LUCKY WINNER—The Old Spain Hope Chest was drawn for last night. The lucky winner was Mrs. H. F. Waters, Water Street, Charlottetown. Mr. Henry Calkin, a visitor from Moncton to Charlottetown drew the ticket.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY—The funeral of Anthony Dougan was held yesterday morning from his late residence, Pleasant Street, and was largely attended. The pallbearers were Messrs. James MacAnlay, Thos. MacMillan, W. E. Heaney, W. Brown, James Lampriere and W. T. Flynn. Services at the church and grave were conducted by Rev. Louis Dougan.

FUNERAL SERVICES—The funeral of Mrs. John MacKenna took place yesterday morning from her late residence, Dorchester Street, and was largely attended. The pallbearers were Messrs. S. P. Paoli, Dr. Croken, D. J. Riley, George P. Nicholson, James Macmillan and Dr. D. MacGulgan. Service at the church was conducted by Rev. P. MacMahon, D.D., and at the grave by Father Keefe.

NEAR TRAGEDY—A moonlight excursion almost ended in tragedy at Covehead recently when a carelessly tossed cigarette set fire to a motor launch laden with gay picnickers. Several members of West Covehead Young People's Society set out in the boat after a clam bake on the beach and were a few hundred yards from shore when the fire started. After dumping the craft's fuel overboard, all hands leaped hastily into the water. A fisherman on the beach who noticed their plight, rowed out in his boat and brought every member of the party safely to shore.

MIDDLETON WOMEN'S INSTITUTE—The Middleton Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. James McCordle on July 2nd with twelve members and eight visitors in attendance. The meeting opened with O Canada and repeating Creed in unison. Roll call was answered with a question from my favorite Canadian author. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Visiting committee reported sending fruit to sick. Delegates gave report of Annual Convention at Charlottetown. It was moved and seconded that a vote of thanks be given to President for her report. The program for the evening consisted of music by Mrs. Elliot Wright and reading by Mrs. Wilfred Craig. The next meeting to be held at Chelton Shore in form of picnic. If not fine it will be the following day. Meeting closed with National Anthem, after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

PERSONALS—Mr. William McManus is able to be about again after being confined to his bed for the past week.

The Misses Elsie and Eugenie Arnaud, Magdalen Islands, are both doing well following operations at the Charlottetown Hospital.

"Creation Or Evolution" Theme Of Lecture

"Creation Or Evolution" was the theme of the lecture delivered at the Forum last night by Evangelist F. W. Johnston, the speaker at the Propnetic Conference. His opening remarks were concerned in proving the personality and existence of God, and that God himself was the first cause of this material universe, the Creator and originator of all things visible and invisible, and though we cannot see Him yet that does not prove His nonexistence; for as the evangelist said that the visible works of nature are a continual silent witness to the intelligence, power, and personality of God. He said that the phraseology of the written word, but the master workmanship of creation is an everlasting challenge to the atheist. How can we account for the origin of matter said Mr. Johnston if God be not the Creator? Where do evolutionists get their first molecule of matter? This is the molecule that evolutionists are not able to answer. They have to assume its existence, but cannot account for its origin. Only the Bible he said attempts to do this, and after having obtained the matter the atheist and evolutionist goes on with his crooked reasoning.

We are told so, Mr. Johnston said, that by minute variations through millions of years that all things are changed and brought about, but he asked how long can one hoax around with a hen's egg before it turns into a chicken? Three weeks is all and when you have finished with this transition instead of waiting for another million years the hen goes ahead and lays another egg. Mr. Johnston then established several fundamental points the first of which was that "Life can never come only from preexisting life and referred to various scientific statements. This being true he said—"What is that source of life from which all vegetables and animals life originated? Evolutionists simply say it happened, but the Bible says that God is the author of all life, and referred to John 1:4 and John 5:26 and similar texts to prove it. The second principle that Mr. Johnston laid down was that "every known species produces only its own kind," and should there be any cross fertilization between the product cannot reproduce itself. He also said that although the protoplasm of man, vegetable, and animal, the jelly like substance from which they all start, are all essentially alike when observed under the microscope, yet the protoplasm of monkeys always produce monkeys, human protoplasm produces only human, and vegetable protoplasm produces only its own kind is an old Bible truth found in the first chapter of Genesis so Mr. Johnston said.

The evangelist then handled the morphological argument of scientists when he said that because of the similarity of the structure of animals and men, evolutionists have said that one must have descended from the other. But could not God who made one make another with similar anatomy? And how do scientists know that man developed from monkeys? Why do they say that man is an improved monkey? If monkeys developed into men is it not strange that we never see any monkeys in the jungle developing into men nowadays? Mr. Johnston said that the degeneracy of men could be far easier proven than the development of men from monkeys.

The evangelist also gave his belief in the origin of the tree. He said that the tree existed before the seed. God did not create the seed. He created trees first and the seed came after. God also created birds before eggs came into existence. Thus eggs came from birds, but the first bird that ever existed did not come from any egg. God created it with feathers and all on it. So that the birds existed before the egg. Regarding the creation of man, Mr. Johnston said they were created in the image of God out of the dust of the earth as the Bible says. But if people desire to trace their genealogy to monkeys he did not object but he preferred to trace his back to a more noble ancestry. He said he would not quarrel about the ancestry of the evolutionist.

Mrs. M. R. Magrath and Mrs. L. B. Cosgrove of Dorchester, Mass., have motored to Prince Edward Island on a visit to their sister, Mrs. W. H. Kiggins. They are accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Howes of Roxbury, Mass.

Mr. Clarence MacNeill, of the Christian Science Monitor linotype staff, Boston, is visiting his old home and renewing old acquaintances. He is a dozen years since Clarence left the Guardian staff to seek a career in his chosen vocation elsewhere, and he is one of the many Islanders who has made good.

Mr. and Mrs. Lea Mill wish to thank their friends and neighbors, also Miss Reid, R.N., for flowers, sympathetic messages and kindness in their sad bereavement. L-8812

Death Yesterday Of Mr. T. C. James

Many friends in this Province will regret to learn of the death yesterday at Schomberg, Ontario, of Mr. Thomas Outhbert James. Mr. James, who would be 89 years of age on October 6, was born in Halifax, the family removing to St. John's, Newfoundland, while he was still a child. He came to Charlottetown in 1871 from Cyrus Field's office in New York to take charge of the New York-Newfoundland-London Telegraph. For thirty years he was superintendent of this Province. Through his instrumentality the Anglo-American Company laid a new cable, a piece of the shore end of the 1866 Atlantic cable which is one of the heaviest types of cable made. For thirty years his telephone service was carried on over this connection. All during his superintendency it maintained with little or no interruptions.

Retiring from the telegraph service at the end of 1912, Mr. James remained in Charlottetown for some time and subsequently removed to Schomberg, Ontario, where he resided with his daughter, Mrs. Miller. An Elder in St. James Presbyterian Church almost from the time of his arrival here. Mr. James proved a tower of strength to the pastor and congregation. Himself a gifted preacher, he filled St. James' and other Presbyterian pulpits on many occasions, his services in this connection being frequently in demand. He also held the office of Clerk of Presbytery for a number of years, and was a well-known figure at the General Assembly and Maritime Synod. Many of the younger men of Charlottetown today will recall with gratitude his services as Bible teacher. Church and Sunday School activities were indeed to Mr. James a matter of the greatest importance, a labour of love to which he devoted himself heart and soul.

Mr. James was twice married. His first wife, formerly Miss Sophie MacKenna, daughter of the late James G. MacKenna, Port Hastings, died in 1878. Of this union there were two children, Thomas, who died twelve years ago, and Mrs. Margaret, widow of the late Rev. George Miller, Schomberg, Ontario. His second Mrs. James, who was formerly Miss Annie Hales, daughter of the late F. W. Hales of the Charlottetown Steam Navigation Company and granddaughter of the Rev. Louis Jenkins, D.D., passed away last May, leaving two daughters, Mrs. MacKay, wife of the Rev. Mr. MacKay, Schomberg, Ont., and Mrs. Catherine Lowe, of Wemby, Alberta.

Deep sympathy on the occasion of this double bereavement within the space of a few months, will be extended to the family.

Burial will take place at Schomberg, Ontario.

Tonight thousands of Germans devoured the "Sturmer" extra as they prepared for a demonstration of a tablet or bulletin board which the anti-Jewish newspaper will unveil ceremoniously near the entrance to Bayerischer Platz.

This demonstration was the reason for the "be careful" warning to Jews which the executive committee mimeographed and threw into every Jewish apartment in the neighborhood.

KING'S PAY CUTS RESTORED

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) LONDON, August 1—King George has had his pay cuts restored now that the depression is over.

In 1931 he voluntarily accepted a reduction of £50,000 (about $250,000) a year in his civil list payment.

This year when the Chancellor of the Exchequer (Neville Chamberlain) was able to announce the restoration of the remaining half of the cuts, he saw no reason why the King should not also receive his former payment.

The annuities of the King and Queen total £470,000 (about $2,350,000) and includes a "privy purse" of £110,000, £125,000 for salaries of the royal household, £168,000 for household expenses, and £13,200 for royal bounty.

Everything is being steamed up for the Big Show at the Exhibition grounds. High pressure stuff these days—twenty employees working feverishly from early morning until late evening. There is so much to do that it does not seem possible that it can all be done. Anxiously written on the faces of the many thousands of exhibitors.

Everyone was delighted with the appearance of the Exhibition Grounds last year and this year they will be even more inviting. The rough spots of last year will be touched up. The new stables replacing those destroyed by fire will be finished to-day, part of them are already housing twelve race horses which arrived the last few days.

A lot of work has to be done setting the anchorage for the C.M.S. Sension. The plans for this arrived and workmen will put them in place next Monday and Tuesday. Director Hughes is making many changes in the Main Building, introducing features for fruit showing, mat showing and the display of various exhibits that will be appreciated by many exhibitors. A new scheme of decoration will also be used, but we cannot say very much about it because Mr. Hughes plans that to be a surprise.

A telegram was received last evening stating that the Fireworks will be shipped on the 11th and that tests made in connection with the Amiens Artillery barrage were highly successful. Hand and Company say there is not a town in Canada with the exception of Toronto that will have anything like the fireworks display that the Charlottetown Exhibition will give.

Entries are coming in rapidly for the races. In the mail last evening were letters from New Brunswick, four points in Nova Scotia and two in Cape Breton, with telegrams in addition. There is no question but that the classes will fill and fill well and that high class racing will be seen here.

Charlie Chamberlaine, the Singing Lumberjack, will arrive here on Saturday evening the 17th, the Vaudeville on Monday the 19th, so that everything will be complete on Monday the 19th the opening evening. L-8804-2.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Aug. 1—Greatly increased income tax receipts from nearly all districts throughout Canada, for the four months period ended July 31, were shown in a statement issued today by Hon. R. C. Matthews, Minister of National Revenue.

Net collections totalled $58,407,905 compared with $42,832,981 received in the same period of 1934, an increase of $15,574,924. The largest gains were made in the Toronto and Montreal districts, income tax receipts in the former totalling $18,734,813, an increase of $5,525,472 and in the latter $17,686,237, an increase of $4,602,033. Totals for other districts showing substantial gains were: London $5,930,937, increase $2,053,138; Hamilton $4,159,924, increase $1,464,836; Vancouver $3,262,045, increase $829,076; Ottawa $3,188,933, increase $481,852; Winnipeg $1,405,864, increase $327,371.

(By The Canadian Press) DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Aug. 1—Dr. W. B. Yeats, the distinguished Irish poet, celebrated his 70th birthday recently and it was marked by the gift of a pen-and-ink drawing by Danie Gabriel Rossetti on behalf of 150 British writers, painters, musicians and sculptors who subscribed to it in recognition of the poet's birthday. The presentation was made by the poet Laureate, John Masefield.

The drawing, one of the finest examples of Rossetti's work, depicts Lucretia Borgia and a young lover seated in a garden eating grapes while an eager-faced boy leans from a tree and whispers to her. The gift was made at a complimentary dinner given to Dr. Yeats in Dublin, Lord Longford presided, and the guests numbered 200.
