ROBERTSON-CARVER WEDDING

Miss Rena Carver attended her sister and wore an anklelength dress of Queen's Blue tulle, with wine trimming, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The groom was ably supported by his brother, Mr. Elliot Robertson of the Union.

During the signing of the register, Miss Claire MacMillan sang very sweetly, "At Dawning".

The bride's mother wore a dress of dark brown embroidered crepe with a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a dress of rose crepe with a corsage of roses.

After the ceremony a sumptuous supper was served to forty relatives and friends. The dining room was beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers and pink roses, and the long dining table was centered with a large two-tier wedding cake.

Rev. G. C. Webster proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

Later in the evening a large number of serenaders gathered to convey their best wishes to the bride and groom.

The remainder of the evening was spent in music and song. The happy couple left on a short honeymoon to the Mainland. The bride traveled in a blue grotto cloth dress with an English wool coat, black hat and accessories.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was tendered several miscellaneous showers at which she received many valuable and useful gifts. The wedding gifts were

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest itself. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk. Amersol bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do not work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 5c

Mr. McKee declared there are no regulations requiring saluting of the flag but some schools hold regular ceremonies, others occasionally and some not at all. In a total of 325 elementary and intermediate school rooms, his report said, there are 33 rooms at present without flags.

Eye Injuries Rank High In Casualties

By Charles S. Folz Associated Press Staff Writer BASEL, Switzerland, Nov. 29—(AP)—Medical reports from both sides of the western front indicate that the percentage of eye injuries in modern trench warfare is above the proportion of the first great war.

Doctors from field and rear guard hospitals in French Alsace and German Baden agree that the proportion of casualties blinded in one or both eyes is far greater than in past wars.

Both the German and Allied command have so far spared their manpower, and the number of injured in proportion to the number of troops engaged is low, but Maginot Line Westwall warfare has changed previous figures as to where soldiers are wounded.

Machine-guns and infantrymen fighting pillboxes and larger forts on both sides of the front suffer the greatest number of eye and head wounds.

Eye injuries usually are caused by bits of mortar and cement sent flying through the firing slits when a shell strikes the pillbox or explodes near it. Heavy goggles are being developed as protection.

Field medical units have made tremendous strides since 1918. Many of the gravest wounds—even those requiring major operations—now are treated in mobile, armored ambulances close to advance positions.

Furthermore, so long as the fighting is restricted to the area close to the Maginot or Westwall Lines, the wounded soldier is assured of medical attention as good or better than he could obtain in rearward hospitals.

Australia To Step Up Air Effort

By J. E. Holdsworth Canadian Press Correspondent SYDNEY, Nov. 29—(CP CABLE)—Australia's part in the Empire Air Defence Plan has been changed momentarily by the negotiations proceeding at Ottawa, it was learned from an authoritative Commonwealth source today.

Australia's part in the scheme will be of larger proportions than previously anticipated. It is understood the Commonwealth has decided to provide 26,500 pilots, gunners and observers, and 50,000 men for ground staff.

It is presumed that the Canadian effort will be proportionately greater.

Partly owing to the Canadian winter and partly due to Australia's desire that her contingent retain its separate identity, only 6,000 Australians will go to Canada. The remainder will receive their whole training here, for which Australia will import many of the latest type bombers and fighters from the United States and Great Britain.
