J. J. McLEOD yesterday shipped 300 lambs to Boston, via St. James.

CHURCH of England Service at Mount Stewart Sunday, Nov. 18th at 10:30 a. m.

A RECEPTION will be given to the Junior boys of the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7.15.

MISS MARY E. McDONALD left yesterday for East Point to attend the funeral of her aunt.

AN assault case, John McNeill vs Henry Woods of Belle View, was up before Stipendiary Magistrate the other day. It was dismissed.

"Is Life Worth Living?" will be the theme of the address in the Y. M. C. A. Men's Meeting tomorrow, at 3.45, by Rev. Hammond Johnson of Summerside. All men are invited.

THE death took place at Carson city Nevada, November 9, of Archibald Matheson aged 60 years. Deceased has two brothers in this Province, Alexander at Milltown Cross, and Murdoch at Lyndale.

THE Farmer's Institute of Little York will meet this evening in York Hall at 7 o'clock and on Wednesday next, November 21st, W. H. Stevens and Wm. Elliott will address the farmers in York Hall at 7 o'clock. They will speak on beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, dairy industry and hog raising.

E. S. GARFIELD, of Bath, Me., who has been in different parts of the Maritime Provinces in search of men for the lumber woods, passed through Moncton en route to his home recently. Mr. Garfield says that he forwarded about fifty young men; thirty-eight of that number came from Prince Edward Island.

THE additional wet weather ushered in early yesterday morning has had the effect of retaining trade operations somewhat. Travelling on the roads is heavy and decidedly unpleasant. Seldom has an autumn in this Province been so marked by a continuance of rainy weather such as has been experienced during the past fortnight. A gale was foretold for yesterday and for a while the wind blew with violence. It became calmer however during the forenoon.

A PRETTY fall wedding occurred Nov. 3, at the residence of Geo. R. Smith, Woburn Mass., when Miss Annie Bruce, Bryenton, daughter of Mrs. John Bryenton, Brackley Point Road, and William J. Rollins were united in marriage, Rev. Dr. Henry B. Williams being the officiating clergyman. The couple were attending the bride was given away by her brother Edmund J. Bryenton, Woburn. The bride was dressed in white crepe de chene over white silk and carried a bouquet of white roses. Following a reception at Mr. Smith's home the couple left for New York, whence they started Nov. 6 for South Carolina.

HENRY L. SOUTHWICK, teacher and lecturer on Shakespeare, finds his greatest recreation in out-of-door sports and exercise. He is fond of horses, and is attracted by nothing so much as by travel in foreign lands and among queer people. Having the life of the country and seeing it as it is, Mountain climbing, too, is a favorite recreation, and every summer he manages to spend a few weeks at Chocorua, N. H., where he clambers over the rocks to his heart's content, and explores the "pathless wilderness." Moreover, he is an expert snow-shoer, and Christmas usually finds him where the snow is deep and white, and where nothing reminds him of Shakespeare or the Emerson College of Oratory.

W. W. AND MRS. McLEAN of this city, have arrived in San Dimas, California. In writing home to friends on November 9th Mr. McLean states: We reached here last Saturday night after a long but pleasant trip. We left Montreal by the Grand Trunk on Monday night and, on reaching Chicago took the Santa Fe for here. Both these lines give good service but I prefer the Grand Trunk of course. We left Chicago with a heavy train carrying five hundred passengers and among such a crowd one is sure to meet some grumblers. We were about fourteen hours behind time arriving here and a good many were getting impatient, besides, they dropped the diners after the first day out from Chicago. There are eating places all along the line but the time allowed is too short. This is a fine country and has improved very much since I was here in 1886. Land has gone up in value, nothing less than $1,000 an acre, and some as high as $2,000 with building. It takes a man of means to start a ranch here at present, but it is said that at the above prices a ranch would pay for itself in three or four years if properly cultivated. No rain fell here since some time in March and the weather now is similar to our July and August.

THE train arrived last night at 10.30.

MURIEL JENKINS and Hannah Pratt, Pownal, left Wednesday for Boston.

TRIPMAN of seats for Dean Southwick's recital opens Monday morning at 9 o'clock—at the usual places.

D. C. HARVEY will lead the boys' meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Subject: Aim in Life.

AS will be seen by the ad in this issue tenders will be received until 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the 21st inst for the cargo, of deals stranded near Priest Pond in the ship Sovinto.

THERE was a large cargo of general merchandise to West River ports by the S. S. City of London on Thursday. She returned to the city yesterday afternoon with 35 cases eggs and 5 chests tea.

MRS. GEO. D. McLEOD, Hunter River has received the sad news of the death of her sister, Mrs. William McInnis, Quincy, Mass., who has been suffering from cancer for some time past. Mrs. McLeod returned only a short time ago from visiting her dying sister.

THE Guardian in reporting the runaway of Lee Horne's horse yesterday was not aware at the time of the fate which had befallen the horse with which Mr. Horne's team collided. This horse a very good animal owned by Mark Wright had its neck pierced by the shaft of Mr. Horne's wagon. Yesterday morning Dr. Leckie extracted a piece of shaft nearly two feet long. The horse, while seriously hurt, may recover from the accident.

THE annual banquet of the Baraca class of the First Baptist Church last night was a succession of surprises. Some of the members, including the pastor, came late, having attended the wedding of George Hart, one of the Sunday-school teachers, to Miss Lillian York in Los Angeles. Then, before the banquet, two of the other teachers Mrs. Alice Wallwork Morgan and Alexander McLean, marched down the aisle and at the altar were met by Rev. J. Lewis Smith, who united them in marriage. After congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. McLean were seated at the head of the banquet table, and a merry feast was enjoyed. Los Angeles, Sunday Times, Oct. 28. (The Mr. McLean referred to above formerly belonged to Orwell.)

NO paper in Canada enjoys so much the confidence of the New York and Boston Wholesale Fish Dealers as The Guardian. This is evidenced by the large amount of advertising which is carried by this paper each year. A representative of The Guardian annually visits the above markets studying the requirements of the dealers in the matter of small and eel shipments, and doing all possible to make their Edward Island fishermen more satisfactory. New firms spring up from year to year and it is the pleasure of this paper to add to this year's list Messrs Healy & Lyons of 184 Atlantic Ave., Boston. These two young men are in business slightly more than six months but have already done a large amount. They have had large experience with one of the best firms in Boston and know just what is required. They guarantee freight and duty and give all possible satisfaction. Shippers should write them and thus find out all about their method of handling smelts and eels.

Fashion's Dictates in Finest Furs

A showing that sharpest comparison only renders more notably superior.

DECIDEDLY, one of the finest and handsomest lines of fur neck pieces and scarfs shown in the Province. Every piece comes from one or other of the foremost makers in the world. Everyone chosen direct from the maker. Everyone inspected with most exacting care before it finds its way into our fur room. Big spot cash buying brings us every price advantage, which we are ready to share with you. We want you to compare our lines with all others—and if ours is not better, we will not expect your business—can we be fairer than that?

Especially attention is directed to our fur lined coats, which we are told are the finest ever seen here. In case we have nothing in your size, we shall be pleased to take a special order for delivery in ten days or so, and can assure you of perfect fit, fine tailoring, and absolute excellence in fur linings and trimmings, as all these garments are made by an artist in this line, whose goods cannot be shown anywhere else in P. E. ISLAND. Price $82.00, $84.00, $115.00.
