PRINCE EDWARD NOTICE.—We regret to announce that the serial, "The Mystery of the Double Cross" has again missed connections. We were assured last week that this would not happen again. We regret this annoyance and trust our patrons will bear with us as we are doing everything possible to arrange this matter satisfactorily.

ANOTHER ATTRACTION.—The Prince of Wales College gardens promise shortly to rival the city's regular beauty spot, the Queen Square Gardens. The flowers and shrubs bordering the walk on the west side of the building are very tastefully arranged, well kept and make a very fine showing. The vegetable plot on the north side of the building is a model garden and a credit to the institution. Both have been planned and cared for by Prof. McLarty, who evidently understands his business.

BEAUTIFUL SCENES OF JAPAN.—That Japan is a land of scenic beauty was shown last night at the Prince Edward Theatre, when views of Meshishima Islands were projected. The magnificent photography exquisitely coloured further embellished the subject. Pathe news right up to the minute was contained in the Pathe Weekly. The feature piece was a splendid play, "The Question Mark," which was most interesting and entertaining. The Mystery of the Double Cross did not arrive, greatly to the regret of the management and patrons alike, being delayed on account of a wreck. It will be shown in addition to the above show today.
