ELLEN'S DIARY

By An Island Farmer's Wife

I had the cold this morning. My chest was like mine and Judy's bread in time. I had a nifty cough and my "dose" as speech difficult. I'm fairly certain I contracted it in all its disagreeable form last Tuesday morning when the wintry skies suddenly changed to deluding summer ones.

But James will have none of my now pertinent and low-voiced explanations or conjectures as to where I may have "got this cold."

St. James Chapel, Kingston, Ontario, was the scene of a quiet wedding when Rev. Father A. Walsh united in holy bonds of matrimony, Pte. Joseph Ell, the son of Mrs. Angus Ell of Rutland, B. C. and Mary Beryl, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brennan of Charlottetown, P. E. Island.

Shortly after dinner the bridal party left on a short honeymoon to Toronto. On their return to Kingston a number of their friends met at the home of Miss Leonard a friend of the bride, where they extended their congratulations and best wishes to the newly wedded couple.

Before the bride's marriage she was tendered many showers by her friends with whom she was employed at the Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, and she received many useful gifts. Their friends wish them much happiness in their matrimonial journey through life.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the wedding party at the British American Hotel in Kingston, and they were also served dinner.

Price Control Questions and Answers

Questions and Answers on Price Control will appear in The Guardian as a regular feature each day. The questions are those which have reached the Wartime Prices and Trade Board from homewives in this region. The answers are prepared by the Board's readers.

Q. I don't understand about the recent cut in the butter ration. When does it take place and what is the cut?

A. The butter ration is being reduced approximately one ounce per person a week starting January 1. Each valid coupon is still good for one-half pound but only three coupons become valid a month.

Q. I have a year's lease on a duplex. The place has been sold. Can the new owner order me to vacate before the expiry date of the lease?

A. If the new owner desires possession of your suite for himself and does not now live on the premises he must give you at least six months notice directing you to vacate at the end of the lease year.

Q. Canning sugar coupons P1 to P10 were valid for the purchase of sugar only until December 31. Can the new owner order me to vacate before the expiry date of the lease?

A. Yes. If the new owner desires possession of your suite for himself and does not now live on the premises he must give you at least six months notice directing you to vacate at the end of the lease year.

Dorothy Dix Says—

OWES DEBT TO AUNT AND UNCLE

Girl Who Lives With Relatives Can Repay With Love And Gratitude

DEAR MISS DIX: I live with my aunt and uncle, who are sending me through high school and who give me anything I want. I try to please them, but they still think I do not do enough and are always cross with me. I would hate to go home as my father and mother both do.

I do not know what to do. I am only 16 and need some one to advise me.

ANSWER: There is only one piece of advice that any well-wisher could give you, my child, and that is to stay where you are and make the most of your opportunities.

Try to realize how kind and generous your uncle and aunt are to take you out of a miserable home and give you an education and comfortable surroundings and pretty clothes. It costs a lot to support a girl, and but for them you would have nothing, so you can't be grateful enough to them, or try hard enough to please them. Remember that they are in no wise bound to do this for you. They do it out of their affection and sympathy for you.

Suppose they do try to control you? Suppose their ideas are a little strict and old-fashioned? Suppose they do scold you a little? This is all as nothing compared to what they give you and what they save you from. Just think how miserable you would be at home with drunken parents who would probably beat you as well as be cross with you.

You will soon be through high school. Then, perhaps, your good aunt and uncle will give you some sort of technical education that will fit you to make a good living. Perhaps they will give you a business course or a course in beauty culture, or in dressmaking, or in millinery, or salesmanship, something that will enable you to be free and independent and earn good money.

Keep that in mind as your goal and the time will go by quickly. Keep in mind all that you owe to your aunt and uncle. That is a debt of honor that you can only repay with love and gratitude and by deferring to their wishes.

ONE-SIDED PROPOSITION DEAR MISS DIX: I am a woman of 30. Have been going for two years with a man with whom I love. He is the sole support of me, but, although he has brothers and sisters, he is the sole support of me can marry, and he says that we must wait until she is dead before we can marry.

He won't even become engaged for fear of hurting his mother's feelings. Yet he doesn't want me to go out with any other young man, or to go anywhere without him. Do you think he is giving me a square deal?

ANSWER: If you have any backbone whatever, you won't be patient any longer, or put up with any such one-sided proposition. The mother may live for thirty years, and I can think of nothing more horrible or demoralizing than to base all of your hopes of happiness on another person's death. There will be murder in your heart every minute of the time.

If the young man puts his mother before you, let him have her, and you hunt up a more ardent lover.

ENTITLED TO RECREATION DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am the mother of four children. Naturally, I have had a hard time while they were little, but now the two older girls are large enough to be quite capable of looking after the two younger ones, and two or three afternoons a week I play cards or go visiting or to the movies, and I come home feeling rested and refreshed.

But my neighbors say there is something wrong about a mother going out and leaving her children two or three times a week. Do you think I do wrong to go out that often?

ANSWER: Certainly not. There should be a law to force every mother to take an hour or two of recreation every afternoon out of her home and away from her children. If she did, she would be a better wife and mother and housekeeper and there would be fewer homes from which the husband and children flee as they would from places of torment.

So don't listen to your neighbors. Let them rave. Get all the change and enjoyment you can without neglecting your family. You will be the better wife and mother for it.

MODERN ETIQUETTE

By Rebecca Leo

Q. May a person send his regards on a visiting card when he has received a written invitation?

A. No. A written invitation demands a written reply, whether it is an acceptance or refusal.

Q. Should the man follow the head-waiter when a man and a woman enter a restaurant?

A. The woman should follow the head-waiter, the man last.

Q. Should the prefix "Mr." be engraved on a man's visiting card?

A. Yes.

HEALTH LEAGUE OF CANADA

STABILIZATION FOR MENTAL DEFECTIVES REGINA, Jan. 4.—Sterilization of mental defectives should be given careful consideration, it was stated in the report of the Saskatchewan Health Services Survey Commission which was released recently.

"Much experience has been gained in this field during the last years in America and Europe," the report said. "One should not be deterred by the fact that Nazi Germany has practiced sterilization in a brutal and wholesale manner, but should study the results obtained in such countries as the Scandinavian countries, Switzerland, and some of the American States where sterilization has been practiced humanely and cautiously with good results."
