For Deep Chest Colds

All colds should be treated with vapors, for vapors alone can carry the medication DIRECTLY to the air passages and lungs.

Vicks is a "vapor" treatment in salve form. For deep chest colds you first apply hot wet towels over throat and chest to open the pores, then massage briskly with Vicks for 5 minutes, spread on thickly and cover with a flannel cloth.

Vicks not only penetrates like a poultice or plaster, but the ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled all night long.

This double action usually checks the most stubborn cold overnight.

INSIDIOUS EYE STRAIN

We use this adjective advisedly.

Sufferers from Eyestrain may have perfect vision and therefore do not suspect the presence of any eye defect.

The motive power of the entire human organism is Nerve Energy.

Normal eyes, it is computed utilize about 20% of this Nerve Energy, but when Eyestrain is present, a much larger proportion is required. Hence defective eyes, through their consumption of an excessive amount of Nerve Energy may seriously affect the functioning of other organs of the body and produce ill health.

McLeod, in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Miss Hilda Webster, cousin of the groom, presided at the organ. The bride who was becomingly attired in pale pink georgette and present-ed a winsome appearance, was given away by her father, Mr. Havelock Sanderson. The groom was supported by his brother, Lorne A. Webster and the bride by her cousin, Miss Marion L. Coffin, and little Lillian Sanderson niece of the bride, was ring-bearer. After a delicious supper, prepared in Mrs. Sanderson's best style, short speeches, interspersed with music, complimenting the bride for her kindliness and good work in the community, were given by the pastor and Messrs. Everett Webster, Judson Webster, Wm. Robbins and J. E. Dingwell, and a duet was finely rendered by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Compton. The newly-wedded couple are both highly esteemed in the community. The bride has been the faithful and efficient organist of St. John's United Church, Marie, for several years, and many regrets have been expressed, because her services are to be discontinued, but happily, they will reside within the bounds of the congregation. At the close of the festive occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Webster, with their friends, drove to their fine new home in Morell, carrying with them the best wishes of the community. She was recipient of many useful presents and substantial sums of money.

Plans Underway For Reception of Canadian Minister

(Special to the Guardian)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24. —With the return to Washington of Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, developments in plans for welcoming Vincent Massey, the new Canadian minister, will soon take shape. Embassy officials have not heard directly from the Ottawa government or from Toronto as to the precise date of arrival of Mr. Massey, but they expect that he will reach Washington about the middle of January and will go directly to the British embassy, where Sir Esme Howard, the ambassador, will offer him the hospitality of the embassy.

It may be that Mr. Massey will prefer to establish temporary headquarters in one of the hotels here until he has had an opportunity to look around Washington for a house which would be suitable for use as a combined legation and residence. Most of the foreign legations here are large enough to provide living quarters for the minister and his family, but the staffs of the legations usually are quartered elsewhere.

The first official step the new Canadian minister will take is to call at the department of state to pay his respects to Secretary of State Kellogg and to advise that official of his designation as the minister to the United States from Canada.

He will be escorted to the State Department doubtless by Sir Esme. At this meeting a time and date will be arranged for presentation of Mr. Massey to President Coolidge. This will probably be the day after or not more than two days after the visit to Secretary Kellogg. The British ambassador is also expected to accompany Mr. Massey to the White House but he will be officially presented to the President by Assistant Secretary of State J. Butler Wright, who is the state department official who makes all presentations of new diplomatic officials.

Upon tendering his credentials to the president Mr. Massey will make a statement of his government sending him to the United States. In reply, the president will address Mr. Massey, expressing appreciation of his coming and assuring the new diplomat of his hearty reception by the American government. This official function over, the new Canadian minister takes his place in the official diplomatic set of Washington, and is ready to perfect his ministerial office and select his staff of assistants. Intercourse thereafter will be direct between Mr. Massey and the State Department on subjects affecting the Canadian Dominion alone, and in connection with Sir Esme Howard or other British Embassy officials when the subjects involve the British Empire including Canada.

LONDON TENEMENTS VISITED BY PRINCE

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Several of the poor residents of Somerstown, one of London's slum areas, are proudly telling of receiving a visit from the Prince of Wales, who, like the Caliph of Bagdad of old, occasionally makes such unheralded tours.

After inspecting the mission in Somerstown, the Prince rang the bell of a Mrs. Hare, who lives in one of the mission's model tenements. He was accompanied by Earl Jellicoe and two priests.

The Prince found Mrs. Hare busy sewing, and her daughter, Caroline, in the parlor.

"Hullo! I did not recognize you at first," cried Caroline, to the Prince when she opened the door.

Mrs. Hare said today that her daughter's informal greeting greatly pleased the Prince. "I told him as a little girl I had the honor of shaking hands with Queen Victoria," Mrs. Hare said.
