Why A Farm Needs A Milwaukee Air Power Water System

Combined in a few words the answer is: Because it is the best investment a farmer can make.

Time spent in carrying water, in pumping water and in taking the stock to the watering trough is time that can be used to better advantage at other work.

The matter of home comfort also is important. Isn't the wife of the farmer just as good as the city woman?

What about the children? Is there any reason why they should not have a home equipped with a bath room and inside toilet just like their city relations?

And to think what it means in case of fire to have a hose handy and eighty pounds water pressure to fight it with.

Call in the next time you are in town and look over our demonstrating outfit.

INCENDIARY AT WORK.—Three stacks of hay belonging to Mr. John Macdonald, Glencoe, about four miles from Vernon Bridge were destroyed by fire a few nights ago. The fire was caused by an incendiary. An attempt was also made to burn the barn. A bunch of straw with a quantity of kerosene were found on the barn floor also a pickle bottle partly filled with kerosene. The twins were only partly burned otherwise very serious consequences would have resulted. A fire in a woodshed in the same vicinity was also extinguished some time previously. The matter has been placed in the hands of the authorities.

WELL EXPRESSED APPRECIATION.—The attention of foxmen especially is directed to the letter in this issue to the Silver Fox Fur Selling Association. One of the safest guides to a home question is the opinion held outside regarding it. Foxmen in the neighboring provinces and in the United States have been keen and interested spectators of the fox industry in this province. They have not been slow to remind us of our faults, of which no doubt we had a few and it is refreshing and encouraging to find such approval as is expressed in this letter regarding the latest developments, the organization of the fur selling association. The idea of well regulated co-operation appeals strongly to every business mind and it is not to be wondered at that a gentleman who has made a study of the fox business should be attracted by the business-like way in which the fur selling association has been inaugurated. The Guardian commends the letter to every foxman.
