WILLIAM FREDERICK ROBINS

There entered peacefully into rest on Monday, March 28, 1932, William Frederick, third son of the late John Robins, formerly Assistant Receiver General at Charlottetown and afterwards of the Department of Finance at Ottawa, and of Catherine Wyatt Robins. He was born at Charlottetown, Feb. 3, 1860. Always an ardent lover of horses, he followed his natural bent in conducting a large livery business in his native city for a great many years, retiring in 1917. His entries won many prizes in the show ring and on the race course. By his genial disposition and timely word the late Mr. Robins, made a host of friends, amongst whom his sudden passing creates a feeling of loss. He was a member of the Anglican Church, and, in politics, a staunch Conservative.

The funeral was held on Wednesday morning to the People's Cemetery, the services at the house and at the grave being conducted by Rev. Canon Malone.

There survive, his widow, Gertrude, daughter of the late H. Pope Welsh, one son, Dr. Earl Robins, and sister, Mrs. W. W. Clarke, all of Charlottetown. Two brothers, Dr. Thomas in Charlottetown and Edward in Honolulu, predeceased him.

Uigg And Grandview Live Stock Shipping Club

The following is a report of the annual meeting of the Uigg and Grandview annual meeting held on January 18th.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

We have come to the period of our eighth annual meeting of "The Uigg and Grandview Shipping Club." At no period in the history of our club have we experienced such low and ruinous prices for hogs and lambs. Our last financial returns showed hogs prices 3.60 per cwt. and our lambs figuring as low as $4.75 per cwt.

These low prices are in general keeping with low prices of agricultural products throughout the world and not due to inefficient salesmanship. Our troubles are not due to overproduction but underconsumption and politically to high tariffs that are blocking the channels of trade, creating adverse conditions to freer exchange of goods.

Our shipping club has suffered as a general consequence during the year that has gone by we have been faced with a continual slumping of prices and we now hope and trust they have reached rock bottom.

In view of such low prices some members have become discouraged and claim that co-operation is not what it is cracked up to be. It may however be claimed it is the lack of co-operation we suffer from when we are informed that only 40% of the live stock produced in Canada is sold co-operatively while 60 percent is sold in competition. How can we expect banner prices for our hogs in the Maritimes when Western hogs are sold as low as 1 1/2 cents to 2 cents per lb. The position of our manager and salesman placed between the nether millstones of club criticism and an avalanche of falling prices is not an enviable one.

With prices stalling in January at 8% and a shortage in hogs we were looking forward to a more prosperous year. We co-operated in 18 shipments of hogs and lambs. In completing car load lot there was a grave uncertainty as to the number obtainable at each shipment, anywhere from 20 to 50.

Shippers are taking it for granted that they have no responsibility in listing up. This is certainly a bad state of affairs and will lead to trouble at some future date if not the winding up of our shipping club.

Happily in conjunction with the Millview Live Stock Shipping Club it was possible to make our shipments large enough to save on freight and other expenses.

We have endeavored to arrange our shipment to take care of hogs when they are finished which is generally about three weeks. We are sorry to state that some members see it advantageous to ship by truck or slaughter. Such members defaulting cannot possibly claim their remittance from contingency fund. We also co-operated with the Millview Club in advertising our shipments. This was necessary from the fact that our contingency fund was reduced to half its amount of former years, thereby compelling us to curtail expenses as much as possible. After the eight years of service that has been given by our club some members are still continuing to use it as a convenience. The contract they have signed calls for the sale of all their hogs and lambs through the club excepting those used for home or local consumption. It is difficult to conceive why any farmer should sell stock to outside buyers when only club prices are offered. Can't the value of protection be understood?

The prices the Egg and Poultry Association pays for eggs and dressed poultry is standard. The prices the Potato Growers have been paying for potatoes was standard. Do we always have to keep hammering the facts home? When our organization started to do business several years ago prices received were from 3 to 4 cents below Montreal. By the various changes in curtailing overhead expenses and the organization of the Maritime Live Stock Co-operative we have eliminated the difference to 15 per cent. Can't farmers see the protection they receive from their own organizations?

In connection with co-operative selling our club is a medium by which we endeavor to assist farmers through co-operative buying. By pooling orders we were able to bring to Uigg Station a carlot of mill feed and flour, saving thereby considerable cost to farmers.

We also made up a car lot of hogs for the Amherst Fair in which we were successful in securing second place with a prize of $30.00. This was extra cash and good advertising as competition was open to Maritimes.

In future these possibilities for improving the financial income of the farmer will be kept in view when an opportunity presents itself.

In conclusion it may be stated that however much we deplore such extremely low markets as we have at present we are looking forward to the near future for an improvement when business and trade will right itself.

When that time comes there will be a scramble for wealth with high profits ruling. The unprotected and unorganized farmer will be the bone yard from which the pockets of profiteering business and professional high class salaries will be filled. What chance shall we have if all our co-operatives are gone, our Egg and Poultry Association, our Potato Growers' Association, our shipping clubs? This is the time we should be anxious of the utmost loyalty to our clubs and co-operatives in general for these organizations mean the future success of farming.

749 OLD AGE PENSIONS

EDMONTON, Alta., March 31—(By the Canadian Press)—This city leads the way with 749 old people receiving pensions, according to the annual report of the administration of the Old Age Pensions act, tabled in the house by Hon. R. G. Reid, provincial treasurer. The city's contribution was $12,388. Calgary was the next highest on the list with 578 pensioners, with costs to the city amounting to $0,036.

LIMIT SPEED EVEN FOR BRIDAL PARTIES

TORONTO, Ont., March 31—(By the Canadian Press)—This business of wedding parties tearing through town in a grand honking chase doesn't altogether meet with Magistrate Jones' approval. He said so in police court. He thought it was absurd—and he promised to show what he thought of "these affairs" if he ever got the chance. A certain man was fined $25 and costs for travelling 33 miles an hour in the rain; he had had the bride and groom in his car. A young lady who had been struck by the car was complainant.

ELDON WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of the Eldon Women's Institute was held in the Belfast Hall on Tuesday evening, March 22nd. In the absence of the President, Mrs. West was appointed to the chair. There were ten (10) members and one (1) visitor present.

The meeting opened with singing of Institute Carol followed with roll call. The minutes of the last meeting were then read, approved and signed by President (pro tem).

Mrs. J. F. Halliday reported on behalf of the Sick Committed. Three (3) visits and three (3) treats of fruit to sick in her section of district; also one member in Hospital has to be remembered at Easter with flowers or a potted plant.

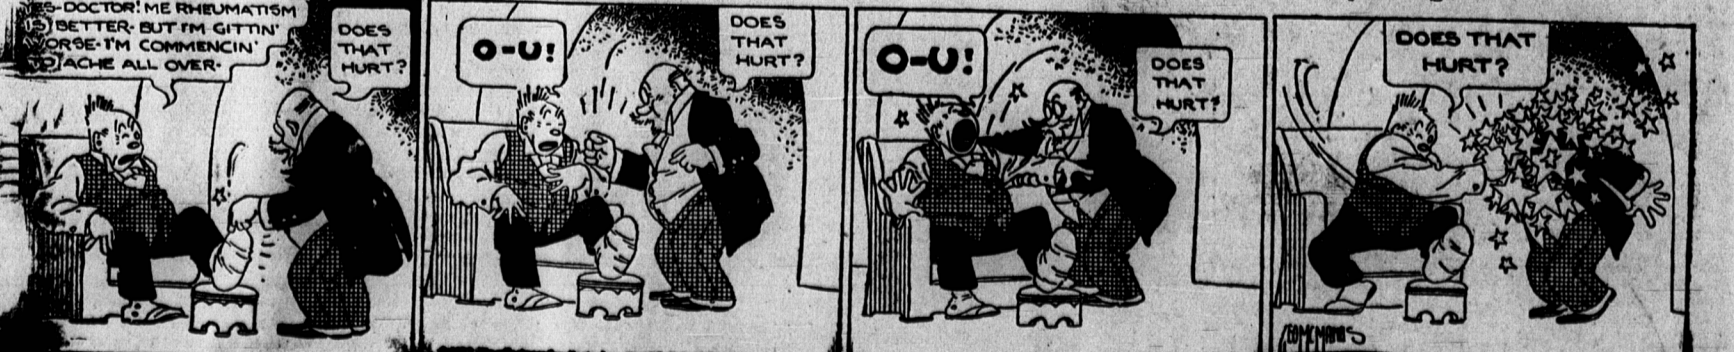

During the business period several small bills were presented and on motion by Mrs. Halliday, seconded by Mrs. Ella Gillis, Secretary was advised to pay those bills.

The place of next meeting to be at home of Mrs. Annie MacRae, roll call to be responded to with "different uses of baking soda."

The programme consisted of one number, a reading by Miss Nina Moore. The meeting closed with the W. I. Creed repeated in unison. After adjournment Mrs. E. L. Harrington sprang a surprise on the Institute by sending in a treat of hot tea, cake and ice cream.
