CANADIANS USE THEIR TELEPHONES

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—Canadian make more telephone calls per capita than any other country, statistics recently released indicate. With an average during 1929 of 257.7 telephone conversations per citizen, Canada leads the United States with 231 calls and New Zealand with 212. Of European countries, Denmark is first with 148.6 calls per capita.

Canadian cities of 50,000 population or more average 23.3 telephones per 100 inhabitants while the United States, Canada's closest rival, averages 22.9. In the smaller towns and villages, Canada takes second place to her southern neighbor.

Canada with 1,399,986 ranks fourth in total number of telephones in use. She is headed by the United States, Germany and Great Britain. Telephone systems in Canada our 82 per cent private owned and in United States 100 per cent, while in Germany and Great Britain they are operated by the state.

FISHERMEN ABLY REPRESENTED

QUEBEC, Sept. 2.—For the first time in the history of the legislature, the sturdy fishermen of the Gaspé have a true fisherman to represent them in the government of the province. Victorious in the recent general elections, Alexandre Chouinard, a fisherman and the son of a fisherman, will sit on the Government side of the legislature when it next convenes.

The new member was born and brought up on the rugged Gaspé coast. He is well versed in all the vocations of the picturesque peninsula. He has farmed, has worked in the lumber camps, and with his father has tended and mended the fish nets in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Blondie—Doctor, I want you to operate on me for appendicitis.
Dr. Mess—But I'm a beauty doctor.
Blondie—Well, I'm a Follies girl.

cess, Gandhi occupied himself with his spinning wheel and afterwards prayed upon the deck, to the great curiosity of the passengers, some of whom participated in the prayer. Abandoning his cabin, the Mahatma slept on the deck, under the stars last night.

STORY OF HOW PASSION PLAY ORIGINATED

traditional Biblical story.

The coming of the "Freiburg Passion Play" to this country was only accomplished by the combined efforts of a great many Canadians and Americans who have been to Oberammergau and Freiburg to witness this marvellous spectacle.

There was a Million Dollar Bowl to be opened at St. Joseph, Missouri. These people were finally persuaded to come direct from Freiburg to St. Joseph with no intention of remaining more than ten days of presentation in that city. Their entire expenses were paid by the City of St. Joseph. 103,860 people witnessed this religious spectacle during the ten days' presentation at St. Joseph.

So that they might carry this great and sublime presentation to the people of North America, they were prevailed upon to remain and their vices were extended.

Then came the thought of the "Passion Play" in English as the original was given in German. This meant that special dispensation from the Municipal Council and church dignitaries at Freiburg had to be obtained. This caused a great deal of protest among the staid dwellers in the little town and also among the older members of the touring company. However, during their summer vacation in 1929 they learned English and since that time their presentation have been only in the English language.

It is more powerful than many a sermon.

More beautiful than an anthem.

More striking than a pageant.

The text of the "Passion Play" remains true to the words and spirit of the Bible. The age old story reverently unfolds step by step the sacred theme made memorable by those eventful days when Jesus made his triumphant entry into Jerusalem until he is silently laid away in the darkness of the tomb. This sublime and colossal pageant holds the spectators in prayer locked reverence of this age old story, the saddest and yet the sweetest ever told.

COOLIDGE VISITOR TELLS LATEST CAL ANECDOTE

United Press
PLYMOUTH, Vt., Sept. 2.—Floyd E. Barbour of Greenwich, Conn., tells the latest Coolidge anecdote.

He brought his young son George here recently to see the former President, who was vacationing at the Coolidge homestead.

Mr. Coolidge greeted the boy cordially and then called to his Chow dog.

"Here, Tim, come and see this boy!"

Tim came and was nosing over the visitor with typically doggy curiosity when Mr. Coolidge quietly observed:

"Tim thinks a boy is just another kind of dog."

MALPEQUE

On Thursday evening the 27th, some of the Malpeque citizens gathered in the Memorial Room of the Princeton Church to hear a lecture on Old Malpeque by Rev. Dr. Ramsay of Trinity Church, Charlottetown. Dr. Ramsay spends his summer vacation in a cottage on the shore of the Bay and has been giving some of his leisure time to collecting some of the traditions of the early days. In his lecture he pictured the life here of the Micmacs before the French came. The natural conditions in and about the Bay were the reason why it was the rendezvous of the Micmac tribe living in the vicinity of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Hundreds of canoes came to these waters from all parts of the Island and the shore of the Mainland in their annual pow-wows. Again under the French, Malpeque was one of the Five important centres of population. Even in the woodlands about the Bay tracts of the Frenchman's ploughs may be seen until this day.

The first British Settlers came in 1770 from Campbelltown in Argyleshire and were wrecked on Malpeque Point during a snow storm in October. Other ships followed in 1771 and 1772, and so to this place and not to Picou County turned the beginning of that great tide of Scottish immigration which has done so much for the New World. The "Hector" arrived in Picou harbor in 1773, but already on the shores of this Island had landed hundreds who came hither of their own accord and who Islanders should not have allowed Picou to wrest this honor from us as they did in their great celebration at Picou eight years ago.

The subject was one of interest to all present and throughout the address the historical facts were interspersed with amusing episodes which formed a pleasing variation.

In closing, Dr. Ramsay referred in stirring language to the traditions which are ours and in speaking of the hardships and sufferings endured by our ancestors in their efforts to make homes for those who followed he made a strong appeal to young manhood and young womanhood to follow in their steps, inspired by their example, and thus prove themselves worthy of their noble heritage.

The Rev. M. A. MacMillan as Chairman expressed the appreciation of the audience for the hour so profitably and pleasantly spent in the reminiscences which are so dear to the hearts of Malpeque citizens and he asked Dr. Ramsay if he would further favor them with two lectures one on medieval Malpeque—the other on modern Malpeque.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Owen and two children, Thelma and Lee of Toronto, spent a week the guests of Mr. Owen's parents Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Owen, Hamilton.

Miss Lenie Penny, representative of the C. N. I. B., is spending some time with friends in Malpeque.

The Rev. M. A. and Mrs. MacMillan left by motor on Monday morning on a three weeks visit in Halifax, N. S. and Baddeck C. B. They were accompanied by Mrs. MacMillan's mother and sister, Mrs. Fredk Fraser of Halifax and Miss appointed by Prof. N. P. Feinsin-

HEALTH OFFICERS TO MEET IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—After an absence from Canada since 1908 the American Public Health Association and its subsidiaries will hold its sixtieth annual meeting here from September 14 to September 17. The meeting will be attended by health workers from all parts of the United States and Canada and by the following distinguished guests from London, England; Sir Allan Powell, chief public assistance officer, London County Council, Dr. James Fenton, medical officer of health, Kensington, Dr. George F. Buchan, medical officer of health, Willesden, and Dr. George Porter, medical officer of health, Marylebone. Every phase of public health will be discussed in the sixty scientific sessions to be held. The total attendance is expected to amount to 2,500. Subsidiaries who will meet here are: American Association of School Physicians, Conference of State Engineers, International Society of Medical Officers of Health and the International Association of Dairy and Milk Inspectors. A special session on health administration in Great Britain is a feature of the conference. The president of the American Public Health Association is Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, surgeon general, United States public health service, Washington, D. C., and the president elect, Dr. William C. Hasler, health officer San Francisco, Calif. At the close of the business sessions the delegates will take a three day trip to Quebec and up the river Saguenay.

On the opening day the invocations will be pronounced by Mgr. Georges Gauthier, archbishop of Montreal, and Rt. Rev. J. C. Fartning, Anglican bishop of Montreal. Addresses of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Houde on behalf of the city, Hon. Athanase David, provincial secretary, Hon. Murray MacLaren, minister of pensions and national health, and W. W. Beatty, chancellor of McGill University. Special sessions will be devoted to discussions on the following subjects: Toxoid immunization; rural sanitation, particularly the organization of a practical program for county health units; health education for a large city; for a small city and for a rural community; camp and resort sanitation, including fungus skin infections, particularly those transmitted in swimming pools, and general sanitation of auto camps. Each section of the association has arranged individual programs, covering public health administration, laboratory research, vital statistics, public health engineering, food, drugs and nutrition, child hygiene, public health nursing, health education, epidemiology and industrial hygiene, drought, town planning and cancer.

CANADIAN CLUBS CANCEL MEETING

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—Announcement of the Association of Canadian Clubs, scheduled to have been held in Regina September 11 and 12, will not be held, came today from Graaam Spry, the association's national secretary.

While no official reason for the decision was given out, it is understood that due to prevailing economic conditions, the affiliated clubs of the association agreed to a recommendation of the national executive that this year's annual sessions be eliminated.

According to a report made by Mr. Spry at a recent executive meeting, the association is concluding a most successful year. There are now affiliated with the association 94 of the 105 active Canadian Clubs from coast to coast.

QUEEN TRAVELS IN THIRD CLASS COACH

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Two members of royalty left London by train yesterday and travelled third class.

They were Queen Helen of Rumania and her sister, Princess Irene of Greece. Wearing valuable pearls, they settled down in a small compartment for the 380-mile journey to Gullane, Scotland.

"Why shouldn't I travel third class? It is very comfortable," commented Queen Helen when she was told that she was establishing a precedent as the first high royal passenger to ride third class in an ordinary train in England.

Consternation was shown by officials of King's Cross Station, who hastily assured the royal passengers they would have made other arrangements had they known.

"We didn't want any one to know we were travelling—or, rather, we didn't think any one would be interested," they replied, reluctantly consenting to pose for camera-men.

SIX MINISTERS PRONOUNCE FUNERAL ORATIONS AFTER WHICH 'CORPSE' ENTERS 'MOURNERS'

BENTON, Ill., Sept. 2.—(U.P.)—Friends from miles about flocked today to a farm near Valler, to join in solemn funeral services for S. R. Patton, prominent 80-year-old Franklin County farmer.

Six ministers joined in the services. A quartet sang several songs and neighbors told what a real friend Patton had been.

Then the "corpse," who wanted to hear his own funeral sermon, arose from his chair and led the crowd in feasting on good victuals spread on long tables in the yard.

"Uncle Steve" conceived the idea of an advanced funeral several weeks ago when he caught a cold. The illness was nothing serious but as he put it he decided he wanted any flowers "thrown in my lap instead of on my grave." He planned every detail down to issuing the invitation cards.

"This is a strange funeral," said Rev. John B. Maulding, Benton pastor and one of the six ministers who spoke, "but we found no valid arguments against it."

After the big dinner, Rev. J. R. McDuffy dismissed the vast assemblage with a benediction and all filed by and shook hands with the aged man.

She: You never hear of women cashiers embroiling or running off with their employer's money.
He: Not often but when it does happen they take the employer, too.

It was grand of you to dive from that height, fully clothed, to save the young woman, the looker-on exclaimed.

That's all very well, snarled the hero, but what I want to know is—who pushed me in.

NEW LAW SENDS LICENSE BUSINESS TO PENNSYLVANIA

United Press
YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 2.—The marriage license bureaus in Mahoning County have lost 50 percent of their business as a result of the new state marriage license law which went into effect July 23.

The new law requiring a five day wait after the license is issued before the ceremony may be performed, has driven the prospective newlyweds across the state line. At Newcastle and Mercer, just over the Pennsylvania line, marriage license bureaus report increases as high as 80 percent.

At the Mahoning County Court house, Gomer Evans, marriage license clerk, stated that in 24 days after the new law was passed 55 applications were received as compared with 104 licenses which were issued last year for the same period.

LAW STUDENTS GIVE POOR LEGAL AD.

United Press
MADISON, Wis., Sept. 2.—Legal aid for families unable to have professional attorneys has been given them for several years by University of Wisconsin law school students working with the Dane County Bar Association.

Second and third year students, members of their own "Legal Aid Bureau," have represented poor clients in divorce cases, labor disputes, cases involving custody of children, mortgage foreclosures and evictions for non payment of rent.

Six students of each class are appointed by Prof. N. P. Feinsin-

PENNSYLVANIA CROP OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT

United Press
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 2.—New high records in crop production in Pennsylvania are forecast in reports by federal and state statistical bureaus.

A new record was established in winter wheat production which averaged 23.5 bushels per acre, about twice the average yield in the state 50 years ago.

The corn crop is expected to be the largest since 1925, with an average of 48 bushels an acre anticipated to double the "drought year" average of 24 bushels in 1930.

The rye, buckwheat, and tobacco crops will also be the highest in the last five years or more, the statisticians estimated.
