PUBLIC FORUM

This column is open for the discussion by correspondents of questions of interest. The Charlottetown Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinions of correspondents.

food they have to be supplied by Government or charitable institutions, and they have a right to get as good diet as any other class.

In regard to the overproduction argument, with the exception of potatoes farmers have been blessed with good crops for which they should be thankful, but with the exception of wheat there has been no great overproduction.

In the case of an article that is not on an export basis there is no excuse for it to be low in price. One of those articles is butter, of which there is a scarcity. Months ago Mr. J. P. Singleton, Dominion Dairy Commissioner issued a statement in which he said that if production was not speeded up that we would be compelled to import a large quantity during winter. The dealers in Montreal might have encouraged production at home by permitting a raise in prices but they kept the lid down and brought in 700 boxes from New Zealand, and brought back 3000 boxes from England of our own butter. There has been a larger production of butter during the past season but consumption kept on apace. People must have butter it is a necessity and from a health standpoint no proper substitute has been found.

Farmers wish to engage in dairy because it is a high class calling and the returns are quick and sure, but it is a crying shame that during the summer months they only received about twelve cents a pound for butter after manufacturing charges were paid. To show the decrease in revenue from dairy products in Canada in 1929 they approximated $291,742,857. This year on the basis of prevailing values they will not exceed $135,000,000.

There is also a scarcity of potatoes and there is no good reason that they should not be worth a cent a pound instead of about half a cent. We are told through the press that they would be higher when the frost sets in, this must have meant the frost of necessity, because our small crop is safely housed in cellars.

There is no cheaper article of diet. Allowing for the consumption of half a pound of potatoes at a meal by the ordinary person this would amount to a half cent at 60 cents a bushel. Increase the price to double that to the consumer and it would be no more than a cent in the cost of his meal.

And there is no one that poverty stricken that can't afford to eat potatoes at $1.20 a bushel.

There is an overproduction of wheat in the world, and Canada has according to an estimate produced 500,000,000 bushels.

The price which is fixed in the world's markets is governed by the law of supply and demand. And according to Broomhall, the greatest world authority it will require about 700,000,000 bushels to supply the demand of importing countries during the present year, and there is double that amount available.

This law of supply and demand has put the western farmer on the rough with his wheat at 25 cents a bushel, and his plight has reacted on every class and condition of life from Vancouver to Cape Breton. The business interests of the East bend so much interlocked with the farmers of the West impelled the Dominion Government to come to their relief and are guaranteeing the loans of the banks to the selling agency. This has prevented a debacle, and has made possible the exporting of the crop. The result so far is salutary, a great volume of which has moved out of the country. The Island farmer is becoming restive at the lack of effort to relieve him. Very little can be done within the Province. Artificial stimulants are of no avail. We will have to get to the seat of the malady. "Old Man Depression" has been burnt in effigy but the good times have loitered around the corner until they have become petrified.

At the last session of the Legislative Assembly a law was passed fixing the price of potatoes at 15 cents a bushel in payment for fertilizer. This has hung like a cloud over the market and has got the farmer deeper into the hole. A conference was recently called at Charlottetown to consider relief policies. It was kindly meant, and attended by a large number of able well meaning men, but so far I am not aware of any tangible result in the line of remedial measures.

In a recent address Dr. M. M. Coedy, the eminent professor of St. Francis Xavier University states that the "farmer is attacked by too much parasitic growth." As a corrective for this condition I am of the opinion that some of the ideas expressed were lacking in spray material. The agricultural experts deplored the lack of rural leaders and the want of education to appreciate the benefits of cooperation.

It is true that there were more leaders produced fifty years ago than there is today. Leaders are produced in an environment of study and reflection. There were no motor cars at that time to cause distraction. Cooperation is a splendid principle if it is of the proper brand and rings true, and will through time be perfected, but farmers are not liable to get enthused over six cents a dozen for eggs and six cents a bushel for potatoes. Cheapness of production has been forced to the limit and the farmer has felt equally cheap during the process. Our farmers have all the intelligence and skill necessary for the production of crops.

The crying need is increased prices of farm commodities.

Is it possible in this distressful time? I am convinced that it is. It would seem that all the trouble and unrest in the world is centred in monetary conditions. You will find money either prominent or thinly disguised in any cause that is blamed for our hard conditions. There is need for a greater circulation of money among the masses of the people. Awaiting the result of the "Monetary Conference" can we do anything as a Canadian nation to relieve distress? Agriculture is the greatest industry in the Dominion, and recovery can only begin with justice to the primary producer. There are a number of primary products for which there is home consumption that should advance in price.

Let the market manipulator keep his unwholy hands off these necessities. Let the price of them advance to a proper and natural and paying level, and the farmers' purchasing power will advance with a bound. The sunshine of prosperity will radiate to other classes. Merchants, professional men and others will get their dues. Governments will receive their taxes. The wheels of industry will start rolling which will relieve the pressure of unemployment.

I am Sir, etc.,
J. A. DEWAR
New Perth.
