BEDEQUE

Mrs. Albert Wright of Central Bedeque, left last week for Moncton, N. B., where she will spend a few days, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Horne and Mr. Horne.

The annual Halloween social evening of the Young People's Society of Centreville Bedeque, was held on Wednesday evening in the vestry of the United Church. It being a Halloween party, the programme for the evening consisted of contests, games, etc., in the tone of Halloween, which quickly, every one enjoying themselves to the full. Later a dainty lunch was served by the ladies of the society, after which all departed for their respective homes, voting it one of the pleasantest evenings during the year.

Miss Laurena Shreanan, who has been spending the fall holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Shreanan at Kinkora, left recently to resume her duties as school teacher at the South Lake school.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Allie MacNeill of New Annan on the arrival of a bonnie wee lassie (Mary Joan) on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Callaghan of St. Louis, were visiting relatives in Norboro over the week end, then motored to Charlottetown to visit friends.

Miss Muriel Gardner of Central Bedeque, who has been an employee of the general store of Messrs. William Callbeck and Son, Central Bedeque, for several years, left last Tuesday morning on an extended visit to relatives in Boston and other American cities, having accompanied her brother by motor car.

Mrs. Howard Gaudet and son spent the week end very pleasantly with relatives in the vicinity of Kelvin.

Mrs. Sinclair MacGougan, Mrs. Duncan MacGougan and two children of Malpeque were visitors to Wilmot Valley, guests of Mrs. MacGougan's daughter, Mrs. Hubert Agnew and Mr. Agnew.

Rev. A. G. Crowe and Mrs. Crowe of the Central Bedeque Baptist pastorate, left last Monday morning on a short holiday to Mrs. Crowe's parents at St. John, N. B.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Lawless of Massachusetts, recently arrived in Norboro, where they will visit for a short time.

At the morning service of the United Church at Centreville Bedeque, Rev. L. P. Archibald, pastor, preached a most interesting and impressive sermon. It was with much pleasure that the large congregation listened to the special soloist Mr. Elmer Farnell of the Farnell Concert Company, Amherst, N. S. who sang with his usual effectiveness and sincerity. The congregation regretted that Mrs. Ruby Farnell MacKay was unable to accompany him on account of illness. Mr. Farnell was soloist at all the services of this pastorate on Sunday. A special service was given in this church on Sunday evening under the auspices of the ladies of the Edith Thompson Mission Circle and was much enjoyed by a large congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Shea and daughter of Alberton, were visiting friends and relatives in Norboro over the week end.

Mr. H. I. Hogg of Wilmot Valley and Mr. Archibald Mann of Spring Valley, have left to visit relatives in Boston and other Massachusetts cities, travelling by motor car.

Mr. Louis Wright, Central Bedeque, accompanied by his friend Mr. Howard Truman of Sackville, N. B. were visitors to Malpeque last Sunday, the welcome guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. MacNutt.

The time when a man makes a fool of himself is usually the time when he tries to make a martyr of himself.

LADY ASTOR KNOWS BEST, THINKS SHAW

LONDON, Nov. 9.—George Bernard Shaw yesterday described himself as too much of a gentleman to contradict the statement of Lady Astor in New York that he is going to visit America next year.

"You want to know if I'm going," Shaw said, "so they can bring out their triumphal arches and order up their brass bands."

He laughed uproariously when told of Lady Astor's statement. "So she said 'I'm going to America'?" he exclaimed. "Well, I suppose if Lady Astor said so, then I . . . well . . . I can't decently contradict her, can I?"

It was learned reliably that Shaw is planning a sea cruise in December and that he may visit California.

A lot of political deals are made from the bottom of the deck.

"Tarzan" Back In His Tree

TIFFIN, Ohio, Nov. 8.—Orrin Sternberger, the 75-year-old former art instructor in Wilkesburg College and known as "the Tarzan of Mad River," has gone back to his tree top home.

For 15 years, after doctors told him that his death from tuberculosis was imminent, Sternberger lived on a rough platform in the top of a 100-foot elm tree. He ate what little food he could obtain with his fishing pole, a bow and arrow and donations given him by the few farmers he numbered among his friends. He disappeared into the brush when strangers appeared and few ever saw him.

In the colder months, the hermit built a brush roof over his shack, but in the finer weather he slept in the open. Three years ago, the rope that he used to hoist himself to his home in the tree broke, and Sternberger was forced to build a shack on the ground.

A new rope recently was provided by Amandus B. Grossman, who is one of the few persons to become acquainted with the aged man since his retirement. Now, Sternberger sits in a steeplejack's chair and pulls himself aloft by means of the rope and a pulley.

Tandy McKenzie Hailed by Opera Critics a Real Find

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Presentation of the opera "I Pagliacci," in which Tandy McKenzie, Hawaiian tenor, made his American debut, drew a capacity audience at the Municipal Opera house Saturday night. Mr. McKenzie played the role of Canio.

Alexander Fried critic of the San Francisco Chronicle said: "Tandy McKenzie, a young tenor from Hawaii, made a more than ordinarily interesting debut as Canio. His voice, a pleasing instrument, rang out freely and strongly. There was true dramatic climax in his unforced top tones.

"The applause called him repeatedly before the curtains, after his aria, 'Vesti la giubba'." Ada Hanifin, critic of the Examiner, wrote:

"Of interest in 'I Pagliacci' was the appearance of Tandy McKenzie, who portrayed the deserted Canio. In 'Vesti la giubba' he poured out his sorrow with very fine real grief. His splendid tenor, which he used intelligently, manifestly made an impression, as he was called back again and again. Here is a real find."

Tandy McKenzie is the son of Mr. Chas. McKenzie, of Charlottetown, and his wife an almost full blooded Hawaiian. Mr. Charlie McKenzie is believed to have migrated to the Hawaiian Islands in the 80's of last century. He left two sons and one daughter.

MUST HAVE CERTIFICATE

Special attention is called to the following notice issued by the Dominion Fruit Branch: "Exporters of fresh, dried and canned fruits and vegetables are advised that all shipments must be accompanied by a certificate of origin to enable the British importer to claim the Preferential rate of duty. Failure to comply with this regulation necessitates the payment of duty before the fruit will be released by the British Custom authorities.

"Attention is directed to the Fruit Export Regulations under which no apples, pears or plums may be exported unless the fruit has been inspected at port of shipment and a certificate issued stating that the fruit complies with all the requirements of the Fruit Act and is of the grade designated."

Reviews Work For Immigrants At Halifax Port

The Women's Missionary Society of St. James Church held their annual Thankoffering service last evening in the hall, the Minister, Rev. Mr. Legate presiding.

The speaker of the evening was Miss Fraser, Home Missionary at Immigration Pier, in Halifax, where she is attached to the Welcome and Welfare department of this great undertaking. Miss Fraser gave a fine outline of Immigration to Canada from its inception until the present time when thousands of immigrants from England and European countries pass through the port. There they are given a cordial welcome, and helped with their difficulties of embarking for their future homes in different parts of Canada. They are followed to their home by other church officials and here too the work is continued and at any time the newcomer can be located.

Many touching and interesting stories were told of the Ukrainians, Slavs, Czechoslovakians, Mennonites and other foreigners who come to Canada wishing to be free religiously, to educate their children, own their own properties and to rise above the economic difficulties of the home land.

Miss Fraser also touched on her work in connection with deportation and her audience was enlightened on many points.

In closing the visiting speaker was cordially thanked for her address and assured that interest was revived in the great work still to be accomplished in caring for the new settlers to Canada.

The following program was very pleasingly carried out:

- PROGRAM
- Opening Hymn—Holy! Holy! Holy!
- Scripture Reading.
- Solo—Mrs. Nell MacLean.
- Prayer.
- Trio—The World Children for Jesus—Marion Andrew, Joan Rop, Joan Gordon.
- Collection.
- Thankoffering Prayer.
- Solo—Mrs. J. A. Lawson.
- Introduction Address—Miss Lena Fraser.
- Closing Hymn—"Oh God of Bethel."

Skunk Abroad In Montreal Suburb

MONTREAL, Nov. 5.—The freedom of a full-grown skunk in Notre Dame de Grace district was short-lived yesterday afternoon when it was spotted by Constable Hargrave, of the traffic division of the Montreal police department, who chased it and succeeded in shooting the animal with his service revolver.

The skunk made its presence known in the usual manner, and residents of the district became well-acquainted with him.

Constable Hargrave was doing traffic duty at the corner of West-end and Girouard avenues at 3.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when he became aware of the presence of a skunk somewhere. He saw a crowd of children in a field and scented that the skunk must be there. He went to the scene and saw the animal. As no one wanted to approach the animal, he drew a revolver. By this time the skunk was running away, but the constable was quick with his revolver and fired a shot at it.

The animal ran into a store, whereupon all the occupants moved outside. Several school children, thinking that they were making a good "catch," produced a potato bag and placed the now dead skunk in it. It was later learned that the children had taken the animal to school, but that they were reprimanded and the dead skunk was buried behind the school yard.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., November 8.—

Fifty miles from their goal after a 1,000-mile hike from Liberty, Texas, Mrs. Lucinda Dunaway, 22, and her four-year-old daughter, Eleanor, rested in a hospital here today before continuing their journey to Frankfort in an effort to obtain executive clemency for their husband and father, Oscar Dunaway. Exhausted from their long trip and from sleepless nights and lack of food, the mother and child were found on the streets and taken to the hospital. Two weeks ago they left Liberty. Hiking much of the time, given occasional rides by motorists, eating but little, they finally reached Kentucky.

EDITOR OF PUNCH TO RETIRE

(Canadian Press) LONDON, Nov. 8.—Sir Owen Seaman is about to retire from the Editorship of Punch, which he has held for the last 26 years. His successor will be E. V. Knox—who writes under the pen-name of "Evoe." Sir Owen Seaman, who is 71, has lectured extensively on English humorists. His verses, under the initials O. S. are world-famous.

E. V. Knox is a son of the former Bishop of Manchester. His brother, Father Ronald Knox, is well-known as a writer on Catholic apologetics. During the War E. V. Knox served with the Lincolnshire Regiment, and was badly wounded at Paschendaele.

SNOW REMOVAL WAGE CUT

QUEBEC, November 8.—Laborers who filled the public gallery at the City Hall during a meeting of the City Council tonight, jeered loudly when a motion reducing the wages of men employed for removal of snow was adopted. Wages were cut from 40 to 30 cents an hour and several speakers claimed the move would give work to a larger number of men. Vote was eight to five.

MUSSOLINI UNVEILS OBELISK

ROME, November 8.—Premier Mussolini unveiled the marble obelisk in "Mussolini Forum" today which he hopes will perpetuate his memory in the manner of the ancient Pharaohs. "Mussolini" is carved in huge letters on the marble. After the unveiling, the Premier witnessed the first gymnastic demonstration in the forum stadium.
