study advanced methods in gardening and grower's truck crops for the market. Many new bulletins treating all of the various subjects on gardening have been published recently by agricultural colleges and departments of agriculture. The bulletins will be sent free.

A VOCALIST PROVOKED

"I knew there was going to be trouble as soon as the mule heard the honk of our new fliover," remarked Farmer Cornstoss, ruefully.

"How did it effect the mule?"

"Threw him into a fit of professional jealousy so violent that he backed up and kicked the rear transmission clear through the radiator."

WHEN THEY WERE YOUNG

Schoolboys Who Have Since Become Celebrities.

"He is a boy of great mental power and has made progress in everything except penmanship. I think he is a serious boy—always anxious to do well. With his immense powers of application, I often tell him he could become a good French and German scholar."

In these words a schoolmaster described Mr. Bonar Law in the days of his childhood; long before anyone thought that he was destined to become one of Britain's greatest men and guide the affairs of a nation.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain tells against himself an excellent story of his youth. He had decided to devote himself to politics after his departure from the university, and communicated this decision to his old nurse.

"Politics!" exclaimed the old dame, scornfully. "Oh, Mr. Austen, I should have thought two in the family, your father and Mr. Richard, enough to have in politics! Why don't you go in for something useful?"

When Lord Curzon was at Eton he had a reputation as an adroit reporter, and it is recorded that on one occasion he put a big fellow to flight simply by the power of his tongue.

Another Viceroy of India, Lord Reading, had a terrible reputation at school. He has been described as one of the worst boys from the schoolmaster's point of view that it would be possible to find. "Lessons he left unlearned, classwork he shirked, mischief was his only devotion," said this early friend.

"My recollection of him is always of a demoniacal young imp with sparkling eyes, who was always in disgrace of being caned, and yet withal ever merry and deliciously humorous."

The inclusion of Mr. Douglas Hogg, K. C., in the Cabinet as Attorney General is in the nature of a fulfillment of a prophecy made of him when he was leaving Eton.

So struck was Dr. Warre, the headmaster, by the boy's ability that he observed to Mr. Quinton Hogg, his father, that if Douglas were put into the law he would eventually become Lord Chancellor.

There are not many stories of Mr. Lloyd George's young days, but one relates to the period when he attended the national school in his Welsh village. The future Prime Minister found a boy being bullied by four bigger youths. He interfered and offered to fight the tormentors one after the other, country was the result.

Everything was arranged but it came to the ears of those in authority, and the battle was stopped.

On one occasion the Prince of Wales was allowed to join a luncheon party which his grandfather, King Edward, was giving at Sandringham. The King was in conversation with a great statesman when the little Prince interrupted with: "I say, grandfather—"

He was told to be quiet, but a few seconds later called out again.

B. D. Tingley, of Houlton, as good a driver as is to be found in Maine, was one of the syndicate that paid the low price for the son of Solon Grattan, 2.09%, but John R. Braden's latest antagonist found the job cut out for him a bit too strenuous—at least such was the case the past summer—and the Braden horse still is king in his neck of the woods. It takes time and special training to satisfactorily shift some fast horses from the big tracks to the minors, so perhaps another season may find Jackson Grattan on the Aroostook county throne of paerdom, since he showed considerable class by winning a third heat at Lewiston in 2.06%.

A Maine trainer who of late years has shown marked ability as reinsman and conditioner, is Harry A. Nevors, who is wintering at Houlton which for the most part are the property of local sportsmen. Among them are Calvary Earl, 2.02%, and Miss Talbot, 2.16%, owned by L. H. Powers, Houlton; Alfred King, 2.13—a 2.18 trotter class next season, owned by T. V. Holdaway Houlton; Bonnie Girl, 2.15%, holder of the Maine three-year-old record, owned by Herschel Shaw, Houlton; Peter Tangle, 3.2.17%, owned jointly by Nevors and Putman Bros., Houlton; Peter Stilwell, 2.21%, trotting, that will be trained to pace next season, property of L. W. Ervin, who largely is responsible for the good harness sport conducted at Houlton; Hayward Wilkes, 2.15%, property of George Avery, Houlton; Doris B. green pacer, by General Constantine, 2.15%, owned by Joseph A. Quinn, Houlton; Premier, Witte, 2.10%, the property of J. P. Smith, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

The veteran local horseman, Patrick Doherty, is wintering Deisa Patch, 2.09%; Guinere, 2.20%, his own property and Baton, 2.15%, owned by A. M. Nason, Monticello, Me. Dennis McLaughlin has Har-

WHEN THEY WERE YOUNG

Schoolboys Who Have Since Become Celebrities.

"He is a boy of great mental power and has made progress in everything except penmanship. I think he is a serious boy—always anxious to do well. With his immense powers of application, I often tell him he could become a good French and German scholar."

In these words a schoolmaster described Mr. Bonar Law in the days of his childhood; long before anyone thought that he was destined to become one of Britain's greatest men and guide the affairs of a nation.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain tells against himself an excellent story of his youth. He had decided to devote himself to politics after his departure from the university, and communicated this decision to his old nurse.

"Politics!" exclaimed the old dame, scornfully. "Oh, Mr. Austen, I should have thought two in the family, your father and Mr. Richard, enough to have in politics! Why don't you go in for something useful?"

When Lord Curzon was at Eton he had a reputation as an adroit reporter, and it is recorded that on one occasion he put a big fellow to flight simply by the power of his tongue.

Another Viceroy of India, Lord Reading, had a terrible reputation at school. He has been described as one of the worst boys from the schoolmaster's point of view that it would be possible to find. "Lessons he left unlearned, classwork he shirked, mischief was his only devotion," said this early friend.

"My recollection of him is always of a demoniacal young imp with sparkling eyes, who was always in disgrace of being caned, and yet withal ever merry and deliciously humorous."

The inclusion of Mr. Douglas Hogg, K. C., in the Cabinet as Attorney General is in the nature of a fulfillment of a prophecy made of him when he was leaving Eton.

So struck was Dr. Warre, the headmaster, by the boy's ability that he observed to Mr. Quinton Hogg, his father, that if Douglas were put into the law he would eventually become Lord Chancellor.

There are not many stories of Mr. Lloyd George's young days, but one relates to the period when he attended the national school in his Welsh village. The future Prime Minister found a boy being bullied by four bigger youths. He interfered and offered to fight the tormentors one after the other, country was the result.

Everything was arranged but it came to the ears of those in authority, and the battle was stopped.

On one occasion the Prince of Wales was allowed to join a luncheon party which his grandfather, King Edward, was giving at Sandringham. The King was in conversation with a great statesman when the little Prince interrupted with: "I say, grandfather—"

He was told to be quiet, but a few seconds later called out again.

B. D. Tingley, of Houlton, as good a driver as is to be found in Maine, was one of the syndicate that paid the low price for the son of Solon Grattan, 2.09%, but John R. Braden's latest antagonist found the job cut out for him a bit too strenuous—at least such was the case the past summer—and the Braden horse still is king in his neck of the woods. It takes time and special training to satisfactorily shift some fast horses from the big tracks to the minors, so perhaps another season may find Jackson Grattan on the Aroostook county throne of paerdom, since he showed considerable class by winning a third heat at Lewiston in 2.06%.

A Maine trainer who of late years has shown marked ability as reinsman and conditioner, is Harry A. Nevors, who is wintering at Houlton which for the most part are the property of local sportsmen. Among them are Calvary Earl, 2.02%, and Miss Talbot, 2.16%, owned by L. H. Powers, Houlton; Alfred King, 2.13—a 2.18 trotter class next season, owned by T. V. Holdaway Houlton; Bonnie Girl, 2.15%, holder of the Maine three-year-old record, owned by Herschel Shaw, Houlton; Peter Tangle, 3.2.17%, owned jointly by Nevors and Putman Bros., Houlton; Peter Stilwell, 2.21%, trotting, that will be trained to pace next season, property of L. W. Ervin, who largely is responsible for the good harness sport conducted at Houlton; Hayward Wilkes, 2.15%, property of George Avery, Houlton; Doris B. green pacer, by General Constantine, 2.15%, owned by Joseph A. Quinn, Houlton; Premier, Witte, 2.10%, the property of J. P. Smith, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

The veteran local horseman, Patrick Doherty, is wintering Deisa Patch, 2.09%; Guinere, 2.20%, his own property and Baton, 2.15%, owned by A. M. Nason, Monticello, Me. Dennis McLaughlin has Har-

IF YOU ARE TOO TIRED TO EAT

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla. A well-known Justice of the Peace in Indiana says Hood's Sarsaparilla makes "food taste good." After taking three bottles he ate 3 hearty meals a day, works hard and sleeps well. "I feel like a new man," writes: "I earnestly recommend all women who wish to be made new, or who are troubled with that tired feeling to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It wonderfully relieved me of sores, stomach distress and belching." Get Hood's, and only Hood's.

If YOU could Visit our Mills—

VISITORS to the Quaker Mills no longer marvel at the exclusive flavour, texture and goodness of all things baked with Quaker Flour. They see for themselves the infinite care with which Canada's finest wheat is treated from the berry to the sack.

They see how thoroughly the grain is selected and cleaned—how gradually and finely it is milled—to produce a perfect flour. They see how Quaker Quality is ever maintained, by constant vigilance and hourly tests in the process of milling—by an actual baking of bread from each day's flour. Quaker Flour must bake up to the Quaker standard before it can leave the Quaker Mill.

They realize why no other flour can equal "Quaker." Try it for your next baking.

Quaker Flour
Always the Same—Always the Best

THE QUAKER MILLS
PETERBOROUGH and SASKATOON

CHARLOTTETOWN: Carvell Bros., DeBelle Bros., A. Horne & Co., N. Hattenbury, Ltd., Jenkins & Son.

DISTRIBUTORS: CARDIGAN—J. A. MacDonald & Co. KILMUR—M. C. McGowan. HALIFAX—Peter MacNutt & Son. MOREL—H. H. Cox. MOUNT STEWART—Clark Bros.

MOUNT STEWART—J. J. Hughes & Co. SOURIS—J. J. Hughes & Co. SOURIS—Matthew & Co.

Visitors to the Quaker Mills are always welcome.

"If you can't be silent while I'm talking, you must leave the room," said King Edward sternly.

The King finished his conversation and then turned to his grandson.

"Well, David," he said, "what was it you wanted to say?"

"Oh, it doesn't matter," was the reply. "I only wanted to tell you there was a caterpillar on your plate. But it doesn't matter now. You've eaten it."

HOULTON HAS SOME REAL RACING CLASS

(American Horse Breeder)

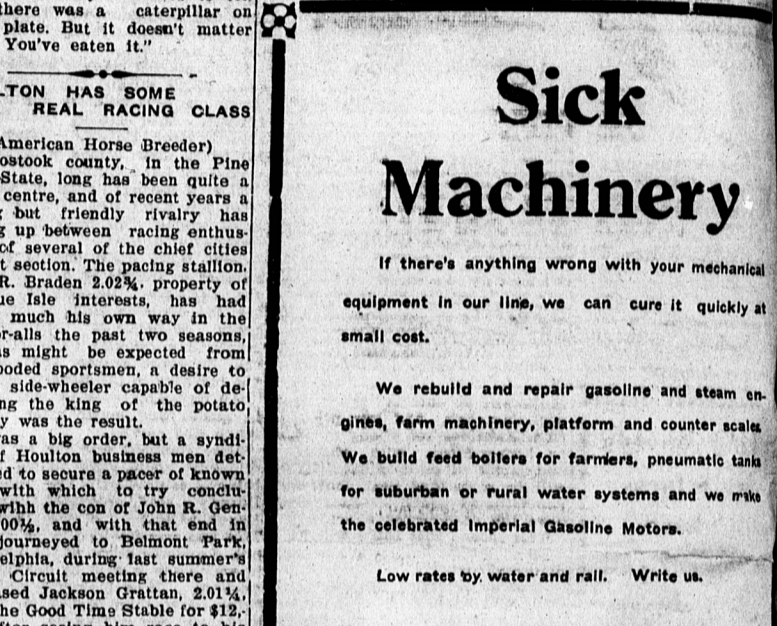

Aroostook county, in the Pine Tree State, long has been quite a horse centre, and of recent years a strong but friendly rivalry has sprung up between racing enthusiasts of several of the chief cities in that section. The pacing stallion, John R. Braden 2.02%, property of Presque Isle interests, has had pretty much his own way in the free-for-all the past two seasons, and as might be expected from a red-blooded sportsman, a desire to be bullied by four bigger youths, interfered and offered to fight the tormentors one after the other, country was the result.

It was a big order, but a syndicate of Houlton business men determined to secure a pacer of known class with which to try conclusions with the con of John R. Gentry, 2.00%, and with that end in view journeyed to Belmont Park, Philadelphia, during last summer's Grand Circuit meeting there and purchased Jackson Grattan, 2.01%, from the Good Tims Stable for $12,500, after seeing him race to his record.

B. D. Tingley, of Houlton, as good a driver as is to be found in Maine, was one of the syndicate that paid the low price for the son of Solon Grattan, 2.09%, but John R. Braden's latest antagonist found the job cut out for him a bit too strenuous—at least such was the case the past summer—and the Braden horse still is king in his neck of the woods. It takes time and special training to satisfactorily shift some fast horses from the big tracks to the minors, so perhaps another season may find Jackson Grattan on the Aroostook county throne of paerdom, since he showed considerable class by winning a third heat at Lewiston in 2.06%.

A Maine trainer who of late years has shown marked ability as reinsman and conditioner, is Harry A. Nevors, who is wintering at Houlton which for the most part are the property of local sportsmen. Among them are Calvary Earl, 2.02%, and Miss Talbot, 2.16%, owned by L. H. Powers, Houlton; Alfred King, 2.13—a 2.18 trotter class next season, owned by T. V. Holdaway Houlton; Bonnie Girl, 2.15%, holder of the Maine three-year-old record, owned by Herschel Shaw, Houlton; Peter Tangle, 3.2.17%, owned jointly by Nevors and Putman Bros., Houlton; Peter Stilwell, 2.21%, trotting, that will be trained to pace next season, property of L. W. Ervin, who largely is responsible for the good harness sport conducted at Houlton; Hayward Wilkes, 2.15%, property of George Avery, Houlton; Doris B. green pacer, by General Constantine, 2.15%, owned by Joseph A. Quinn, Houlton; Premier, Witte, 2.10%, the property of J. P. Smith, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

The veteran local horseman, Patrick Doherty, is wintering Deisa Patch, 2.09%; Guinere, 2.20%, his own property and Baton, 2.15%, owned by A. M. Nason, Monticello, Me. Dennis McLaughlin has Har-

Sick Machinery

If there's anything wrong with your mechanical equipment in our line, we can cure it quickly at small cost.

We rebuild and repair gasoline and steam engines, farm machinery, platform and counter scales.

We build feed boilers for farmers, pneumatic tanks for suburban or rural water systems and we make the celebrated Imperial Gasoline Motors.

Low rates by water and rail. Write us.

BRUCE STEWART & Co.
Manufacturers of Imperial Marine Motors

Hill Top Tea

You can lay down two general rules about tea—the best tea is grown on the slopes of mountains and the best of this in turn comes from the top of the tea plant.

This is the type of tea exclusively selected to meet the critical taste of those who insist on Blue Bird Tea.

These select—who know what is best tea and won't compromise—find Blue Bird the highest type known because the highest tea grown.

Blue Bird Tea
BRINGS HAPPINESS

—BY GEORGE MANUS

MAGGIE WANTS TO GO TO AFRICA AND I WANNA GO HOME.

ARGUE HER OUT OF IT—TALK TO HER!

ALL I GITA CHANGE TO DO—IS LISTEN

MY BOY—MAKE A STAND—DON'T WEAKEN—JUST SAY YOU WANT GO TO AFRICA.

I'LL TRY IT—DINTY!

DO AS I SAY NOW AN' I'LL SET YOU GIT OUT OF GOIN' TO AFRICA.

MR JIGGS SENT ME TO TELL YOU THAT HE IS NOT GOING TO AFRICA—HE'S IN THE HOSPITAL!